The High Roller Reining Classic celebrated its 10th Anniversary in style at the South Point Arena and Equestrian Center, Las Vegas, Nevada. The huge event is known for its fun-loving enthusiastic riders, talented horses, great prizes and of course the South Point's fantastic facility. Constructed in 2006, this venue has quickly become a favorite among equestrians, and is easily recognized as the nicest indoor facility in the country. The venue could not be more perfect for the world renowned High Roller Reining Classic. Its exhibitors and spectators attend from all over the World. In its short history, it hasn't taken long for the High Roller to reach #4 on the National Reining Horses Association's list of Top Events worldwide. Avid reining fans from as far away as Thailand, Japan, the Netherlands, Australia and the United Kingdom have all enjoyed what the High Roller has to offer, from watching the exciting competition, shopping at the western trade show, and all the excitement the city of Las Vegas has to offer.

The 10th anniversary did not disappoint, presenting the largest entry participation since its inception.

"Coming into the event this year we were getting close to selling out stalls," states Amanda Brumley, event producer and President of Brumley Management Group, LLC. "We were all really happy with the numbers going into the event. It was a good sign that this year was going to top them all!"

as far away as Ohio, New York and North Carolina were in attendance.

The first weekend of competition got underway with the Youth Tournament of Champions and the Rookie and Green High Point Circuits. Before the youth competed, the annual social bowling event was held in the South Point Bowling Center where young equestrians enjoyed three games of bowling followed by the Youth Tournament of Champions team draw. Ashley Wilson-Hammer graciously organized the youth riders again this year, keeping them ‘tuned in’ and ready to show. After they had their first day of tough competition, the youth participated in a judging seminar hosted by NRHA Judge Steve Ross.

“The turnout was great,” comments Ross. “I wasn’t sure at first if the kids would show up, but the room was packed and even had people standing in the back. I think the pizza was a big hit too,” laughs Ross. The parents were extremely grateful for their kids to have the opportunity to learn so much. “So many parents came to me expressing their appreciation for this fantastic learning opportunity,” comments Wilson-Hammer. “Thanks to Markel Insurance for their support of the Youth Tournament of Champions, the free bowling, pizza and judging seminar for the youth who are the future of our sport.”

The Markel Youth Tournament of Champions paid out several thousand dollars in scholarships to the team and individual winners in addition to the beautiful gold, silver and bronze custom medallions. Anna Clausen riding FS Taris

Walla Whiz, (Topsail Whiz x Shiny Walla Wanda) captured the Youth 13 & Under High Point Circuit and Shelby Clausen with her mount Smart Tinseltown, (Smart Spook x Tinseltown Lil Step) won the Youth 14-18 High Point Circuit Championship. The National Arabian Reining Horse Association (NARHA) 13 & Under Co-Champions were Nora Yearin riding Chics Dig It and McKenna Bein riding SH Karlotta. There was also a High Point tie in the NARHA Youth 14-18 between Abby Weiss riding TR Flash Flood and Claire Robertson and her mount Hollywood Spin Doctor.

Competition was huge in the Rookie and Green divisions! Over one hundred horses competed for the coveted awards.

“BMG Events strive to provide the highest quality awards,” noted Dana Brumley manager of BMG Events award room. “From the custom bronze trophies, Gist custom trophy buckles, custom trophy saddles, highest quality ribbons and garlands to the horse cookies and products and gift cards supplied by our sponsors no one leaves empty handed.”

The Desert Reining Horse Association (DRHA) Rookie High Point Champion Gloria Grove riding Heza Hollywood Legend (Custom Legend x LS Hollywood Chic) bested all the other exhibitors to win the Equine Oasis custom trophy saddle, Gist trophy buckle, plaque, rose neck garland and lots of horse cookies.

Another of the event’s largest classes was the Limited Non Pro with over one hundred in the draw, two days of challeng-

The weekend also features the NARHA Arabian and Half Arabian Futurities. Congratulations to Patrick Flaherty and LJ Maverick (Al Marah Matt Dillon x Mild Beauty), owned by 4-Lazy-J Arizona for their win of the Level 4 Open Half Arabian Futurity scoring a 72 and a paycheck of $1,450. The pure bred Arabian Level 4 Open Futurity was won by another Arizona trainer Arno Honstetter riding Rumour Haz It (IBN Halabi2 x Cheyenne Starr2) for owner Dusty Morgan. Rumour Haz It also won the NARHA Level 4 Non Pro Arabian/Half Arabian Futurity with rider Linda Jacobs adding an additional $1800 in prize money to their winnings. The NARHA offers Arabian and Half Arabian competitors an avenue to show off their talented horses and win big money and prizes. In 2018 the first year of the NARHA Incentive Program kicks in offering over $30,000 in added prize money to the NARHA Futurities at the High Roller Reining Classic. Eleanor Hamilton Arabians sponsored these events in 2018. Eleanor is a long time breeder of Arabian working western horses, with multiple Scottsdale Arabian Show Futurity Champions and National Champions.

The second half of the event featured the SmartPak Non Pro Maturity, Tamarack Ranch 3 Year Old Futurity, Whizkey N Diamonds 4 Year Old Stakes, Protect the Harvest Non Pro Derby and Lucas Oil Open Derby all with a combined added prize money of $346,000.

The excitement was palpable as the competition kicked off Tuesday with the Tamarack Ranch Non Pro Futurity. Kim Muehlstaetter riding Spooks Grand Slam (Spooks Gotta Whiz x Shiney Diamond Lady) repeated her win from Reining by the Bay to take the Level 4 Championship earning $3,971.53.

Muehlstaetter is no new comer to the winners circle and has high hopes for this special horse. "I bought him from Dianne Beckman about a year ago," comments Muehlstaetter. "Eduardo Salgado had him and told me I should really try him. I knew I loved him as soon as I loped off. Murry (Spooks Grand Slam) is really smart, but a bit tricky because he is scared of other horses in the warm up pen. When he goes into the show pen he totally relaxes, which is the opposite of many other horses. He is just happy to be in the arena alone. He wants to show and gives me everything I ask. He has a lot of spark, but is quiet minded. A perfect combination.

Warn's combined winnings came to $5,761.33 and Gilliam's payout was $3,343.88 as she did not enter the Level 4 division. Al Show” world renowned horsemen Bob Avila and Al Dunning spend time discussing runs, enjoying time with guest speakers and poking fun at each other at every opportunity, while Steve Ross captures exhibitor’s reactions to their performances right outside the out gate where viewers watching can get the ‘inside scoop’ on the action. Produced by Horse Show Global and Classic Video, Bob, Al and their guests also answered questions emailed directly to highrollerreiningclassic@gmail.com from all over the world. “It was wonderful to get questions from viewers,” remarks Dunning. “We were amazed where all the questions were coming from, New Zealand, Austria, England, and of course all over the US.” “My daughter McKenzie Parkinson was at the event working in the western trade show. It was the first time she had been to the High Roller and was really impressed. Her sales were great and she commented ‘I wish all shows were like this one. So well run, fun and just overall fantastic for everyone!’”

Casey Deary and his ‘routine’ of “eating a big piece of chocolate cake from the South Point Hotel’s Del Mar Deli” proved to once again put him in the winner’s circle, not on just one, but two horses. Deary repeated his 2011, 2012, 2014, and 2015 High Roller Reining Classic Open Futurity wins to claim the championship again in the Level 4 Tamarack Ranch Open Futurity aboard Lonely At The Top (Gunner x Wimpys Little Chic) scoring 221.5 for owners Curtis Performance Horses and a paycheck of $15,318.00. He also took the reserve title aboard Tinker With Dreams (Tinker With Guns x This Chicsdundreamin) scoring 220.5 for owner Rhodes River Ranch winning $9,324.00. When asked what the deal is with the cake Deary comments not wanting to reveal his superstition, “the chocolate cake at the South Point is the main reason I go to the High Roller Rein-

Danny Tremblay competed for the first time at the High Roller Reining Classic. “I came to the event a few years ago to watch,” notes Tremblay. “This year I brought several horses and we have had a great time.” Tremblay won the Level 3 on Starlights N Diamonds (Whizkey N Diamonds x Starlights Sugarwhiz) and placed fourth in the Level 4 capturing $14,824.85 for owners High Hope Farm. Dan Huss and Xtra Prettycocktail (Wimpyneedsacocktail x Prettywhizprettydoes) scored a 217.5 to win the Level 2, tied for 9th in the Level 4, and third in the level 3. Xtra Prettycocktail is owned by Rick Christen and won a pretty paycheck of $10,992.13. Laura Johnson’s Splash Big Time (Shine Big Time x Nu Magnolia Chex) won the Level 1 and placed sixth in the Level 2 with rider Chuy Chavez claiming a check for $2,942.41.

