SCHMERSAL CONQUERS 2017 NRHA FUTURITY WITH FACE THE ATTITUDE

As the last rider in the draw, Craig Schmersal and Face The Attitude (Pale Face Dunnit x Miss Lil Addy Tude) had only one option – to give everything they had and the crowd was certainly with them. Thunder couldn't have been heard over the cheers of the audience! Face The Attitude ran her big circles like a thoroughbred, loped small like a pleasure horse, spun like a top, and slid into the Open NRHA Futurity Championship like the top-level reiner that she is.

"I'm happy for my family, my help, all the people that rooted for me, and have been rooting for me for so long" an emotional Schmersal said. "I've been a finalist probably 22 times, maybe 21. It's unbelievable to do it on a mare that we happen to own. It's a thrill. It's a dream come true, and I thought this day would never come!"

Schmersal has won every major NRHA event in the past, but until 2017, the NRHA Futurity Championship title has eluded the NRHA $3 Million Dollar Rider.

Face The Attitude is a homegrown filly by Pale Face Dunnit (LTE $70,000+) a stallion who Schmersal has worked hard to promote and has been standing at Schmersal Reining Horses, and out of Miss Lil Addy Tude who has accumulated more than $120,000 in NRHA and USEF lifetime earnings. Face The Attitude is owned by Hickory Creek Ranch LLC, was bred by KC Performance Horses LLC and nominated by Ginger Schmersal.

"She's a great little mare, this was a great night. She just came through for me." Craig said after they scored a 226.5 to win the championship title and the $150,000 purse.

Mega Mag, a young stallion that the Hintons own themselves, is sired by Magnum Chic Dream out of Big Gold Chex. He was bred and nominated by Garth Hystad.

"It was a very fun run," Hinton said. "Elvis' became the house favorite, I think. Everything about the run worked out, except for one thing – the second lead change. The first stop was good, turns were good – circled phenomenal. My goal was to have a penalty-free run. Other than the second lead change, the performance was like I would like it to be."

Story Book Stables' Shine Plum Shine is by Shine Chic Shine out of Plum Reyning. He was bred by Andre De Bellefeuille and nominated by Rosanna Sternberg.

Ricotta said, "I got this horse in May. He's a stud, but he's good to be around. He's good minded, and SUPER talented."

Hendrickdon's mount You Gotta Be Dreamin is owned, bred, and nominated by Jake and Heather Dahl, DVM. The son of Magnum Chic Dream is out of Forever Going Steady.

"The horse was awesome. I knew this was a big stopping and turning situation, so he came in and nailed that first stop. He turned HUGE that first way, but had a little trouble that second way. He circled up nice — I didn't try to over-do it, and then finished up really well. My last two stops were really good," Hendrickson said. "I've had the horse since he was two, so it's pretty cool to have the horse this whole time in my barn and then have this success on him."

MANDY MCCUTCHEON WINS NRHA NON PRO FUTURITY ON BEST NITE EVER

Amidst a cheering, whistling, and stomping crowd, Mandy McCutcheon delivered a spectacular performance to win the 2017 NRHA Non Pro Futurity. Mandy rode Best Nite Ever (Gunners Special Nite x Best By Benz) also known as "Flower" to a 219 in a runoff that may have resulted in one of their best nights ever!

When considering the abilities of the 3-year-olds showing in the futurity, some only need raw talent and good horsemanship. However, Flower had to have some time off during her 2 year-old year to have some bone chips removed. With Team McCutcheon's help the filly recovered, caught up with her peers, and won the NRHA Non Pro Futurity and $42,274.

Mandy said, "[In my first run] I was a little rough in a couple of spots where I made her a little jittery, and I just tried to go back in the second run and smooth that out a little bit. She showed really good for me. She does the big stuff real easy, and so it's more of just letting her do things and not making her do things."

Kelle Smith earned the reserve title in the NRHA Non Pro Futurity with a 217.5 after the runoff. Kelle's first run won the Prime Time Non Pro Futurity with a 216.5. Kelle has always believed in Night Time Spook (Spooks Gotta Whiz x Custom Night Time) even when others doubted, and these wins cemented her faith in the young stallion who wasn't started until July of his 2-year-old year. Kelle took home $32,234.

