TOM MCCUTCHEON VIRTUAL HORSE HELP/WORLDWIDE SLIDE BECOME NEWEST NRHA CORPORATE PARTNER

The National Reining Horse Association (NRHA) has announced its newest corporate partner, Tom McCutcheon's Virtual Horse Help (VHH) and WorldWide Slide (WWS). The WWS and VHH team paired with NRHA, promises to bring more exposure to the sport, its horses and riders through cooperative, promotional and educational efforts.

"Through this partnership, we will be able to increase the exposure of NRHA and share the wonderful stories of our horses and riders," said Sammi Miller, Director of Corporate Relations. "Our (NRHA and WWS/VHH) common goal is to promote and grow the sport of Reining by focusing on the sport's achievements, inside and outside of the arena."

Tom McCutcheon said, "It's exciting to partner with the NRHA, especially at this level. We are looking forward to working together."

VHH/WWS managing partner Cheryl Magoteaux Cody added, "We provide a cohesive news and learning resource for the reining industry and our goal is to work with the association to bring more information to reining participants and fans worldwide." She added, "A priority is to showcase the entire array of riders and performance – from Green to Level 4 Open!"

See you soon at the NRHA Derby!

Focusing on all levels of competition is a formula that was tested and found to be sound at the recent National Reining Breeders Classic. At that event, the VHH Video team shot and posted more than 70 videos which included interviews with the winners of not only the high profile events, but also of every ancillary class. The result was over 450,000 views of the videos plus well over 7 million total impressions.

Cody summarized, "I have always believed that everyone has a story. We love giving reiners an opportunity to share their stories and from the response we are getting, people love hearing and reading about them."

More about WWS and VHH

Tom McCutcheon's VHH was established in 2010 and provides online access to reining industry event coverage with highlights, results, and interviews plus tips from and insights with some of the top professionals in the NRHA. In just seven years, VHH has become one of the most focal media outlets covering reining and the NRHA worldwide.

WWS was founded by Pro Management, Inc. in 2014 to bring the news of the reining industry, including event coverage, to reining enthusiasts everywhere. WWS distributes the news free to nearly 25,000 email addresses every other Wednesday. Pro Management, owned by award-winning writer and photographer Cheryl Magoteaux Cody, is also known for running events and day-to-day business for the National Reining Breeders Classic, Tulsa Reining Classic, Southwest Reining Horse Association and USA Reining.

In early 2017, WWS and VHH merged to increase their effectiveness in keeping fans up-to-date on the latest happenings in the reining horse industry through emails, social media, online learning, news videos and much more. The combined entity is now headquartered at the Pro Management offices in Byars, Okla.

The IEA Western Finals competition and events are supported by the NRHA and with major assistance from the following horse providers: West Texas A&M, Halvorson Ranch, Red Dirt Riders, OK 007, Taylor Equine, Robinson Equine, Sassy Senioritas, Schwarz Reiners, Casey Hinton Quarter Horse/Cedar Ridge Ranch, Lipps Horse Training, Sliding K Performance Horses, Mike Keller, and JD/Stacey Roberson.

“This is really a special event for our IEA riders because these youngsters get to compete in the same venue at the same time that the world’s best professional and non-pro western riders ride for big prizes and world-wide recognition. The excitement of the competitions transcends multiple generations and isn’t that great for equestrian sport?” said Myron Leff, IEA Co-founder and Chief Operating Officer.

Because only a fraction of the IEA’s 13,500 riders qualifies for the National Finals, it is important to provide the Western Finals in real-time with live-streaming and archive viewing to the other riders, families, friends and supporters from across the world. NRHA and Equine Promotions will provide the technical capabilities so IEA’s diverse audience can enjoy the Finals competition.