Youth rider Shelby Claussen has had a stellar year aboard Smart Tinseltown (Smart Spook x Tinseltown Lil Step). With an AQHA Youth Reserve World Championship under her belt in August, her trip to the HrRc in Las Vegas added more titles for this talented rider. Claussen swept the SmartPak Non Pro Maturity Levels 1, 2, 3 and 4 winning every division with the score of 150.50 and paycheck of $3,524.92.

Michael Garnett aboard Blo Gun (Gunner x The Hot Jewel) Champions in the Prime Time and tied for third in the Level 3 and 4 divisions winning $1,856. Ann Westlund marked a 143.50 on her mount GettinMagnumtized won the Masters division, tied for third in the Prime Time, and tied for tenth in the Level 1, 2 and 3 divisions. A fun break in the regular competitive schedule was created by the Pony Pal Trainer Races and brought laughs from everyone once again this year. As an idea to raise funds for the Markel Youth Scholarship Program at High Roller producer Amanda Brumley purchased the 'ponies' for trainers to race. The Calcutta auction prior to the races pays the trainers 'buyer' a percentage of the money while the balance goes to the scholarship program. "As a show producer I always look for ways to raise money for the scholarships," comments Brumley. "Having food and entertainment is a win-win to raise funds for such a worthy cause, and a great group of people. We even broadcast it live over the internet via HorseShowGlobal.com. I have a new idea for next year that will leave everyone laughing with tears streaming down their faces." Lucchese Boots sponsored the Pony Pal

The intense anticipation of the Stakes and Derby divisions finally became satisfied when the Whizkey N Diamonds Non Pro 4 Year Old Stakes and Protect The Harvest Non Pro Derby presented 115 horses all vying for big paychecks, and amazing prizes. There were many lucky winners presenting stellar competition. Cade McCutcheon riding Custom Made Gun (Gunner x Custom Made Dunit) owned by McQuay Stables tied William Rhoads and Mega Maggie Mae (Magnum Chic Dream x Cinco De Mega) for the championship of the Level 4 Derby and paychecks of $6,441.70 each. Mandy McCutcheon rode Baileys Not Painted (Gunners Special Nite x Darlins Not Painted) and placed third in the Level 4 Derby and won the Level 4 Stakes a check for $10,982.48, a custom Silver Spurs trophy saddle sponsored by Scottsdale Western World, Gist Trophy buckle, SmartPak Finalist blanket bag and so much more. Cade was equally awarded with a Jim Taylor trophy saddle sponsored by Equine Oasis.

There were a few whopping winners in the Derby and Stakes Non Pro divisions. Nick Schmerral on his home bred Gold Digging Dunit (Pale Face Dunit x Dun It Reining) cumulative earnings came to $19,019.80 after he won the Level 1 and 2

Derby, placed fourth in the Level 4 Stakes, third in the Level 3 Stakes, and won the Level 1 and 2 Stakes divisions. Schmerral just took the reins of Gold Digging Dunit after he graduated college this year. His mother, Ginger, won approximately $60,000 on the horse at the 2016 NRHA Futurity and 2017 NRBC before giving him to her son. Michael Garnett on board Hollywood Nites (Gunners Special Nite x Dun It For Chex) and Tish Fappani riding her home bred Spooks N Jewels (Smart Spook x Whiz Jewels) went head to head both scoring 222 tying fourth in the Level 4 Derby, co-champions Level 3 Derby, tying reserve Level 4 Stakes, and once again co-champions Level 3 Stakes BOTH earning checks for $18,145.90. Also, Garnett was champion aboard Hollywood Nites and reserve in the Prime Time NP Derby, reserve on his second horse Snoop Around (Walla Walla Whiz x Sneaking Out Tonight). Garnett's horse Snoop Around was also 6th Level 4 Derby, third Level 3 Derby, earning an additional $5,702.06 driving Garnett's total High Roller earnings in these aged events to $23,847.96. Martin Muehls-taetter, Garnett's coach, stated that Garnett told him this was 'the best show he has ever had' and can't wait for next year!

The Whizkey N Diamonds 4 Year Old Open Stakes and Lucas Oil Open Derby received record entries with 142 to run. The competition was outrageously exciting. It took a minimum of a 222 to get a paycheck in the Level 4 Lucas Oil Open Derby and a 221 in the Whizkey N Diamonds 4

crowd. When the dust settled, a score of 230 grabbed the Level 4 Open Derby. Jordan Larson riding ARC Gun-nabeabigstar (Gunnatrashya x Wimpys Little Chic), the 2013 NRHA Futurity Level 4 Open Champion owned by HDC Quarter Horses, claimed the Level 4 Derby Championship and a paycheck of $16,465.13, a Bob's Custom Trophy Saddle, custom bronze trophy, and Gist trophy buckle. This year is the stallions last Derby year so this win was very gratifying for Larson. Thiago Boechat rode Ruf Lil Magnum (Magnum Chic Dream x Dunit A Lil Ruf) to a 223.50 to the championship in the Level 3 Derby and tied for seventh in the Level 4. Owned by Silver Spurs Equine, Ruf Lil Magnum took home a Bob's Custom Trophy Saddle, custom bronze and a check for $12,374.58. Boechat, head trainer at Xtra Quarter Horses in Purcell, Okla., was very pleased with his ride. "He (Ruf Lil Magnum) is a really nice horse. He is easy to maintain. I only got him this year and he is five, but was trained by some really talented trainers. I was Level 3 Open Derby Champion on him at the NRHA Derby and now here (at the High Roller). We are still getting to know each other but so far I am very pleased with him and looking forward to next year," notes Boechat. The next stop for this talented team is the AQHA World Show in November. When asked what he thought of the show overall, Boechat had lots of nice things to say. "This is by far the best show in the country. It is well organized and exhibitor friendly. We have a long drive coming from Oklahoma and the competition here is tough, so we have to make sure we bring the quality of horses that can bring home paychecks. This is definitely a show not to miss." Abby Lengel, the talented assistant trainer to Casey Deary, showed the pretty mare ARC Gunna Mark Ya (Gunnatrashya x Shiney Miss Marker) to the championship in the Level 2 Derby, tied for fifth in the Level 3 for owner Jody Puno. Lengel's accomplishment scored her a Bob's Custom Trophy Saddle, Gist Champion buckle and check for $7,134.50. Trent Harvey and Baileys Sidekick (Gunnars Special Nite x A Shining Sidekick) tied Colin Fitzpatrick riding Shiney Chexy Chic (Shine Chic Shine x TH Great Big Chex) for the Level 1 Derby and Level 1 Stakes Championships.

Those who were fortunate to compete in the Whizkey N Diamonds 4 Year Old Stakes and also cross entered into the Derby found it paid off BIG. Andrea Fappani riding Rancho Oso Rio's stunning bay stallion Ifwhizswereguns (Spooks Gotta Gun x Ifwhizsweredollars) won the Level 4 Stakes and was reserve in the Level 4 Derby receiving a Silver Spurs Custom Trophy Saddle sponsored by Scottsdale Western World and a paycheck of $24,658.66.

NRHA 4 million dollar rider, Andrea Fappani is a huge supporter of the Stakes programs. "I won $14,636.41 to win the Stakes and another $10,022.25 for reserve in the Derby, this really boosts these horses earnings as four year olds," states Fappani. "Also many 4 year olds are just not physically or mentally capable for being competitive against older horses. For those horses, the Stakes levels the playing field.” Eduardo Salgado marked a 222 to win the Level 3 Stakes aboard The Best Gunner (Gunner x Shiney Enterprise) for owner Ubere Agro Pecuaria. The lucky team also tied for seventh in the Level 4 Stakes, tied for reserve in the Level 3 Derby, and tied fourteenth in the Level 4 Derby. Salgado and The Best Gunner earned $14,522.18 for their efforts.

