2017 NRHA Nomination Conditions were approved.

The presented budget for 2016 – 2017 was approved.

The fees policy for 2017 was also approved. Gelding status updates ($0) and name change ($45) fees were added. There were no increases to any existing fees.

2017 eligibility policy was approved and will be made available online in the coming weeks.

With the design phase for the IT project complete, the Board approved to enter the programming and development phase. Be sure to attend the 2017 NRHA Winter Meeting so you can catch a sneak peek!

New NRHA Bylaws were unanimously voted into place. The bylaws will be available in the Members Only section of nrha.com and will be effective immediately. In a related action, the 2017 NRHA Handbook will only contain the rules most relevant to showing and the bylaws and other non-competition policies and procedures will be available online for members.

The Board also discussed several potential 2018 rule change proposals. The deadline for member submissions is December 15, 2016.

NRHA President, Rick Clark, shared his thoughts on the meeting: “I left the meeting extremely happy about what we had achieved. I’m proud of the NRHA Board of Directors for approving new bylaws that will support the governance structure that was approved earlier this year. This gives us a more modern and efficient structure to serve our members and the sport of reining.”

“Another big step for us was approving to add more money to the Adequan North American Affiliate Championships. We will announce the specifics in the next week, but this year’s contestants will be running at approximately $40,000 in added money this year. That’s about a $15,000 increase over the last year. We’ve had to make some tough decisions to stay on budget this year, and we are thrilled to be able to allocate more funds to such a vital part of our industry,” stated Clark.

The board’s next face-to-face meeting will be held during the 2017 NRHA Winter Meeting in Fort Worth, Texas. MARKEL INSURANCE IS OFFICIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE NATIONAL ARABIAN REINING HORSE ASSOCIATION

Markel has recently been named the Official Insurance Company of the National Arabian Reining Horse Association. The fledgling National Arabian Reining Horse Association that took over the ARBC last spring will make its first official appearance at the 2016 High Roller Reining Classic, September 9th through 17th, at the South Point Equestrian Center, Hotel and Casino, Las Vegas' premiere horse event center.

For the new company, the first order of business at the HRRC show involves the much anticipated Youth Tournament competition on the first Saturday and Sunday mornings. The wildly successful tournament attracted 17 teams and 60 riders at last year's High Roller Reining Classic, including almost 20 in the 10 & Under Short Stirrup. The competition features four-rider teams of different age Youth, as well as Arabian/Half-Arabian Youth riders.

The kids compete for Olympic Style medals, University Scholarship money and then, enjoy a big pizza party with all the trimmings. Winning Gold Team Champions will receive $500 each and the top three individual riders in the overall competition will receive: Gold $1,000, Silver $750 and Bronze $500.

“We’ve been involved with Arabian Reining horses in conjunction with the High Roller Reining Classic since 2014,” says Frank Constantini, a Markel Horse Specialist since 1995. “It’s only natural for us to continue with this program now that it has taken the form of the NARHA. It’s easy for us to envision the Arabian horse coming more to the forefront in the next few years as a very competitive Western-type performance horse in both Reining and Ranch Riding. They are a beautiful, tough and versatile horse. We at Markel Insurance especially appreciate Amanda Brumley and Brumley Management Group’s passion for the entire horse industry, an enthusiastic, inclusive approach that always makes the extra effort to encourage all types of horses and all levels of riders at their shows.”

“The High Roller Reining Classic is a favorite show for Markel Insurance,” Frank adds. “It’s always been an excellent opportunity for us to come to a wonderful event in a great facility like the South Point in Las Vegas. This show draws a large, outstanding group of competitive exhibitors and horses from Texas, California, Arizona and all across the United States. South Point has wonderful amenities, and September is such a nice time of the year to visit this part of the country. Brumley Management Group and South Point have worked together and done a great job of expanding the facility and the show.”

The ARBC, now entitled the NARHA, has paid out over $250,000 in prize money at premier NRHA events since its inception in 2014. Owners of NARHA Enrolled Incentive Program horses must be members of the NARHA as of 2017, see membership information at www.NationalArabianReiningHorseAssociation.com. For additional information on the NARHA or the upcoming High Roller Reining Classic, contact Amanda Brumley, brumleymanagementgroup@gmail.com or call (602) 677-3774.