"I'm thrilled to death. This is a special horse. He needs no introduction; I think that everybody has finally realized what I've known – just how special he is. I mean he came from the stall and did the runoff," Smith said. "I asked how much time we had and they said that we have 10 minutes. I was like, 'he's ready.' I wouldn't have ever run off if it wasn't for this horse. I mean, any other horse I've ever brought to the futurity, I would never have run off. We had a stumble and a bad back up, so there you go."

Kevin Ball and This Chic Guns It Claim Level 3, 2, and 1 Non Pro Futurity Championships

Kevin Ball slid into the Levels 3, 2, and 1 NRHA Non Pro Championships on This Chic Guns It, a daughter of Colonels Smoking Gun and This Chic Dun It. In mid 2016, Kevin mentioned to his trainer. Nathan Piper, that he would be interested in buying a futurity prospect at the end of the year. Piper called him back the next day and told him that he had found one and sent a video to Kevin. Kevin was concerned about the timing, but he trusted Nathan and bought the filly. After this Championship went to Kristen Darnell-Titov and Gunsup In right on after all!

Ball said, "She was really good. I got a little bit nervous coming into the pen just because she had lost her confidence a little bit in her left turn, but we got through it, and built her Futurity Championship on Its Cocktail Hour (Wimpyneedconfidence back. From the first moment that we ran in there to the moment that we walked out, she was just right there with me. I know she was a little bit tired, but when I said, 'let's go on,' she went to work. She's nothing but a trooper." The duo scored 215 points and earned the $49,724 check.

Andre Lauzon of Canada and his filly Sonia Smart Chic earned the Level 2 NRHA Non Pro Futurity Reserve Championship as well as Reserve in the NRHA Prime Time Non Pro Futurity Championship with a 212. Sonia Smart Chic is by Smart Chic Olena out of Miss Poco Whizard. Andre pocketed $15,748 for the titles.

win and others, Kevin definitely believes that the timing was Tinseltown. Kristen rode the son of Hollywoodstinseltown and Always Gotyer Gunsup to a 214.5 and brought her take to $17,258.

> Alex Purus won reserve in the Level 1 NRHA Non Pro sacocktail x BH Silver Enterprise). The duo was awarded 211.5 points and $7,070.

Cade McCutcheon Pilots One Stormy Nite to NRHA Youth Non Pro Championship Title

One Stormy Nite is by Gunners Special Nite out of Whatta Royal Vintage, and has a history in the McCutcheon family. McCutcheon said, "I had a big bobble in my back up that kept me from being right up there with my mom and Kelle in the Level 4, but he was good enough everywhere else that I still won the youth and a pretty good check!"

Taylor Zimmerman took the reserve NRHA Youth Non Pro Championship on Trashysara with a 210. Trashysara is a daughter of Gunnatrashya and Sara Goes To Hollywood. Taylor took home $989.

by NRHA Million Dollar Owner and Hall of Fame Inductee Rosanne Sternberg.

"This mare is just awesome, she is getting better and better," said NRHA Professional Larcombe. "It was almost perfect; until the last horse we were first, second and third. The duo qualified at the South Central ARC representing the Southwest Reining Horse Association.

Mattew Noel Palmer and Gunner Be A Maverick (Gunner x Dun It Preciously) earned a 221.5 to win the Adequan® NAAC Open Reserve Championship and the USA Reining championship, representing the Eastern Pennsylvania RHA, after his success at the Northeast ARC. "He has been a steady eddy; it has been unreal," saidN-RHA Professional Palmer. "He has won five or six times out of the eight I have showed him. His previous owners must not have showed him a lot. It is a unique situation but every time I have shown him, he has been there for me. He has stepped up to the highest level with success, which is fun and gratifying. It was my third year showing in this for the same owner, and we won the other two years, so today is a little bittersweet, but very special." 'Maverick' will now be ridden by Hurd, who has never shown before, in Green Reiner classes.

Step x Wind Her Up Doc) earned the Adequan® NAAC Intermediate Open Reserve Championship for owner Susan Geiger with a score of 220.5.