The competition ended with a huge Celebration of Champions and 10 Year Anniversary Party catered by the South Point Arena and Event Center. What no one expected was the food! Fresh, made to order sushi provided by Zenshin Sushi restaurant in the South Point hotel was a feature highlight and crowd favorite. “For our ten year anniversary I really wanted to do something different and unique. The catering managers at the South Point are so great to work with. They strive to fill my ‘out of the norm’ requests and always deliver,” producer Amanda Brumley states with a smile. “For the non-sushi lovers there was cheese and vegetable trays, mini beef wellingtons, pot stickers, chicken satay skewers and two full bars set up in and around our

The High Roller Reining Classic closed the year for BMG Events. The popular series of west coast reining competitions began with the Cactus Reining Classic, Scottsdale, Arizona in March, followed by the Wild Card Reining Challenge, Las Vegas in May, and the Reining by the Bay, Woodside, California in July. These events are all on the NRHA’s Top 15 list of worldwide events and are considered not to be missed. “I would like to thank our sponsors for their support of BMG Events, as without them, and our loyal exhibitors, these events would not exist. Rhodes River Ranch, Markel, Lucas Oil, Rancho Oso Rio, Tamarack Ranch, Xtra Quarter Horses, Silver Spurs Equine, South Point Arena and Equestrian Center, SmartPak, Bob’s Custom Saddles, Scottsdale Western World and Equine Oasis just to name a few. There are so many more I would like to mention, the list goes on and on,” notes Brumley. “It has been a blessing to be able to produce such premier events. We are very fortunate and thankful for the opportunity.”

West Coast Tradition Continues

ZANE DAVIS RIDES REYMAGEDON TO INAUGURAL OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP OF RENO SNAFFLE BIT FUTURITY

Reymagedon and Zane Davis were crowned the Open Futurity champions, and George Booney and Cori Shields made a clean sweep of the three Non Pro Futurity division championship titles at the inaugural Reno Snaffle Bit Futurity, presented by Lucas Oil and Protect The Harvest. The West Coast tradition of the reined cow horse sport continued Sept. 11-17, 2017 at the Reno-Sparks Livestock Event Center in Reno, Nev.

“The support for the inaugural Reno Snaffle Bit Futurity was unbelievable, and the feedback we’ve received has been resoundingly positive, with owners and competitors already excited for 2018,” said John Ward of Tulare, Calif., one of the founders of the Reno Snaffle Bit Futurity. “Thank you to all of the sponsors, vendors, competitors, owners, horse sale consigners and buyers, and reined cow horse fans who supported the futurity and made this year a success.”

Open Futurity Champions

As the Open Futurity Champions, Davis, of Shelley, Idaho, and Reymagedon (a stallion by Dual Rey and out of Savannah Hickory) won a $30,000 purse with a composite score of 658 (214 out of the herd, 218 in the rein work, and 226 down the fence), a saddle and breast collar made by Scottsdale Western, a buckle made by Skyline-Vaquero, a Custom Don Dodge Snaffle Bit donated by Greg Darnall Bits & Spurs, and Platinum Performance supplements and Lucas Oil Fast & Easy Detailing Kit.

Going into the fence work in the finals, Davis knew he’d have to mark a high score to win.

“This was Reymagedon’s first show. We chose to take him to Reno and Ft. Worth instead of the other futurities, and it was worth it,” he explained. “He’s always been good down the fence at home, so I knew we had a shot at a big score, and when that cow came out, he handled it very well, with a lot of poise and try.”

Reymagedon, owned by John Semanik of Jacksonville, Fla., is a full brother to Reymanator, who Davis also rode in the same Reno arena to win the National Reined Cow Horse Association (NRCHA) Snaffle Bit Futurity World Champion title in 2009.

“Both horses are very similar and were difficult to train, and it was very exciting to win in the same arena on the full brother to the 2009 champion, with the same owner. Winning the Reno Snaffle Bit Futurity is one of my favorite wins of all time,” shared Davis.

Daddys Checks (a mare by ImCountin Checks and out of Playguns Courage) and Lance Johnston of Lindsay, Calif., took home a $20,000 purse for their Open Futurity Reserve Championship title, and another $12,000 for winning the Intermediate Open Futurity division with a composite score of 656.50 (219.5 out the herd, 212 in the rein work, and a 225 down the fence). Todd & Chrissy Rogers of Bakersfield, Calif, own Daddys Checks.

In the Limited Open Futurity Division, Holly Marsh rode Master Pici (a mare by Smart Little Pepinic, out of Masters Miss Pici) into the winner’s circle, earning $7,500. Dann Russell of San Simeon, Calif, owns Master Pici. Marsh, from Gaviota, Calif., and Master Pici won with a composite score of 637 (208 out of the herd, 217.5 in the rein work, and 211.5 down the fence).

Johnston also dominated two of the Open Futurity divisions in the preliminaries, with the high composite score in the Open and Intermediate Open, riding Can You See Me Pops (a gelding by Cee Mr Hickory and out of Doin It Too) with a composite score of 654. The gelding’s owners, Monty and Carlee Miller of Springville, Calif., were presented with custom Chaz Mitchell hats at the Hall of Achievement Banquet on Thurs., Sept. 14.

Scott Seeklander of Milton Freewater, Ore., and his horse, VSR Rewind, were the preliminary leaders in the Limited Open Futurity division with a composite score of 638, and were also awarded a custom Chaz Mitchell hat at the Hall of Achievement Banquet. VSR Rewind is a gelding by Very Smart Remedy and out of Jewels Stormy Star.

Non Pro Futurity Champions

George Booney (a gelding by Pretty Boy Boon and out of DrivinMs Ruby) and Shields took home three saddles, three buckles, and a combined total of $14,700 for winning the championships of all three Non Pro Futurity divisions: a $10,000 purse in the Non Pro, $2,100 in the Intermediate Non Pro, and $2,600 in the Amateur. George Booney and Shields won with a composite score of 636 (213.5 out of the herd, 207.5 in the rein work, and 215 down the fence).

Shields also won the Ladies High-Point buckle, sponsored by Meinhold Property Services, for having the highest preliminary score out of both the Open and Non Pro Futurity female competitors.

A Total Rock Star and Laura Osborne Campbell from Clovis, Calif., won the Non Pro Limited Futurity Championship title and a check for $2,500. Owned by Campbell, A Total Rock Star is a mare by That CD Rocks and out of Spats Lil Spitfire. The pair had a composite score of 616.5 (203 out of the herd, 203.5 in the rein work, and 210 in the boxing).

Youth Scholarships

Over $10,000 in scholarship monies was paid out to the top Youth Bridle and Youth Limited competitors at the Reno Snaffle Bit Futurity. Pierce Wold, riding Real Smooth Cat (a 2009 stallion by Smooth As A Cat and out of Real Plain Jane), received $3,000 in scholarship monies for his Youth Bridle Championship win on Thursday, Sept. 14.

In the Youth Limited on Sunday, Sept. 17, Emery Pura and Smart Teena Cash (a 2009 mare by Very Smart Remedy and out of Teena Cash Flo) won $1,500 in scholarship monies for their winning run.

Other youth scholarship recipients included: Lauren Hopkins, riding Circles Nu Galaxy in the Youth Bridle ($2,000); Maycn McCullough, riding Haida Whiz in the Youth Limited ($1,250); Mead Gerfen, riding Little Flo Lena in the Youth Limited ($1,000); Lilly Lizama, riding Gotta Plan in the Youth Limited ($750); and Mason Beal, riding UnosSmokin Chic in the Youth Limited ($500).

Open Hackamore & Open Bridle Champions

Ted Robinson, from Oak View, Calif., and CD Sparkin won the Open Hackamore Champion title during the finals held on Thursday, Sept. 14 with a composite score of 440, and took home a check for $5,040. CD Sparkin, owned by Nikki Jump of Ventura, Calif., is a 2013 gelding by CD Lights and out of GypsyStarshine. In honor of the late Benny Guitron, a talented horseman known as the master with a hackamore and the first Snaffle Bit Futurity Champion on Kit's Smoke when the event moved to Reno in 1976, Robinson was presented with the perpetual Benny Guitron Open Hackamore Memorial Trophy at the Hall of Achievement Banquet. Friends of Benny Guitron donated the bust of a hackamore horse.