Celebrating its 15th anniversary, the IEA has more than 13,500 middle and high school student-riders across the United States. The IEA was organized to promote and improve the quality of equestrian competition and instruction available to middle and secondary school students and is open to public and private schools and barn teams. Its purpose is to set minimum standards for competition, provide information concerning the creation and development of school associated equestrian sport programs, to generally promote the common interests of safe riding instruction and competition and education on matters related to equestrian competition at the middle and secondary school levels. No rider needs to own a horse because the IEA provides a mount and tack for each equestrian at every event. For more information, please view the IEA website at: www.rideiea.org.

SMARTPAK RETURNS AS TULSA REINING CLASSIC NON PRO DERBY SPONSOR

The Tulsa Reining Classic welcomes SmartPak back as the naming sponsor of the Non Pro Derby at the 2017 Tulsa Reining Classic, set for Aug. 28 – Sept. 3 at Expo Square in Tulsa, Okla. SmartPak has sponsored the event for five years and its support has allowed the event to add real credibility and substantial earnings to a horse's show record.

The SmartPak Non Pro Derby continues to grow annually and last year paid over $4900 to Champion Cade McCutcheon and Custom Made Gun owned by McQuay Stables. Along with the cash the winner also garnered SmartPak products – much appreciated in McCutcheon's case as he said after the win that he is already a loyal customer! Like Cade, many exhibitors use SmartPak's high-quality products in appreciation of the company's enduring support of the reining industry.

“We are very glad to have SmartPak on our team,” said Anne-Marie Burns. Burns is a co-owner of Global Reining Sport Group, which produces the Tulsa Reining Classic. She continued, “As a result of the continued support of SmartPak, we can continue to offer an awesome venue for Non Pros to compete with their Derby horses. SmartPak is an industry leader in the equine health market with innovative products. We, at GRSG, strive to achieve that same innovative spirit by producing an event that is spectator, exhibitor and equine athlete friendly.”

Lissa Hines, Marketing Director at SmartPak said, “We are excited to be back at the Tulsa Reining Classic and working with all of the staff and riders that make the sport of reining so great. This has always been a great show for SmartPak to sponsor, and we're thrilled to be the naming sponsor for the Non Pro Derby again. We look forward to coming back each year to not only support the sport, but to help continue to grow awareness as well.”

SmartPak will again provide Rockin' SP Tack for prizes this year at the show. Like SmartPak's other private label brands, Rockin' SP offers exceptional quality. Each item is designed by SmartPak's own riders and is tested on their own personal horses and the result is a range of bridles, blankets, girths, saddle pads and other items that combine long-lasting quality with unbeatable prices.

SmartPak also provides customers with innovative tools to help keep their horses healthy. Through extensive research, SmartPak is able to offer informative articles and videos on the website and in the catalog. The website also offers helpful technology that can help horse owners decide anything from which supplements their horse needs to which blanket to put on their horse through the winter.

SmartPak was founded in 1999 with the introduction of the patented SmartPak supplement feeding system. The revolutionary, daily dose SmartPaks are custom-made for horses, individually labeled and sealed for freshness. With the success of this simple and convenient feeding system, SmartPak continued to expand its offering of quality products, including its own line of more than 55 supplement formulas called Smart Supplements and a wide variety of tack, equipment, and supplies. The company is now the largest retailer of equestrian products in the United States.

NRHA COLLEGIATE JUDGING CONTEST RETURNS FOR 2017

The National Reining Horse Association (NRHA) has announced the return of the Collegiate Judging Contest at the 2017 NRHA Futurity & Adequan North American Affiliate Championship Show.

The contest will return with a few changes from its layout in previous years, the biggest changes being the creation of a junior and senior division and the opportunity for each college to bring up to two teams per division. Contestants will complete a penalty clip test, rulebook test and judge two sets of 10 live runs during the NRHA Open Level 4 Semi-Finals at the Futurity.