The 5-year-old mare, owned by her husband Maurice Robinson, qualified him for the 2017 NRBC Finals in Levels 1, 2, 3 and Prime Time Non Pro. "He has shown all year for both of us and still has the heart to give it his all every time he goes in the pen. Based on his conformation, you would never think he can do what he is capable of; it was so much fun to get on him the first time and feel what he could do."

Kennedy Bryant Silver Spurs Equine Rookie of the Year NAAC Rookie Level 2 Champion Rookie Levels 1 & 2 Champion

KENNEDY BRYANT SMASHES THE ROOKIE COMPETITION

Described by her friends as a quiet, introverted bookworm, Kennedy Bryant laid it all out at the NRHA Futurity on Thursday! After a runoff, she won the Silver Spurs Equine Rookie of the Year title, the NAAC Rookie Level 2, the NRHA Rookie Level 1, and the Rookie Level 2 Championships! With a solid determination to win, Kennedy rode her horse, All Nite Spook an 8-year-old son of Smart Spook and Dun It Fri Dee Nite to a 220.5 in the runoff. Bryant pocketed $1,052 for the wins.

Bryant said, "The runoff was probably the best run I've ever had. It was amazing."

Her trainer, Bud Lyon added, "I think the biggest thing Kennedy has improved on since she's been riding with me is learning the difference between practicing at home and being in the show pen - being able to prepare one when you are at home or in the practice pen, and then being able to put your hand down and go show in the show pen and show with speed and be aggressive when you can be, but still be smart and weigh the risk versus reward."

Canadian, Magalie Boulanger slid into the reserve championship in the NAAC Rookie and the NRHA Rookie Level 1 on FS Hollywoodwrangler. FS Hollywoodwrangler is a 9-year-old gelding by Starlights Wrangler out of MJ Malibu Barbie. The pair scored a 213.5 which earned them $634.

Bub Poplin and Smokin Custom Crome OKC Convention and Visitors Bureau Invitational Freestyle Reining Champions

ENTERTAINING PERFORMANCES REIGN AT THE $20,000 OKC CONVENTION AND VISITORS BUREAU FREESTYLE INVITATIONAL

Reiners and their horses wowed the crowd with themed performances choreographed to music at the $20,000 OKC Convention and Visitors Bureau Freestyle Invitational Reining held in the Coliseum during the NRHA Futurity. The costumes included everything from flowing capes and American Flags to baseball stitches and racing stripes; however it was the traditional Vaquero ensemble and performance that topped the scores.

Bub Poplin, a Fruita, Cali. native, aboard Smokin Custom Crome (Custom Crome x Glendas A Smokin Gun) performed to the sound of Ian Tyson singing Jaquima To Freno. enjoyed about it the most as I figured it out is that what it Bub's costume was as authentic as he could make it from the tapaderos and spade bit on his horse to the Garracha pole that he carried and the studded leather cuffs that he wore.

Poplin said, "The old, old vaguero used the garrocha pole, and actually that pole is 13 feet long. The purpose of the garrocha pole was to train your horses to fight bulls in Spain. That's the distance that you wanted to keep a bull from hitting your horse. That's where it originated. Now in Brazil, they actually have garrocha competitions. I was watching that and I got really intrigued and that's what gave me the idea to do it."

Learning to perform in the traditional vaquero way was harder than Bub initially thought, but he said, "What I really does is it really gets your horse broke. You have to really focus on making a perfect circle – being able to do one and a half spins and then lope out underneath that pole. This horse has really done a lot in the reining pen and I started it with him and he struggled at first. By the time I got done, it actually got him more broke so it's pretty cool!"

Poplin and Smokin Custom Crome's captivating performance earned 225 points and $6,544.

Dan James on Don Magnum earned the reserve spot in the Invitational Freestyle with a 223. Dan James in traditional cowboy garb rode to Ghost Riders in the Sky made famous by Johnny Cash with both his pistols firing. Don Magnum is the 6-year-old son of Magnum Chic Dream out of Chex By Dunit. James earned $4,499.

Rafacz rode the infamous Better Not Rest (Custom Crome $177,000 in lifetime earnings.