Davis and Rubys Radar won the Open Bridle Championship title in the final round on Friday, Sept. 15. Rubys Radar is a 2010 stallion by One Time Pepto and out of Ruby Bagonia, and owned by C Ranches. With a composite score of 451, the duo added $4,500 to the stallion's lifetime earnings.

2017 Lifetime Achievement Award Recipient: Bobby Ingersoll

In conjunction with the inaugural Renos Snaffle Bit Futurity, the legendary Bobby Ingersoll was presented with a Lifetime Achievement Award during the futurity's Hall of Achievement Banquet, held Sept. 14 at the Silver Legacy in Reno, Nev. Ingersoll, a legendary horseman, is the founder of the reined cow horse futurity, and was honored and humbled to be recognized for his lifelong dedication to the reined cow horse sport and ensuring the continued tradition of the West Coast's Spanish Vaquero. Ingersoll and fellow trainer, Les Vogt, split the first Snaffle Bit Futurity Championship in 1970, and since then, he has shown at the Snaffle Bit Futurity a total of 43 years and won the Open Futurity Championship title three times.

The 2nd annual Reno Snaffle Bit Futurity and Reno Snaffle Bit Sale is scheduled for Sept. 10-16, 2018 at the Reno-Sparks Livestock Event Center in Reno, Nev. Updates for the 2018 show will be posted at www.renosnafflebitfuturity.com.

JAKE GORRELL WINS NRCHA SNAFFLE BIT FUTURITY ON PLAIN CATTY

Persistence pays off in the quest for Futurity gold

What a year for National Reined Cow Horse Association Professional Jake Gorrell, of Hanford, California. He achieved Million Dollar Rider status in August, and then rocked the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Open Finals fence work in Fort Worth, Texas, on Saturday, October 14, scoring a stupendous 225 to clinch his first Snaffle Bit Futurity Open Championship with a composite score of 657.5 (214.5 herd/218 rein/225 fence) on Plain Catty.

Gorrell knew he had a finals-type of horse if he could get him shown right. “I never know what it takes to win it. It’s persistence, consistency and trying to stay in the game. Usually if I can get to the fence work okay - because that’s probably my better event - then I kind of have a shot sometimes,” Gorrell said.

Gorrell and Plain Catty, nicknamed “Sparky,” had shown in the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Intermediate finals on Thursday, where they tied for third place to earn $12,000. With the hectic schedule, Gorrell let the stallion recuperate on Friday so that he’d be ready for the Open herd work Saturday morning.

“He was a little fresh,” said Gorrell who’d been expecting Plain Catty to be tired. “He was a little more horse than I thought at first, but then he chilled back down.”

Gorrell and Plain Catty marked a 214.5 in the herd work which was won with a 221 by Myles Brown and Miss Scarlets Cat (Metallic Cat x Bee Miss Scarlet x Lenas Busy Bee).

“I’d hoped to do better, because without having to go make 225’s (in the fence work), you’ve got to be better than a 14,” Gorrell said of his score. “I was kind of bummed about it, but it was all right, so I thought that I’d keep going at it to see how high up the ladder we could get.”

In the reining, which was won by Bet Hes Black and Davis with a 223, Plain Catty used his signature stops and good circles to mark a 218. While that run put them back into contention for the top spot, Gorrell still knew that he’d have to score big in the cow work if he wanted the win. But he also knew that trying to force the run wouldn’t work out.

“When the cow came out, he was a lot of cow,” Gorrell said. “He was coming at me and he was not an easy cow to read. I kept trying to settle him down and I was even telling him, ‘easy, easy, settle down’. I never really got the feel on him like I would on a normal cow, but I wasn’t going to get it so I thought, ‘let’s go, let’s see what happens’ and man, he took the turns on the fence great.”

After the first turn, Gorrell knew he had a shot at getting a big score but then, after his second turn, he questioned if he should make another one or go circle. “I had a bit of hesitation and then I thought, ‘screw it, let’s just go’,” said Gorrell who went on to mark the highest cow work score of the night, a 225. “I turned him loose, and it worked.”

Plain Catty (Bet Hesa Cat x Miss Plain Plain x Just Plain Colonel) was ridden throughout his two-year-old year by Mark Luis. He was put through last year’s NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Sale but was then taken home again by his breeder/owner Kevin Cantrelle. The colt went to Gorrell after that.

“He’s a rancher, he’s a horseman, he’s got a really good eye for a horse and he’s got really good horses,” Gorrell said of Cantrelle. “He’s got a knack at having nice horses. And Mark did an awesome job with this horse. He’s the brokest two-year-old I’ve ever had, so he was easy. I just kept stepping him up a little bit all the time.”

For Gorrell, who is sponsored by LMF Horse Feeds, Eagle Valley Animal Bedding and Stray Dog Saddles, this win belongs to his wife Sonia, as much as it does him. “My wife is beautiful and she’s wonderful. She’s worked her butt off here for me this last couple of days. It’s been a chaotic three years for us, personally and business-wise. We put our heads down and struggled through it, and this will give us a little relief.”

Besides the $125,000 paycheck, Gorrell and Plain Catty claimed a Sean Ryon Custom Saddle sponsored by Matthews Cutting Horses, an original CR Morrison Bronze sponsored by the NRCHA, a Catena USA Watch, a Gist buckle sponsored by Mike and Kelly Warner/The Final Cut Ranch, a 100x hat from JW Brooks Custom Hats by the Lattas, boots from Rios of Mercedes, a gift certificate from CR RanchWear, a cooler from Classic Equine, a CINCH jacket, product from Platinum Performance, and five gallons of Ultra Cruz foaming shampoo from San Juan Ranch/Santa Cruz Animal Health.

The reserve champion, Bet Hes Black (Bet Hesa Cat x Soula Jule Forever x Sola Jule Star), battled a minor illness during the preliminary rounds at the Snaffle Bit Futurity. Trainer Zane Davis felt that the stallion didn’t return to his usual form until mid-way through the herd work finals.

“I knew if I could get him back that I’d have a chance to win,” said Davis, “so I am extremely happy with this.”

Bet Hes Black has been in Davis’s training program since he was a yearling, when owner Billie Filippini’s son, Johnny, picked him out at the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Select Yearling Sale. “He came and asked how much he should pay for the horse, and I said, ‘Don’t bid over 15 thousand’ and he bought him for 50 so I’m glad he didn’t listen to me,” Davis said. “This is a special horse. From the time we got him you could tell he was going to be a champion. He always looked the part, he could do everything and when he steps in the arena everyone knows who he is - it’s unusual for a horse to have that much presence. He’s got athletic ability and try and everything else you need.”

Shiners Diamond Cat and Justin Wright win the fence work go-round with a 227 and have the high prelim composite score, a 669.5

The National Reined Cow Horse Association Snaffle Bit Futurity Open preliminaries are complete in Fort Worth, Texas. The top 25 horses of the nearly 230 who competed in the preliminaries will advance to the clean slate finals and a chance at the $125,000 top prize on Saturday, October 14, in the historic Will Rogers Coliseum.

Snaffle Bit Futurity history may have been made when California professional Justin Wright piloted Shiners Diamond Cat (WR This Cats Smart x Shiners Diamond Lady x Shining Spark) to a scorching 669.5 composite in the prelims - the highest total Futurity preliminary score since 2000, and likely in the event's history. First, the sorrel mare scored a 220.5 in the rein work. Then, she tied for the high score in the herd work with Opus Cat Olena (WR This Cats Smart x Opus Chic x Smart Chic Olena), shown by Clay Volmer - both with a 222. Then, Shiners Diamond Cat made the fence work look easy, scoring a phenomenal 227, winning the go-round and sealing the bionic composite score.

In the Futurity Open, it took a 646 an above to qualify for the finals. CINCH Intermediate Open riders needed at least a 641 to advance, and 19 riders would compete for the $30,000 top prize on Thursday, October 12. The Limited Open finals were also held on Thursday, and 11 advanced, with the bubble for that division at a 631.

Wright and Volmer Tie for high Herd Work score in Prelims

Horses and riders in the Futurity Open divisions completed the second leg of preliminary competition, the herd work, on Sunday, October 8. Two offspring of NRCHA Million Dollar Sire WR This Cats Smart earned identical 222 scores to share the win in the herd work preliminaries. On Friday, California professional Justin Wright guided Shiners Diamond Cat (WR This Cats Smart x Shiners Diamond Lady x Shining Spark), owned by Mike and James Draper, to that score.