“This contest allows us to support an important sector of the equine industry. These contestants are about to enter a new phase of their life in the work force, and any opportunity we have to expose them to high level reining, judging and scribing, the more likely we are to have them continue to be involved with NRHA and the sport of reining,” said Hayley Eberle, Manager of Marketing &

Communications at NRHA.

During the contest, the senior division will scribe for the junior division and vice versa, with scribe pairs being predetermined prior to the start of the competition. An awards breakfast will be held the following morning to announce placings and celebrate the winners.

For more information, please contact Hayley Eberle at heberle@nrha.com or (405) 946-7400. Entry forms can be found at NRHAFuturity.com.

Founded in 1966, the National Reining Horse Association is a nonprofit association dedicated to promoting and encouraging the development of and public interest in the sport of reining. The focus is on developing and maintaining suitable standards of performance and judging and in providing a fun filled, family-oriented atmosphere.

PARTICIPATE IN THE 2017 ECONOMIC IMPACT STUDY FOR THE UNITED STATES HORSE INDUSTRY

The American Horse Council announced that the survey link for the National Economic Impact Study will be released on June 5. The survey link will be available until August 1.

“The National Survey link will initially be distributed through equine organizations such as the American Quarter Horse Association, United States Equestrian Federation, Certified Horsemanship Association, American Paint Horse Association, and more,” said AHC President Julie Broadway. “We hope everyone that receives the survey link will participate. This is an opportunity to showcase how important the vast equine industry is to the United States economy, and the more horse owners, breeders, riders, trainers, racetracks, shows, rodeos and other industry suppliers that participate, the better the data will be that is included in the final results.”

The 2017 Economic Impact Study will contain expanded demographics with youth participation and additional segments of the industry, including Equine Assisted Activities and Therapies, Equine Sanctuaries and Rescues, Equine Academic Programs, and Equine Youth Organizations. Representatives of these institutions and organizations, along with Equine Competition Organizers, will be receiving targeted and individualized surveys. The main survey is designed to capture the impact of individual horse owners (whether commercial or recreational) and industry suppliers of equine-related goods and services. A separate data request is being sent directly to Racetracks, OTBs, and Advanced Deposit Wagering businesses.

The surveys were designed by the Innovation Group and a supporting team of equine industry experts. They were further vetted by key industry stakeholders as well as a Steering Committee composed of AHC staff and five outside experts.

The 2005 Economic Impact Study established that the horse industry in all its segments, including racing, showing, and recreation, had a $39 billion effect on the US economy, involved more than 4 million Americans and 9.2 million horses, and supported 1.4 million full-time jobs. The study provided invaluable demographic data and insights into professions and other industries that are impacted by equine ownership, as well as proved to be extremely helpful to the industry’s efforts in documenting its size, diversity and economic importance to public officials, the press, and other media. Now more than ever, it’s important for the equine industry to have access to data from all segments to ensure the most comprehensive, impactful portrait possible of our diverse and long-standing industry.