VAUGHN ZIMMERMAN INDUCTED INTO THE NRHA HALL OF FAME

NRHA Million Dollar Owner Vaughn Zimmerman was recognized at Sliders Night Out as NRHA's newest Hall of Fame Inductee. Zimmerman defines the very criteria for the NRHA Hall of Fame Induction.

Vaughn has enjoyed a long-time involvement with the reining horse industry as a lifetime member since 1994. Vaughn served on the first Reining Horse Foundation board and continues to support the RHF as a Gold Donor. He served on many other key NRHA committees, and it was by his recommendation that the Million Dollar Owners award was created to encourage the longevity of owners' involvement in the sport.

"I've been in the horse industry in so many different events prior to 23 years ago [when] I met Kenny Eppers one night and he introduced reining to us. I've been doing in ever since." Zimmerman said. "It's a passion. It's something I love; and to be grouped with the people in the Hall of Fame that I am with is humbling to me because everyone has done so much to help reining. In so many ways, I know that I have tried to help reining, but I know that reining has helped me more than I've helped it."

Zimmerman has supplied financial support to the industry by providing integral sponsorships to many regional and major shows, and by donating stallion breedings to various breeding program auctions supporting NRHA Affiliates. Vaughn has contributed multiple top caliber horses to the industry including many highly sought after consignments to the Markel Insurance Futurity Sales such as Commanders Lil Step (Wimpys Little Step x Miss Bam Bam Command), the 2011 high-seller. Vaughn also consigned Not Ruf At All (A Sparkling Vintage x All Ruffed Up), but then made the wise decision not to sell the horse. Not Ruf At All went on to become the third ever reining Triple Crown champion after winning the 2013 NRHA Futurity, the 2014 NRHA Derby, and the 2016 NRBC.

Vaughn enjoys watching the Zimmerman legacy continue through his grandchildren who seem to share the same passion and dedication for reining.

HISTORY MADE AT 2017 NRHA FUTURITY

The 2017 NRHA Futurity was a historic event. The Non Pro Level 4 Finals included both its youngest competitor ever, as well as it's eldest. Multiple riders, owners, and horses met new milestones after the Open and Non Pro Finals as well.

Dr. James (Jim) Morgan, DVM is celebrated as the oldest competitor ever to make it to the Level 4 Non Pro Finals at 72 years old. He won the Non Pro Futurity 3 years in a row in 1984, 1985, and 1986. Dr. Morgan has a goal of reaching the Million Dollar Rider mark before he has to give his horses a rest.

"I've made 28 futurity finals in a row," Morgan said. "As I look back on it, probably the nine times that I got second [in the finals] are just as profound [as winning it] because I raised most of those horses, and when you are raising two or mark after the success that horses he owns enjoyed includthree foals at a time, you don't get to pick so you bring what ing the Non Pro Futurity Champion, Best Nite Ever (One you raise. Some of them weren't the best horses, but they tried hard, and they were second – some of them."

Born 21 years after Dr. Morgan won his first Non Pro Futurity, Carlee McCutcheon beat her brother, Cade's, record by 5 months when she bacame the new youngest rider in the Level 4 Non Pro Finals at 12 years and 2 months old at the time of the finals. This record seems to be a McCutcheon family tradition as Cade beat his mother's record, and now Carlee topped Cade's.

Carlee said, "I like it a lot! It's fun to be the youngest, everyone congratulates me, and it's nice to be congratulated!"

Also celebrating historical milestones, is Tom McCutcheon who unofficially passed the Million Dollar Owner

Franco Bertolani (on Chex For Nite) NRHA Million Dollar Rider

Silver Spurs Equine will also be celebrating induction into the Million Dollar Owner ranks soon, boasting an unofficial total of $1,022,712.56. Xtra Dun Step (Wimpys Little Step x All That's Dun) added $69,876.40 to the total for taking 4th NRHA's newest Five Million Dollar Rider after two horses that Fappani rode in the Open Futurity Finals brought his total unofficially to $5,061,176.53. All American Vintage(A Sparkling Vintage x All Ruffed Up) placed 2nd in the Open Finals and earned $113,936.75. Lil Patron placed 26th and earned $8,913.68.