The other 222 came on Saturday, from Opus Cat Olena (WR This Cats Smart x Opus Chic x Smart Chic Olena), shown by Texas horseman Clay Volmer for owner Jecca Ostrander.

Metallic Rays, shown by Ricky Nicolazzi wins Rein Work Prelims

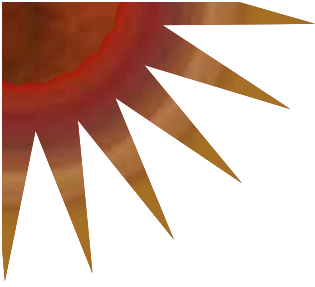

Snaffle Bit Futurity Open rein work preliminaries wrapped up Thursday, October 5, at the Will Rogers Equestrian Center in Fort Worth, Texas. The high score in the Open and Intermediate Open, a 223.5, belonged to Metallic Rays (Metallic Cat x Margaret Rey x Dual Rey), a stallion shown by NRCHA Professional Ricky Nicolazzi, of Scottsdale, Arizona. Tammy Jo Hays collected her third NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Non Pro Championship when she marked a composite score of 650 on Hat Six Keep Sparkin to win $20,359.

As the second to last rider out in the cow work of the 17 Non Pro finalists, Hays had to give it everything she had to get by the eventual reserve champion, Laurie Richards, who had a composite score of 649.5. Richards and her mount Glitter N Glam won $12,528 for being second.

Having watched the cattle and seeing that they had a lot of gas, Hays and her trainer/husband Shawn Hays, developed a tactical plan that involved holding the cow at the end of the pen in the boxing, so that her gelding wouldn't run out of air once they got going down the fence.

"That went according to plan," said Hays whose 221 in the cow work was the highest score of the night. "The cow set up around the corner good for me. It was just a really good cow-it read right. When I made that first turn, I'd been really schooling him hard on coming clear around in that turn and I'd almost over-schooled him to where he stalled out for a second but after that, he never got away from that cow, he stayed with it the whole time. After that second turn and we started circling, I was just along for the ride."

In the herd work that morning, Hays and "Tater" had a 212 to finish in the top five. Their run didn't get off to the best start when Hat Six Keep Sparkin didn't hook up with the cow as well as Hays would have liked. On their next two cows, the big gelding was tied in tight.

"I'm so delighted with him because from that second cow on, he did everything according to plan for me," said Hays who went on to be second in the reining with a 217. "He warmed up really, really good for the reining and then executed it for me. I couldn't ask him to be better all the way through."

Earlier in the year, Hat Six Keep Sparkin (Dual Spark x Hat Six Little Paws x Peptos Stylish Oak), who was bred by Hays's parents Walter and Jocelyn Greeman, wasn't one of her favorite horses. He finally earned her affection a few weeks prior to the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity.

"He was kind of heavy and he was hard for me to ride because he pulled too hard. My husband, Shawn, rode him a bunch for me and then Robert Smith came to work for us in May, and when Shawn didn't have much time because he had his horses to get ready, Robert took him over and got him over some humps for me," Hays said. "When I got back on him I liked him a lot better. Through the summer, Shawn rode him down the fence and got him more solid and working to the point where I could get on and do some of the work myself."

It was at the Southwest RCHA Pre-Futurity in Fort Worth, which Hays won, that she really started to like Hat Six Keep Sparkin.

"He just started being with me and we started having runs like that down the fence," Hays recalled. "I told my husband, 'I think he might be the better horse.'" Hays was the Non Pro Snaffle Bit Futurity champion in 2013 and 2014. She says that none of her wins would have been possible without Shawn.

"He's always there supporting me and nobody roots louder for me. I can't do this without him."

LANHAM BROWN WRAPS UP INTERMEDIATE AND NOVICE NON PRO FUTURITY CHAMPIONSHIPS ON THIS SHINEY MISS

Lanham Brown had to overcome a tragedy to be triumphant at the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity, but with a little help from his friends, that's exactly what the second year competitor did. Riding This Shiney Miss, a horse that was gifted to him by Wagonhound Land And Livestock, Brown marked a composite score of 638.5 to be the Intermediate Non Pro Champion, the Novice Non Pro Champion and place third in the Non Pro for check amounting to $23,103.

"It's a great accomplishment. It's something that I've looked forward to all year although it's the journey, of training her throughout, that I've enjoyed the most. I'm really proud of this mare," Brown said.

The journey for Brown and This Shiney Miss (WR This Cats Smart x Shiney Miss Hickory x Shining Spark), who was worked as a 2-year-old by Matt Koch and Matt Frederick, began a year ago when he got a call from Wagonhound Land And Livestock in Douglas, Wyoming. "I'd gone up to Wagonhound and helped brand last summer," Brown said. "They called me after I lost a mare that I showed at the Snaffle Bit last year and said, we hate to hear it but if you come pick this mare up, we'll give her to you. I can't thank Wagonhound enough for their support and generosity."

Brown and This Shiney Miss marked scores of 209 in the reining, 218 in the reining and 211 in the cow work. It's the mare's grit that Brown likes most about her.

"The heart that she showed is what I liked most about her here. It's been a long week and she never gave up on me. When they're in these little stalls and walking around on concrete, it's easy for them to get tired but she stayed strong and with me the whole time," Brown said. "This mare reins around real good and I think she's got a lot of upside that we haven't got to yet. We'll give her a little time off, let her get strong and I think she'll come back even better."

Brown attends Texas Tech and is involved in his family's ranching business. He and his cousin, Myles Brown, who won the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Level 1 Limited Open and the Limited Open championships, both started competing in reined cow horse at the same time. "We point out each others faults quite well but we're also each others biggest supporters. We work with each other and try to help each other out when we can. We're both really green but we've both been blessed with some really good horses," Lanham said.

Lanham thanked his parents, Donnell and Kelli Brown, for their support as well as all the trainers, including Matt Koch, who have helped him learn about training cow horses.

Bret Paulick was the reserve champion of both the Intermediate and Novice Non Pro Snaffle Bit classes. He rode Smart Smoken Remedy (Very Smart Remedy x Miss Slic Smoke x Chic N San) to a composite score of 636 to win checks worth $6,111 and $2,348.

The NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Amateur in Fort Worth Texas came to a conclusion when Abbie Phillips and Special High Brow marked a composite score of 646 in the preliminaries to win the championship and $5,451. This was the first time that the former rodeo competitor has competed at the Snaffle Bit Futurity.

“I’m super excited,” Phillips said of the win. “I have a lot of goals and this is one that I can check off my list.”

In the reining portion of the run, it was the mare’s attitude that impressed Phillips most. “She’s really pure and good-minded so I don’t have to worry about anything in the reining,” Phillips said. “She stays on pattern all the time for me and is just a good mare.”

Phillips was nervous going in to the cow work, but the mare stood up and took care of her. “She stayed with the cow. I didn’t have to put her in any position, she just did it herself,” Phillips said.

Special High Brow (High Brow CD x PG Special Edition x Playgun) was initially bought for a client of Abbie’s husband, NRCHA Professional Kelby Phillips. When she didn’t mature into an Open horse, the Phillips bought her for Abbie. Kelby trained the mare throughout her 2-year-old year but then handed her to his wife to finish off this year.

“It’s been really fun and I’ve learned a lot but it’s been good,” Phillips said. “She has a great attitude and has been very easy to get along with which makes everything easy for me.”

Phillips, Scottsdale, Arizona, has been competing in the NRCHA for two years and has enjoyed furthering her horsemanship. Prior to that, she team roped and ran barrels.

“In this, the horses are a lot more broke and they teach you to ride a lot better,” said Phillips, who pleased that she entered the Snaffle Bit this year. “I had a bridle horse that took care of me, so doing this, I knew that I had to ride better and be able to help them out a little bit more so learning to do this has been exciting.”

Pete Rogan, who is believed to be the first Australian to compete in the Snaffle Bit Futurity Amateur, and Shirley Shiny (Very Smart Remedy x Shirley Shine x Shining Spark) picked up $4,266 for being the reserve champions. They marked a 641.5.