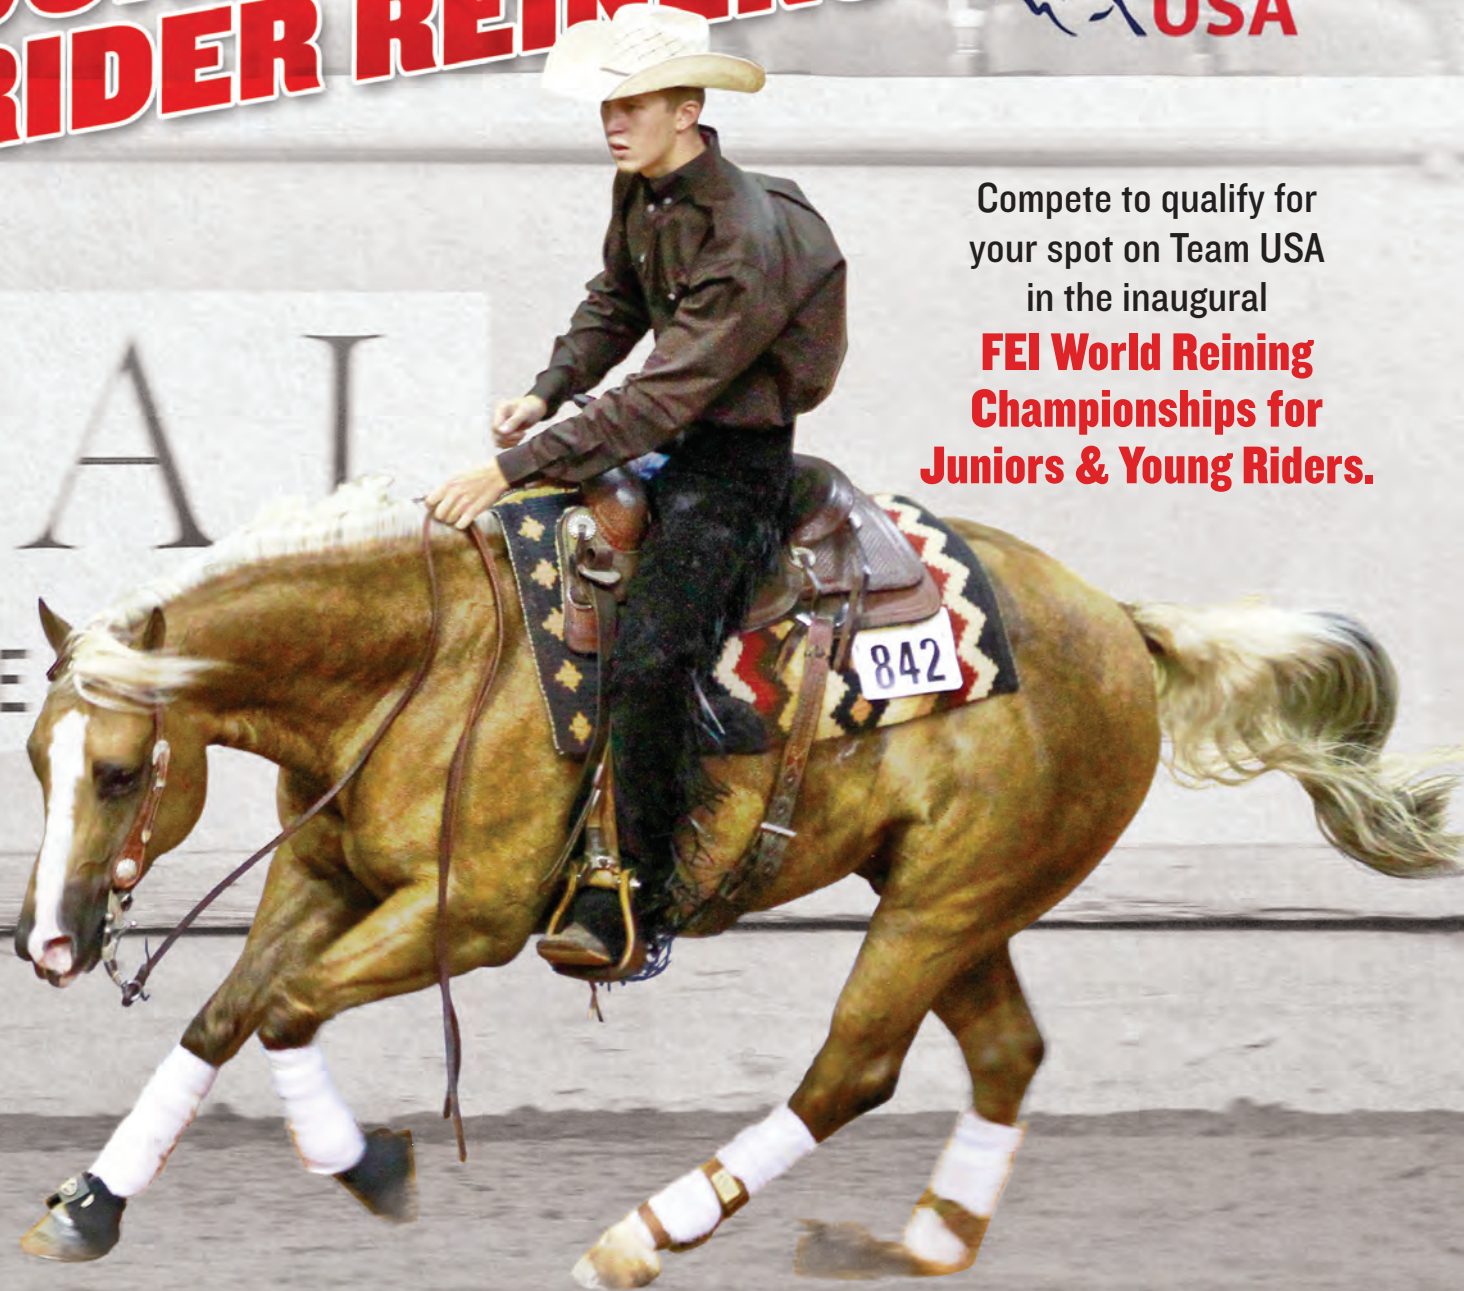

If you are a member of an equine association, please be on the lookout for an email containing the link to the take the National Survey. If you are not a member of an equine association, or did not receive the survey link after June 15th and would like to participate, please email economicimpactstudy@horsecouncil.org to receive the link. Please note, all personal information collected in the survey will be confidential and will not be distributed.

We thank you in advance for participating in this incredibly important update to the Economic Impact Study! If you have any questions, please contact the AHC directly at info@horsecouncil.org.

QUARTER HORSE NEWS RETURNS AS TULSA REINING CLASSIC STALLION AUCTION SPONSOR

Quarter Horse News has returned for the sixth consecutive year as the sponsor of the Tulsa Reining Classic Stallion Service Auction. The Tulsa Reining Classic, scheduled for August 28-September 3, has become an essential stop along the fall reining show trail in recent years. It is a lucrative venue for futurity and derby horses with innovative classes and exhibitor-oriented scheduling and the site of the National Reining Horse Association's South Central Region Affiliate Finals and a full slate of ancillary classes.

It also hosts the United States Equestrian Federation Open and Youth Reining Championships. It's a show that's growing every year! According to Colleen McQuay, Co-Founder of the Global Reining Sport Group which produces the event, its continued success is due in large part to the support of its committed sponsors – like Quarter Horse News.

McQuay explains, "Quarter Horse News became the title sponsor of our Quarter Horse News Tulsa Reining Classic Stallion Service Auction in 2012, and we are privileged to continue this relationship. A media resource like Quarter Horse News is an invaluable tool for reining. We are thrilled to be able to partner with them on this project and appreciate their participation."

The stallion auction regularly features some of the most elite stallions in the reining industry. It begins on August 15 and concludes at 5pm September 2, giving mare owners plenty of time to plan and prepare for the next year's breeding season.

Bidders may bid both online at www.tulsareining.com and in-person at the Quarter Horse News Tulsa Reining Classic Stallion Auction display at the show.

McQuay added, "We also appreciate the support of stallion owners who choose to be a part of this auction. Because of their participation, we try to keep the stallions in the forefront during the show."

Stallions are heavily promoted during the event as well as prior to and after the show and stallion owners who donate a breeding receive sponsorship benefits at the event. Thanks to Quarter Horse News, each stallion is entered to win one of two stallion promotion packages valued at $5,000 that contains both print and electronic advertising.

The leading source for news in the western performance world, Quarter Horse News is a staple for any serious reining participant or fan for event coverage, profiles and in-depth reporting on issues that impact the industry.