DOT TEMPORARILY WAIVES LOGGING DEVICE MANDATE FOR AGRICULTURE

90-DAY WAIVER EXTENDED TO LOOK AT AGRICULTURE'S REQUEST FOR AN EXEMPTION FROM MANDATE

Press Release from Department of Transportation Dec. 3, 2017

The Department of Transportation has granted a 90-day waiver from the requirement that agricultural and livestock haulers install electronic logging devices in their vehicles. Over those 90 days the department plans to look closely at agriculture's request for an exemption while developing additional guidance for agricultural haulers.

Most farmers and ranchers should be exempt from the ELD mandate because they can claim covered farm vehicle status, but drivers who haul livestock, live fish and insects are likely to fall under the requirements.

In September, the American Farm Bureau Federation and seven livestock organizations petitioned DOT for a waiver and exemption from the Dec. 18ELD implementation deadline. In their request, the groups explained their two biggest concerns about the requirement: livestock haulers' readiness to comply and the effect on the transported animals' wellbeing.

Drivers who have to use ELDs would be limited to current hours of service rules, which restrict a driver to only 14 "on duty" hours, with no more than 11 active driving hours. Once a driver hits those maximum hour allotments, he must stop and rest for 10 consecutive hours, which would be problematic when transporting livestock and other live animals.

In their petition, the groups pointed out livestock haulers' strong commitment to ensuring the safety of both the animals they're transporting and the drivers they share the road with. In addition, livestock haulers often receive specialized training beyond that required for their counterparts driving conventional commercial motor vehicles. The pork industry's Transport Quality Assurance Program and the beef industry's Master Cattle Transporter program provide detailed instruction on proper animal handling and transportation methods.

"As reflected in the [Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration's] data, the emphasis these programs place on animal welfare benefits driver safety as it encourages livestock haulers to slow down, be more aware of their surroundings and road conditions, and avoid rough-road situations that could result in animal injury," the groups noted.

Another major roadblock to implementation for livestock haulers is their lack of awareness of the rule. Because the livestock hauling industry is small compared to the overall trucking industry, it isn't strongly engaged by DOT's Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration. As a result, livestock drivers who are aware of the program have had difficulty researching the ELD marketplace and identifying cost-effective solutions that are compatible with livestock hauling and current agricultural hours of service exemptions

In their petition, the groups also asked DOT to address the incompatibilities between the FMCSA's hours of service rules and the structure and realities of the U.S. livestock sector.

"For many drivers, there is concern that there are those, with no understanding of or concern for animal welfare or livestock hauling, who will arbitrarily penalize them for choosing the proper care of animals over stopping in excessive heat or cold because of an arbitrary HOS cutoff," the groups said.

How this law Could Impact Horse Show Industry

As a breeder, owner, trainer or competitor in the horse industry, it is important to understand the implications of the ELD Mandate. The facts are that horse people would be required to install an electronic logging device (ELD) in your truck.

There are some exemptions in place for farm or agricultural hauling where an ELD would not be required.

However, many of the rigs used for hauling horses and the activities horse owners participate in, especially those that frequently travel to horse shows, fall outside the allowed exemptions.

What is the ELD Mandate? In 2012, the United States Congress enacted the bill "Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21 Century that was introduced by President Obama.

A part of this bill included a provision requiring the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Act (FMCSA) to develop a rule mandating the use of electronic logging devices (ELDs) on commercial vehicles.

Do we have to comply since we are hauling horses, not cattle or other livestock? Yes, horses are livestock and are specifically listed in the transportation bill language. It is not just the horse industry that is facing the ELD Mandate.

Families that show cattle, pigs and other livestock and travel long distances to show and compete will be impacted as well. It will also impact any other type of activity or hobby that requires a large vehicle and trailer and where there is the potential to win money in competitions.

The ELD Mandate requires that your vehicle must be fitted with a device under the following conditions: The "Not For Hire" myth: It is not uncommon to see "Not For Hire" graphics on trucks and horse trailers. The idea behind this is to avoid certain Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) regulations. This is an old fable that does not protect those hauling horses from fines for non-compliance. A "Not For Hire" sign on your rig will not protect you if it is to stop their trip once the 14-hour threshold is reached determined that your truck and trailer fit into the commercial and cannot resume travel until the 10-hour rest period has category or are being used for commercial purposes. Nor will it protect you if you are driving a vehicle and trailer that that can be reviewed by authorities and you can be fined. requires a commercial license.