KATHERINE PETERSON RIDES DUALY JUDGED TO WIN SNAFFLE BIT NON PRO LIMITED FUTURITY CHAMPIONSHIP

Katie Peterson can't put in to words what it feels like to be 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Non Pro Limited Champion, but it's a feeling that she hopes will stay with her for a long time. Riding Dually Judged, Peterson had a composite score of 624.5 to take home $2,816 for the win.

Peterson works in inventory for Tractor Supply. This was just her first year to show cow horses and her second time to show Dually Judged.

"It's the allure of it," Peterson said of why she took up the sport. "I love going fast, I like the cattle aspect and I like the horsemanship that's involved. It's something that I've always really wanted to get into."

Peterson was nearly ready to quit riding horses altogether when her gelding of 13 years died of a heart attack. After giving herself a pep talk, she got online and found Dually Judged.

"I saw a headshot of this horse and I don't even normally like the red-roans but he looked exactly like my previous horse. From that moment on, it's been about him," Peterson said. Dually Judged (Judge Boon x Cattys Dual Jazz x Dual Jazz) was two at the time, and Peterson had her friend Brent Callahan get the gelding ranch broke and going throughout that year. Over the past year, she has turned to Chris Dawson and Carter Metcalf for help. It was the fact that Dually Judged was so good, that made her want to show at the Snaffle Bit.

"Everyone kept saying that he could be a good one," Peterson said. In Fort Worth, all Peterson wanted to do in the reining was to get a score and hope for the best. "I get nervous with the lead changes and he just switched, it was easy," Peterson said. "Carter and Chris have done an awesome job with getting me to calm down and go with it. The entire time I rode him like I stole him."

Once she got on a cow, the showmanship aspect became easier. "He's good with anything cow. With him it's just the rider staying in the buggy and holding on," Peterson said. "He's such a good horse and we've used him out in the pasture with cattle too which has made me more confident. Dealing with wild heifers and separating them from their babies made me think that I could do this."

Peterson lives in Krum, Texas with reiners Nancy and Kenny Eppers. The hardest thing she's had to do to become competitive in the cow horse business, is to break all of her previously acquired bad habits.

"I've been riding for 15 years and done an array of disciplines from show jumping, dressage and saddle seat to team penning and sorting. It's hard to put all that aside and do this," said Peterson, who believes that she's found her forever sport.

Nicole Westfall rode On Line Chic Flick (Shine On Line x Chics Sompen x Smart Chic Olena) to the reserve championship for having a score of 617.5. She earned $2,346.

SARAH DAWSON RIDES SHINEY OUTLAW TO CLAIM OPEN HACKAMORE CHAMPIONSHIP

Marking huge scores of 222.5 in the reining and 225.5 in the cow work on Shiney Outlaw, Sarah Dawson took home the Open Hackamore title from the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Horse Show and a check worth $8,120.

“He’s a great little horse. He’s easy to show. He’s pretty much always good in the rein work and it’s just drawing a cow that can let him go score big enough because he’s huge down the fence,” Dawson said. “It all fell in to place to-night. He was spot on in the reining and he drew a good cow and it just worked.”

Throughout the reining, Dawson could feel just how good the horse was so her score didn’t surprise her one bit. “He felt like he was being good and he didn’t miss anything so I knew that they were going to like him,” Dawson said of the stallion. “He’s a huge stopper. You can’t get him to not stop. You say whoa and he slides for miles and he does it every single time-you can’t teach one to do that, they just do it or they don’t.”

During the cow work, Shiney Outlaw (Shiners Nickle x Mereyada), owned by Michelle Cannon, didn’t disappoint and neither did the cow. “That cow was good all the way through. He didn’t really take a wrong step in the boxing,” Dawson said. “He honored my horse and gave us a good feel when he came out of the gate. Then he ran down the fence nice until he threw us a little dirty in that first turn but Outlaw just gathered himself up and went and got it.”

Shiney Outlaw, 5, was originally trained by Zane Davis. At 3, that duo made the Snaffle Bit Futurity Open finals together but had to scratch due to an injury that was sustained during competition. “Zane did a great job training him because you can just step on him and go,” Dawson said. “He’s a real good horse and good minded.”

The reserve champion, Cashed My CD (CD Lights x Shiney Sushi x Shining Spark) owned by Aaron Ranch and ridden by Jay McLaughlin, marked a 447 to win $6,496.

Brad Lund Guides Ima Smart Catt to CINCH Intermediate Open Futurity Championship

Life may be about the journey, but sometimes one stop along the way will eclipse all others. That’s what happened last night in Fort Worth for National Reined Cow Horse Association Professional Brad Lund and the 3-year-old mare, Ima Smart Catt, when they won the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity CINCH Intermediate Open Championship. Their composite score of 652 in the three events of herd work, rein work, and cow work, earned them $30,000.

“This is unbelievable, but it really is about the journey. You start them as 2-year-olds and you really get to know them, and this mare, she’s just got a big heart,” said Lund, La Cygne, Kansas. “I’m real fortunate that I’ve had good horses all year and good help all year and very good owners.”

Ima Smart Catt (WR This Cats Smart x Shiney Patrona x Shining Spark) is owned by Renee Cudd. This is the first reined cow horse that she has ever owned. “I’m so excited I don’t know what to say. She’s a true athlete - she can do it all,” Cudd said. “My friend Ty Smith and Brad found this horse, so I bought it for Brad to show.”

Cudd runs one hundred broodmares and eight stallions at her ranch in Woodward, Oklahoma, where she raises between 70 and 80 foals per year. For the past 35 years, Cudd has held an annual production sale. Cudd has always admired reined cow horses but was never been to watch the Snaffle Bit Futurity. In fact she’d never laid eyes on Ima Smart Catt until she’d owned her for 18 months.

“I raise a lot of roping horses and barrel horses and horses for everyday use, but this is the first horse like this that I’ve owned,” Cudd said. “I know people spend years trying to get one to the finals and for us to do that, and then to win it, there aren’t words to describe it. She’s also in the Open finals on Saturday so we’re not done yet.”

Lund and Ima Smart Catt got their Intermediate Snaffle Bit Futurity finals off to a good start when they marked a 216 in the herd work.

“The cows were waspy. We tried to get the cows drove up and out of the herd real good because usually, if she gets started right, then she’s real good. We got started in pretty much in the middle and she got settled in and got to moving good,” Lund said.

In the reining, the pair marked a 220.5 which surprised Lund, until he saw a video replay of his run. “When I was out there doing it, I felt like she wasn’t really stopping, and then I came back and watched the videos and she slid forever and I was just sitting there enjoying it,” Lund said. “When I saw it, I was really happy with the way she stopped.”

A 215.5 in the cow work capped off Lund’s and Ima Smart Catt’s championship run. “She boxed the cow real good but that cow was real numbing, he didn’t have a good feel about him so I wanted to drive around there. Normally I would have went one turn earlier but I went one more time and it worked out.”

Lund, 49, has claimed the reserve championship once before in the Intermediate Snaffle Bit Futurity.

“I struggled there for a little bit, getting the right horse power. I’ve been trying to learn how to do this and get better for about ten years, and it’s a struggle, it’s a grind every day,” said Lund who is mentored by two-time Worlds Greatest Horseman champion Ron Ralls. “Ron took me under his wing and has been teaching me. I grew up roping and learning how to be a better horseman and now, here I am.”

Clayton Edsall rode Bet He Sparks (Bet Hesa Cat x Sparking Train x Shining Spark) for owner K&L Phillips, LLC, to a score of 651.5 to be the reserve champions of the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Intermediate Open. They earned $20,000.

Myles Brown Wraps Up Limited Open Futurity Title on Miss Scarlets Cat

Something a lot like real good - that's how Myles Brown described winning his second championship at the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity. Riding Miss Scarlets Cat, Brown marked a 645.5 to win the Limited Open and $15,514. This win came just two days after the duo won the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Level 1 Limited Open and $8,520 with a composite score of 651.

"It was fun," Brown said. "I was real happy with my horse. She was real good." The pair started their finals in top form by marking the high score in the herd with a 218."I tried to do my job of cutting the cattle clean and in the middle of the pen. She read that cow so good and I thought I did a better job of staying relaxed, leaving my hand on her neck for the most part, and just letting her read that cow," said Brown who was helped by Boyd Rice, Robbie Boyce, Todd Crawford and Ty Brown. "They're the best help, bar none."