REINING BY THE BAY - SURFIN' IN THE SAND

by Christy Egan

According to Pat Warren of Rancho Oso Rio, the Horse Park at Woodside, home of Reining By The Bay, is the ultimate place to hold a horse show. Pat should know as she's lived near the Park for many years and, along with Amanda Brumley of Brumley Management Group, is one of the founders of the Reining By The Bay. Now in its 18th great year as the California Reining Community's all-time favorite show, Reining By The Bay offers world class competition in the most beautiful setting imaginable. "The facility has really grown over the years," Pat muses. "From a place of fenced, dirt fields, to a grand facility that hosts many, many shows annually in eight different arenas. They can handle #1000 show horses now. We would do even more reining shows here if we could just get the dates."

The 2016 Reining By The Bay Show ran from July 18th through the 24th. The entire show is held outdoors, from the sunshine-filled arena with its views of the hills, the Pacific Ocean and Half-Moon Bay, to the outdoor stabling and large, festive tents where the Johnson Culinary Group offers delectable dining throughout the show. The show offered relaxed competition throughout the week and then, really heated up the party on Friday morning when the $16,000 Added 3-Year-Old Open Futurity took center stage. Tracer Gilson won the Level 4 with Da Big Kahuna (Wimpys Little Step x Princessontheprowl by High Brow Cat). Bred and owned by Joe and Karen Moran of Laguna Hills, California, it was Gilson's first RBB Level 4 Open Futurity win.

"We raised Da Big Kahuna here at the ranch, so it's a particularly proud moment," says Tracer. "We will take him to a few shows and then we are going to be at Congress with him this year. All of our riders did very well at the RBB show this year. Blair Moffet and Sheza Smart Wimpys took Level 2, 3 and 4 in the Non Pro Maturity. But best of all, our daughter Lilly won the 10 & Under Short Stirrup on Brennass Dream, a great horse generously loaned to her by Loren Booth. Lilly loved it! It was her very first buckle. She's been wearing one of mine for quite a while and I think she'll probably still do that and hang the new one in her room. Lilly just turned ten and rides at least five days a week. She'll be at the High Roller in September. She's getting out of school that Friday to get there in time to show."

On Saturday Jennifer Gilliam of Pine Grove, California took two horses she bought previously at auction, and posted scores sharp enough to win in Levels 3 and 4 in the Non Pro Futurity. Her 3-year-old chestnut mare, The Prima Ballerina (Top-sail Whiz x Dancer Nic by Tinsel Nic) won the $8,500 Added 3-Year-Old Non Pro Futurity. She bought the mare as a yearling in 2014 from Schmersal Reining Horses at the Legacy Breeders Sale. Jennifer then took third in the same competition with her second mare, Shine Kitty Shine (Shine Chic Shine x Cowsmart Cat by Smooth As A Cat), a Palomino she purchased in 2015 at the NRHA/Markel Insurance Futurity Prospect Sale. Together they brought home over $4,800. "We call The Prima Ballerina 'Abby'," says Jennifer. "I started her as a 2-year-old but Mike Boyle has done most of the training. She is a very sound and easy mare. This was the first time I'd ever ridden her and really asked her to show. 'Abby' was perfect and gave me 100%. After some time off she'll go to Idaho. I will take 'Shine' to the High Roller in September."

In the $40,000 Added Protect The Harvest Non Pro Derby, Samantha Roper was a hands down winner on Big Crème Chic (Big Chex To Cash x Cremes Chic Olena by Smart Chic Olena). Samantha and Big Crème Chic were the 2015 AQHA World Amateur Reining Champions. Coached by Andrea Fappani, Samantha and her 6-year-old gelding nearly swept the field, taking Levels 1, 2, 3, and 4 and earning over $11,000 in the process. Andrea Fappani himself saved his best for last in the $57,000 Added Lucas Oil Open Derby, where he placed first and third place tie on Electric Genes, Thebettertohearwith and Pinesail Jac, respectively. Electric Genes (Jacs Electric Spark x Taris Designer Genes by Mr Boomerjac) blew into the arena at the very end of the competition with an utterly spectacular run. The mare sprouted wings coming through the gate and then tore the ground apart. The run was fast and furious, with every move perfectly executed.

The crowd went crazy ... and then went crazy again when they announced the 230.5 score. Pat Warren, Electric Genes' owner leaped out of her seat. Pat raised the mare and still owns her dam, Taris Designer Genes, NRHA Open Futurity Champion.