A recreational vehicle exemption does not always apply: Living quarters horse trailers can be classified as recreational vehicles for private use. This classification exempts both the truck and trailer from being considered commercial as well as the requirements for the driver to obtain a commercial driver's license. However, if an officer or inspector determines that the truck and trailer is being used in "furtherance of a commercial enterprise", then the driver and vehicle are out of compliance with FMCSA regulations which can result in fines and being detained for an extended period.

For example, we have been made aware of situations where the owners of truck and trailers stopped by the Highway Patrol or other inspectors, were required to both obtain a Department of Transportation (DOT) number for their vehicle, and find a driver with a commercial driver's license in order to resume their trip.

Most who show horses will fall outside of the exemption requirements. (See below) You are required to obtain a Commercial Driver's License due to the weight of your truck and trailer (see below) license in order to resume their trip. In these cases, once the ELD Mandate is in effect, the drivers could also be required to purchase and install an ELD unit. (See below for clarification about the meaning of "furtherance of a commercial enterprise")

What does an ELD do? The ELD or electronic logging device synchronizes with the engine of a vehicle and keeps track of hours of service. It logs driving time, vehicle speed, routes, and keeps track of mandated rest periods as well as other data points. Once the vehicle is in motion and reaches 5 miles per hour, the ELD keeps track of time for the next 14 hours – nonstop.

Under the standard ELD regulations, there are no provisions to account for traffic, fueling, or loading and unloading. In those 14 hours, drivers are only allowed to drive for 11 hours. Because of this, drivers are forced to drive as much as they can during the 14 hours once the clock on the ELD starts. When the 14-hour limit has been reached, the ELD indicates to the driver that they must stop and "rest" for 10 consecutive hours. The ELD keeps track of any "infractions" – that is, going over the 14 hours as well as vehicle speed – and has reporting functions so inspectors can review the logs and fine drivers for infractions from days past.

This means that those hauling horses will be required passed. If the threshold is breached, the ELD makes a record

Have you noticed in the last several years all of the trucks that are parked along the side of the road? Have you noticed that on and off ramps and picnic and rest areas are sometimes filled up with trucks? Those typically are drivers that have reached their limit and have to immediately find a place to park their trucks to avoid costly violations.

If you are required to install an ELD for your truck and horse trailer, this could easily happen to you too. Mandated breaks: According to the Hours of Service outlined in the Federal Motor Carriers Safety Administration rules, rest breaks are mandatory in addition to the ten hour rest period. Commercial drivers are required to take a 30-minute break within the 11 hour driving period and cannot go past 8 hours without taking a break.

This mandatory break is calculated from when the vehicle starts moving and is tracked by the ELD. It does not take into account any other stops or breaks that may have occurred within the 8-hour time period. The break must be 30 consecutive minutes. A driver cannot substitute the 30minute break with a 10-minute break and later a 20-minute break. There is no getting around this as the ELD records and stores the 30 consecutive minute break periods and will subject the driver to penalty for a rule violation upon inspection

Additionally, the 30-minute break is included in the 14-hour time limit. Imagine your horses in 100 degree weather.

What constitutes a Commercial Motor Vehicle (CMV) classification? Are you writing off your truck or trailer as a business loss or expense on your tax returns? Tax write offs for your truck and trailer would make them fall under the commercial classification. Are your truck and/or trailer being used for your business? If your truck or trailer is being used for your business, they fall under the commercial classification. If you are a trainer, your truck and trailer is used for business, there's no doubt about it. If you are a Non Pro or amateur competitor, your truck and trailer can be considered as used for business (see "furtherance of a commercial enterprise" explanation below). If you are a Non pro or amateur and breed horses and sell them, your truck and trailer are considered as used for business.

Do you only haul your own horses? If not and if you collect payment, (for example splitting fuel costs) to haul a friend or client's horse to a show, to the trainer, to the vet, or to the breeder, your truck and trailer are considered commercial vehicles.

Have you won money competing with your horse or a client's horse? Even though most often competing with horses is not profitable for a Non Pro when calculating all the costs, the FMCSA could consider money won at a horse show or event, a profit. They can also consider hauling to an event with the intent or hopes of winning some money, as pursuing a profit. This definition of "profit" then classifies your truck and trailer as commercial.