Brown marked a 207 in the reining but blames himself for mistakes that lowered his score. "The mare was good. I wasn't quite on point. She ran and stopped and drug her rear end."

In the cow work, the pair shone with a 220.5. "We were ready to go get them. I know this mare and she can be huge- she can run, she can stop and she can turn. She's quick-footed and she's got a lot of wind, she can run for a long time for a little horse. The first turn was okay, we went and open-fielded that cow for the left turn and she was tight and then we got a right turn open field and she was good and then when we circled, she was unbelievable," Brown said. "Down the fence, this mare never hardly misses. She's on point 100% every time and that's why we love her."

Stepping up in to open competition caused Brown to suffer some nerves."To come to town with a horse that you know is that good, puts pressure on you because you know if something goes wrong, that it's your fault," Brown said. "I knew I had a real good shot to make the Open finals so I'm happy I did that and I'm proud of winning Level 1, it's a cool deal, but the thing with cow horses is that they'll humble you real quick."

Brown, 23, knew that Miss Scarlets Cat (Metallic Cat x Bee Miss Scarlet) was a good horse from the time he first saw her as a yearling at breeder Brenda Michael's place in Amarillo, Texas. "Brenda told me that she was going to be a good horse and she's been good ever since. She was a Metallic Cat so I figured we'd try it," said Brown who has looked to mentors Jordan Williams, Kyle Trahern and Boyd Rice throughout the training process. "There's been a bunch of people who've helped me with this."

Brown, Stinnett, Texas, raises cattle and horses on his family's ranches in the Texas Panhandle. He became interested in cow horses four years ago and has been showing for three years. Last year he competed in the Snaffle Bit Futurity Non Pro in Reno, Nevada.

A score of 641 resulted in a tie for the reserve championship which paid $11,247 to each horse. They were Metallic Chrome Cat (Metallic Cat x Teletrona x Little Trona) owned by Kirk Johnston and ridden by Clay Volmer and, Unos Blue Lightning (Uno What Time It Is x Miss Vibrant Chex x Nu Chex To Cash) owned by Julie Gibbons and ridden by Dustin Mills. Reserve champion in the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Level 1 Limited Open was Sinful Merada (Cats Merada x Sinful Style) owned by Cowan Select Horses, LLC, and ridden by Matt Turner who marked a 638 to win $6,390.

AMY BAILEY AND CALLME MISTER MISTER GALLOP AWAY WITH NON PRO BRIDLE CHAMPIONSHIP

Amy Bailey had never shown a horse at the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Horse Show before, but she came to Fort Worth firing on all cylinders. Bailey marked a 291.5 on her gelding Callme Mister Mister (Mister Dual Pep x Travelin With Sass x Travalena) to win the Non Pro Bridle and $3,792.

“I’m very excited about it,” said Bailey, “I never went to Reno (where the show used to be held) because I couldn’t justify making such a long trip for just one class. It was that, and it is so close the AQHA Worlds that it made it hard.”

Bailey, Sparta, Tennessee, leaves her horse with trainer Robert Chown, Gainesville, Texas, year-round and describes herself as Callme Mister Mister’s catch-rider. “His heart is what makes him special,” Bailey said of the gelding that gets called Hiram in the barn, after Hank Williams Senior’s real name. “He tries so hard and will not quit. He can read the cow better than I can. Today I was just a monkey on his back. He is so physical in his turns and working and at times he’s hard for a non pro to ride because he could be an Open level horse.”

Prior to the horse show, Bailey worked at improving her competitiveness in the reining. “My large fast circles were much improved because a lot of times I won’t go fast enough. On my run down to the stops, we were very aggressive today. Here at the show Robert has let me practice hard and go hard because I don’t get to ride every day,” said Bailey, who works at her family business, Charles Bailey Trucking. “I work in an office setting and am sitting down at a desk every day, but I try to get to the shows three to four days before I show so I can practice. I’d like to thank Robert because he is dedicated to these horses and to making them fit me and be the best they can on show day.”

Bailey and Callme Mister Mister won the 2014 NRCHA Non Pro Hackamore World Championship at the Celebration of Champions, which is held in Fort Worth each February. She has enjoyed returning to Cowtown for the Snaffle Bit Horse Show. “There are plenty of riding areas here to exercise your horse and warm up,” Bailey said. “I like showing here because you don’t have to qualify for the show so anyone can enter, but what I really like is that the main focus here is the Snaffle Bit Futurity so there’s less pressure on you at the Horse Show. I’d recommend that everyone come show here.”

Bailey’s husband, Paul Bailey, was on hand to see his wife win. “I want to thank him because he pushes me and pushes me to excel and to succeed,” Amy said.

Terra Micek marked a 291 to be the reserve champion in Non Pro Bridle on Nic N Chics (Nic It In The Bud x Desire A Chic x Smart Chic Olena). They scored a 291, winning $3,033 for their efforts.

CJ SHOPBELL PILOTS SHES PLAYIN REY TO OPEN BRIDLE CHAMPIONSHIP

Shes Playin Rey and CJ Shopbell made it two for two in the Open Bridle at NRCHA Premier Events in Fort Worth when they marked a 238 to win that class and $6,440. Back in February, the pair had won the same class at the NRCHA Celebration of Champions.

“This is exciting. She felt pretty with me. She’d been at home (at the owner’s Gregg Lafitte’s place since the NRCHA Celebration of Champions) so I didn’t know what she’d be like,” Shopbell said. “We ended up entering her late a couple of days before the prelims and decided to try it and it worked out.”

During her reining run in the finals, the mare showed off her powerful stop.

“She stopped huge,” Shopbell said. “She felt really good in her circles and was with me.”

Shopbell knew he needed a big score down the fence get the win and didn’t hesitate to let Shes Playin Rey (TR Dual Rey x Playin Acre x Playin Stylish) go.

“I felt like I got past the center on her the first turn. She stepped by it and was a little bit long feeling but when I picked up on her, she gathered herself back up and came through there and then went and gathered that cow up and we swapped sides after the left turn and circled up,” recalled Shopbell. “I didn’t know if we were going to get there on the second set of circles by golly, she got me there. In the fence work, I’m most proud of her circling. She is always been a great circler, you can throw the reins to her and go to spurring and she’s going to get you there.”

Randy Paul rode Lenaliltothewright (Leas Wright On x Shining Survivor x Shining Spark) to a score of 437.5 for owner Linda Katz to be the reserve champion. They earned $5,152.

Sarah Dawson Guides Shine Smarter to Hackamore Classic Open Championship

Marking a composite score of 442 and riding Shine Smarter, Sarah Dawson claimed her first Hackamore Classic Open championship and a check worth $14,562.

“I feel like I’m out here amongst my heroes,” Dawson said after the win. “For that mare to shine like she did, and especially because she’s five and this is her last big derby, to go out with a win like this, is very special.”

Shine Smarter (WR This Cats Smart x Shiny Tari x Shining Spark) has been in training with Dawson from the get-go. She first caught Dawson’s eye as yearling when she was making big moves in breeder Carol Rose’s round pen. Earlier this year the mare was purchased by her current owner, Linda Mars, from Dawson’s parents Cheryl and Richard Winters.

“We’ve been through a lot together,” Dawson said of Shine Smarter. “She was my first great horse. She was the first horse I made the open finals on at the Snaffle Bit and the first horse that I made open finals on at the derbies, so she’s been a very special horse for me.”

Shine Smarter marked a 148 in the herd work to share second place with two others.

“She was great in the herd. I was very happy with her. She cut three good cows and went out and did her job and I did mine and it all worked out,” Dawson said.

Their 146 in the reining had them amongst the top ten.

“That mare can really run down and stop and she did that great, you can’t hardly get her to not stop,” Dawson said. “She turned pretty good too. She’s pretty solid in the reining and if you have her mentally with you, she’ll go be good.”

A 148, the second highest score marked in the cow work, sealed the win.

“She’s a fence horse. She’s an extremely cowy and smart horse,” Dawson said. “We got two good turns each way and went and circled up in the middle. She answered me everywhere and never lost working advantage with that cow. She was exceptional.”

Dawson has enjoyed showing at the Hackamore Classic in Fort Worth.