Thebettertohearwith (Spooks Gotta Whiz x Chex Out The Cowgirl by Lean With Me) posted a 225 with Andrea for owner Bill Coburn. The 4-year-old made his debut appearance last year at Reining By The Bay winning the Level Four Open Futurity and a check for $8,298.44. Pine-sail Jac (Tinsel Jac x Sailin Lil Ruff by Lil Russ Peppy), also owned by Rancho Oso Rio, was tied for third. The 4-year-old gelding earned the NRHA Open Reserve Championship title in Oklahoma City less than a month ago. Tanya Jenkins and Tricked Out Spook (Spooks Gotta Gun x Rowdy Brinna by Rowdy Yankee) scored a 227 to take second. "This is a pretty special horse and I knew he had what it takes to score well here," says Tanya. "This horse is easy, good-minded and just a great guy. He likes his job and would rather be ridden than do most anything else.”

A major sponsor at Reining By The Bay this year was Smoking Roosters Ranch, Ashley Kelkenberg and the Patrizio Fumagalli family. The Fumagallis moved here from Italy three years ago and are hoping to have their ranch ready to open its doors January first. They had a great show at Reining By The Bay. “I rode Magnificent Dreamer at Reining By The Bay this year,” says Ashley. “We won the Level 1 Open Derby and were third in the Level 2. The big news for us is the new ranch at 144th Street and Rio Verde Drive in Scottsdale. There’s a 40-stall show barn and a big covered arena. It’s set on 10 acres and includes an outdoor track, and 6 to 10 turn-out pens are planned as well.” Pat Fumigalli owns both Magnificent Dreamer (Magnum Chic Dream x Heavenly Rooster by Gallo Del Cielo (Rooster)) and the horse that he rode at Reining By The Bay, Diamonds In My Dreams (Like A Diamond x Brennas Dream). “When I arrived here from Milan I wanted to start my daughter Michele riding with a coach,” says Pat. “We found Ashley and we’ve been riding and showing ever since. I started in the Green classes, moved up to Rookie and now I’m working at the Non Pro division. We have 8 horses of our own and will be boarding Ashley’s customers’ horses as well. My daughter rides on the weekends, I ride every day and my wife is enjoying photographing the horses. I am very happy.”

In addition to being a show that makes absolutely everybody very happy and anxious to return, Reining By The Bay is a paradise of feasting for horsemen. There are few horse shows on any equine circuit that offer the exhibitor the range of food put forth by the Brumley shows in general and at this show in particular. From the made-to-order deli sandwiches, pasta and brownies at the week’s beginning, to the daily lunches of baked salmon, tri-tip and pulled pork, to the weekend’s omelet and pancake bar - cooked on request! Special meals included the Rancho Oso Rio Wine and Cheese Party on Friday evening with a splendid assortment of cheese, crackers and hot appetizers, and the annual RBB Exhibitor dinner Saturday night which featured roast beef, turkey and all of the trimmings, plus the famous RBB cakes. Along with amazing food, the show’s gently orchestrated competition schedule was designed to allow everyone some leisure to visit the wonderful sights of San Francisco, Palo Alto, the beaches and parks, and the restaurants at Half-Moon Bay and Fisherman’s Wharf (as if anybody needed to leave the show and find food). Even the judges have caught on to the visiting perks.

Drake Johnson, NRHA Judge from Wray, Colorado has judged the RBB show twice and has nothing but praise for the California competition. “The Futurity horses were great quality, both Non-Pro and Open,” Drake says. “They were on their game and on their way to High Roller in September and Oklahoma City later in the year. It’s always such a joy to see high level animals, like the Open Derby horses work. As judges we have the best seats in the house, we just report what we see and have the pleasure and excitement of watching world class horses and rides. My wife and I also took some time and went up to Napa the day before the show started and then visited Half-Moon Bay and had some great seafood. Would I come back to Reining By The Bay? Absolutely. We would both come back.”

Brumley Management Group, LLC still has one more great show to go for 2016. They have also saved the best for last ... the world famous Brumley September show, the High Roller Reining Classic, once again in Las Vegas at the South Point Equestrian Center. They collected the Championship, along with $2,412, home to owner Joan Julen, of Cottage Grove, Minnesota.

Last year, Justin rode Berry Great Juice to win the National Reining Horse Association Futurity Level 1 Open Co-Championship when he tied himself riding another of Julen's horses, Cromed Out Gunner.

Dany Tremblay, of Overbook, Oklahoma, received the NCRHA Futurity Level 4 Open Reserve Championship with Misters Temptress (Mister Dual Pep x Colonel Pepinic x Smart Little Pepinic) after marking a 219. They also took the Derby Level 3 Open Championship and $2,905 for owners Amanda and Brad Kelly, of Mirror, Alberta, Canada.