Do you have sponsors? Do you have their stickers on your truck or trailer? Just about everyone knows a roper, rodeo or horse show contestant who has a "day job" (horseshoer as an example) that spends part of their time traveling to events to compete. In many cases, especially with rodeo events, (some associations have strict rules about sponsorships and others do not) they also have sponsors, whether its ropes, saddle pads, clothing or other equipment. Those sponsorships qualify as "furtherance of a commercial enterprise" and then put them in the commercial category.

If your vehicle has a Gross Vehicle Weight Rating over 10,000 pounds and is used for your business or with the intent to make a profit or involved in interstate commerce, like going to horse shows out of your home state, it then falls into the commercial vehicle classification by the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA).

Simply, if you are traveling to horse events frequently, and drive a dually with a 4+ horse trailer, you are more than likely to fall into the classification where an ELD is required on your vehicle.

SET UP YOUR SENIOR HORSE FOR SUCCESS

SmartPak offers tips to help older horses weather winter woes

Cold weather can be especially challenging for senior horses, but your horse doesn't have to battle the winter weather alone. There are things you can do to set your senior up for success, and SmartPak is here with additional tips on how to support your senior horse.

One of the best ways to help your senior start winter off right is by making sure he's at a healthy weight. Ask your veterinarian to show you how to evaluate his body condition, and read more about the Henneke Body Condition Scoring Scale. Once you know his body condition score, you can consider whether you need to make any adjustments to his diet now.

It's also important to monitor your horse's teeth. If your horse can't chew properly, he's not going to receive the full benefit of the food you're providing. That means wasted calories and wasted nutrients, and a horse whose diet isn't meeting his needs. Every horse needs an annual dental exam, and seniors may need one twice a year.

Next, be sure to evaluate your horse's serving of forage. As with any horse, he should be eating 1-2% of his body weight in roughage every day. Keep in mind that horses burn more calories in the winter staying warm. Your horse's body ferments roughage in the hindgut, which creates heat that helps keep him warm from the inside. Even if he's getting 1-2% of his body weight in forage already, an increase in hay may be warranted to make up for what he's using to maintain his core temperature.

Finally, consider whether you're going to blanket your horse this year. Even if you didn't blanket him when he was younger, it may be a smart choice to start now that he's a senior, since older horses may have more trouble regulating their body temperature. Not sure where to start with blanketing? SmartPak offers tips for finding the perfect blanket and offers a wide selection of product choices. You can learn more online through the Ultimate Blanket Destination.

In addition to general care, many senior horses may benefit from the daily, ongoing support that supplements provide, especially during the winter months. Key areas to support such as weight, joint, and immune are important to consider for your senior.

Weight gain

If your senior struggles to maintain adequate weight, ask your veterinarian if a weight gain supplement is appropriate. SmartPak recently introduced a new and improved Smart-Gain® formula which provides double the amount of fat in the original formula! Plus, it now offers outstanding digestive support from Diamond V® Yeast. Best of all, it's available at a new low price of just \$24.92 in SmartPaks $^{\text{TM}}$.

Joint health

Whether your senior spends his days roaming a pasture or has been working hard all year long, his joints are experiencing the wear and tear that comes with age and activity. Your horse's joints have already been under stress and strain for years, leaving them more susceptible to stiffness and discomfort. Some horse owners also find that their horses experience stiffness and discomfort during colder weather. Giving your golden oldie a daily senior joint supplement like SmartFlex Senior® will help ensure that he has the support he needs to stay comfortable.

Immunity

Your senior horse's immune system may not work as well as it used to. A healthy immune system is necessary for your horse to withstand stress in the environment, and a less efficient immune system means that seniors may be at risk. To make sure your horse's immune system is ready to take on the stress of winter, consider adding an immune supplement to his program. Supplements like SmartImmuneTM Pellets provide potent antioxidants, herbs, and other ingredients to help support healthy immune function.

By using these tips together with the expert advice of your veterinarian and barn manager, you can ensure you're providing your senior horse with the support he needs to stay happy and healthy all winter long.