Derek Heitland Wins Derby Levels 2 & 1 Open

Another Minnesota trainer, Derek Heitland, took the NCRHA Derby Levels 2 and 1 Open championships with Steppin Little Lena. He and the palomino stallion (Wimpys Little Step x Col-lena O Lena x ARC Matt O Lena) marked a 218 and earned $3,280 for owner Mary Jansma, of Randolph, Wisconsin.

Cade McCutcheon wins Futurity Non Pro on Sioux J Quixote

Teenager Cade McCutcheon did his father one better in the Futurity Non-Pro, winning the Futurity Level 4 Non Pro on Sioux J Quixote.

The 216 score earned by McCutcheon and the sorrel gelding by A Shiner Named Sioux out of JRC Quixote O Lena by Doc O Dynamite edged out Reserve Champion Jesse Asmussen's score of 215.5 on Xtra Whinny Berry.

Sioux J Quixote earned $4,064 for Cade's uncle Jim McCutcheon, of Valley View, Texas.

Asmussen, from Maquoketa, Iowa, and Xtra Whinny Berry by Wimpys Red Berry out of SLJ Smartlike-whinny by Smart Like Juice also Josh Murphy and CBK Haidas Lil Holly (Hollywoodstinseltown x Hiadas Lil Mavis x Haidas Little Pep) and Russell Ratkowski and GH Cromed Mercedes (Cromed Out Mercedes x Chic In The Bar x Smart Chic Olena) tied for the Levels 2 and 1 Reserve championships with twin 216s. Each earned $487.

Paige Vernon and Spooks For The Chics Win Derby Non Pro Championship

She and the gelding by Smart Spook out of Chic In The Bar by Smart Chic Olena, a half-brother to GH Cromed Mercedes, won the Levels 4, 3 and 1 Non-Pro with their 216.5. They earned $2,741 for owner White River Ag Products, also of Ashland.

Shannon Kasten and Schoen Smart won the Level 2 Non Pro Championship with a 215.5. Kasten and Schoen Smart (Smart Starbuck x Schoen Melody x Heza German Melody) also were Reserve Champions in the Derby Levels 4 and 3 Non-Pro. They earned $2,145 for owner Bill Kasten, of River Falls, Wisconsin.

SHOW MANAGEMENT SEMINAR FEATURED AT TULSA REINING CLASSIC

As part of an effort to improve the reining industry Pro Management and Global Reining Sport Group partnered to put on a show management seminar at the Tulsa Reining Classic open to the public on August 30. Its mission was to take the beginning steps in allowing show managers to learn from each other about the necessities of the reining horse show industry.

“Our experience has shown over many years that because of the budget factor, work load and demands in this industry it continues to be harder and harder for affiliates to run the horse shows on a volunteer basis,” Colleen McQuay of Global Reining Sport Group said. “Basically this seminar really is just the beginning of creating a system allowing managers to network their ideas and issues.”

“The increasingly challenging environment impacts all horse shows,” noted Cheryl Cody of Pro Management, Inc. She continued, “Making wise and exhibitor-friendly decisions is going to be the key for longevity.”

The attendees of the seminar were able to address issues within their specific regions as well as discuss solutions to those obstacles.

“I wanted to come to learn more ways to grow our show, get sponsors and other people’s views,” said Valerie Vernon, secretary of the Eastern Plains Reining Horse Association, an attendee of the seminar. “The big thing that Colleen was talking about was sharing our resources and I’m a true believer in a professional show management.”

With the growth of the sport of reining show management teams, whether that be volunteer or a professional team, are subject to bigger demands than in years past. As a response to the rise McQuay said the industry is also seeing a growth in the need for professional show management teams.

One of those teams is Michele and Shawn Flarida of the Buckeye Reining Series in Ohio. Michele said the initiative to begin the Buckeye Reining Series came out of necessity. A group of seven couples, including the Flaridas, got together to promote reining, because in their area of Ohio there was a lack of reining involvement. In only its second year the business has surged.

Michele was able to attend the seminar via conference call and said the decision to do so was an important one to her and her team.

“I think good ideas breed other good ideas and I don’t think there was anyone better to learn from than Colleen, because of everything she’s done for the industry,” Michele said. “I think it was important to get together, because what works for her there might be something that would work for us here and vice versa.

Maybe more importantly is sharing what doesn’t work to avoid any pitfalls and mistakes we might encounter.”

Ultimately, the success of the industry was by far the focus.

“I think we’re going to be seeing a lot more [professional show management groups begin], which I think is a good thing,” McQuay said. “Affiliates can certainly always be involved in their regions, but the demand of our sport now is very difficult to meet with strictly a volunteer staff which commonly rotates from year to year.