“The Will Rogers has so much history, especially with the cutting, so for us to be in Fort Worth and to show in that pen is pretty cool,” Dawson said.

Dawson’s composite score was two points ahead of reserve champions Peptosboonshakalaca (Peptoboonsmal x Arosesuchaclatter x Smooth As A Cat) and Cayley Wilson who marked a 440 to win $11,201. The Canadian duo also claimed the Intermediate Hackamore Classic Open championship.

Hackamore Classic Intermediate Open Champion is Cayley Wilson on Peptosboonshakalaca

Cayley Wilson hopes the exchange rate will work in his favor when he heads back up to British Columbia at the conclusion of the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity where he won big at the Hackamore Classic. Marking a 440 on Peptosboonshakalaca, owned by Jenta Madsen, Wilson won the Intermediate Open Hackamore Classic and $3,431 and was the reserve champion in the Hackamore Classic Open which was worth $11,201.

“It’s a very exciting win. We go to a lot of these shows and there’s a very good group of horses here so I’m tickled to be able to compete at this level against some really great horses,” Wilson said.

In the herd work, Wilson felt that Peptosboonshakalaca was ‘comfortable’ when he marked a 148 to have the second highest score. “It felt like I cut soft cows but everything worked out nice and he had a good look,” Wilson said. “My help, Todd Bergen, Boyd Rice, John Swales and Mark Luis, were amazing and I wouldn’t have been able to get it done without them.”

In the reining, being tidy and clean delivered a score of 146.5 to be second. “Before I got in the arena I thought the ground was going to be tougher to stop in but he handled it really well and it was a tidy little reining run,” Wilson said.

A gentle cow made wowing in the cow work hard to do but Wilson got the job done to mark a 145.5. “It didn’t want to box much and I had a little bit of trouble circling it but I felt like my horse rated pretty good and wanted to listen to me,” Wilson said.

Peptosboonshakalaca (Peptoboonsmal x Arosesuchaclatter x Smooth As A Cat) was bought out of the National Cutting Horse Association Futurity Sales as a yearling. He has been in training with Wilson ever since.

“He came along nice from the beginning. He was a really nice 3-year-old last year and he’s only 4 now so we can bring him here next year again,” said Wilson, Abbotsford, British Columbia.

The reserve champion was SJR Reygun (Dual Rey x Playguns King Badger x Playgun) owned by Gary Ewell and ridden by Brady Weaver. They marked a 439 to win $2,745.

They also split third and fourth in the Hackamore Classic Open to win another $8,214.

David Dillman Rides Playing With Rey to Hackamore Classic Limited Open Title

When David Dillman bought Playing With Rey in August of her 2-year-old year, his plan for the mare who'd had just a handful of rides, was to buy, ride and sell. When the youngster proved to be a quick study, the plan changed and just over a year later, she claimed the championship at the Limited Open Hackamore Classic to earn $2,742 for marking a 432.5 on three events.

Playing With Rey (Play Dual Rey x ARC Holly Cee Lena x Smart Little Lena) got her run off to a great start when she marked 145.5 in the herd work.

“This mare is really cow smart and really good on a cow. Everything was smooth. I cut good cattle and I had great help,” said Dillman, Calhan, Colorado who went on to mark a 142 in the reining. “The reining was really good. She’s really broke and steady and easy to show. She always circles good, she changes good and she runs really good to her stops but I didn’t get her run to the stop as good as I’d have liked in the second stop. She’s a big stopper and she’s got quick feet in the turns.”

A 145 on the cow, delivered Dillman the Limited Open Hackamore Classic win. Their composite score also split 14-16 in the Hackamore Classic Open and fifth in the Intermediate Open.

“She was excellent on our cow. She boxed really good and had a good read on that cow. I left the corner well and she rated. It was a good cow. She made two good turns and circled,” Dillman said.

Looking on from the sidelines was Dillman’s wife, Reanna Dillman. “I thought they worked their cow great. Everything came together and that doesn’t happen very often,” Reanna said. “She has such a good read on a cow that she can get hung up on the shoulder and not get by but she was spot on and went by right on time every time he asked.”

The reserve championship went to No Big Dual (Dual Spark x Unos Charm x Smart Little Uno), owed by Becky Smith and ridden by Robert Smith III. They had a score of 427.5 to earn $2,270.

LIMITED OPEN HACKAMORE CHAMPIONSHIP GOES TO DANIEL SANCHEZ ON WORKIN MANS BLUES

There's nothing about firsts that Daniel Sanchez doesn't like, especially when it is his first horse show class win at the Snaffle Bit Futurity. It was also his first time to enter the Limited Open Hackamore at the Snaffle Bit Futurity and it was his first time ever to show Workin Mans Blues. If those firsts weren't enough, he also won his first championship and $1,500 for marking a 280 (145 rein/135 fence).

"Getting this win on him really makes your confidence come up," Sanchez said. "It's awfully exciting coming down to Texas for the first time and getting this win."

Sanchez works for Justin Wright, Santa Maria, California, who trains horses for the owners of Workin Mans Blues (Yellow Roan Of Texas x Topi Chexx x A Cowboy At Heart), Michael and Jessica Draper.

"I've ridden this horse multiple times at the house and Jessica was bringing him here to show and I asked if she'd mind if I showed him too," Sanchez said. "I'm really happy and thankful that they let me show him."

Jessica Draper and Workin Mans Blues won the Non Pro

Limited Hackamore and $1,215 earlier in the week but as participants in the boxing classes, Workin Man Blues rarely goes down the fence.

"He boxed really good," Sanchez said of his run, "but we had a little tough cow that threw a few tricks at us going down the fence. He had a huge first turn but we had a little trouble getting our second turn but he was completely honest for a horse that hasn't done it in a while," Sanchez said.

Workin Man Blues marked a 145 in the reining.

"This horse runs down and stops huge, he sticks his butt in the ground and slides for days. It's easy, you just sit back and enjoy it," Sanchez said.

Sanchez is in his second year of showing in the NRCHA. Prior to that he worked in reining and started 2-year-olds.

Little Reytallicat (Metallic Cat x Little Reygena x Dual Rey) owned by MC Performance Horses - OK was shown by Wilson McCray to a score of 278 to be the reserve champions. They earned $1,000.

OPEN TWO REIN CHAMPIONSHIP GOES TO PHILLIP RALLS ON CALL ME MITCH

Call Me Mitch, ridden by Phillip Ralls, was calling the shots in the Snaffle Bit Futurity Open Two Rein class, marking a 439 to win the Championship and $3,080.

The run got off two a good start when the pair marked a 217 in the reining. "He's been a really good horse and carries himself with a lot of presence and allows me to keep him on a pretty loose rein and he runs his circles pretty. He circled really good today, changed leads good, and ran and stopped really nice all three times and let me do it on a loose rein - I felt like he executed that very well," said Ralls, who was enjoying his first win in this class at this show. "Overall, I felt like his rein work was very solid."

The pair followed up with a 222 in the cow work. "He's so cow smart and that cow wanted to be a little bit numb boxing so I had to get up there close and take a hold of him and he was so smart and controlled him. Our first turn was big - that cow didn't want to take it, and he allowed me to put him in a good spot there and get a big first turn which set up our second turn for us. I felt like we were in good control of that cow and then he circled up nice both ways," said Ralls, Paso Robles, California.

Call Me Mitch (Metallic Cat x Miss Hickory Hill x Docs Hickory), a 6-year-old stallion, is owned by Estelle Roitblat. Earlier this year, Ralls and Call Me Mitch won Open Two Rein at the NRCHA Derby in Paso Robles, California.

"Estelle's been with me for quite a while now and we've had several horses for her but this one has definitely been special for us. She allowed me to pick him out. We bought him as a yearling and we've gone through the process of the futurities and derbies and we've had a lot of success on him. It takes good owners and a great crew - my wife Teresa and Magda Arbes and the whole crew at home-to keep us going down the road."

Arbes, who lives in Colorado, is originally from Germany. She had worked for Ralls previously and flew in to help him at this show.

Ralls plans on bringing Call Me Mitch back to Fort Worth in February. "We're aiming him towards the World's Greatest this year, which will be his first one, and hope for big things for him," Ralls said. "He's a horse that gives you a chance to win every time you go out there. I feel like he's progressively getting better. That horse's consistency has always been a part of his MO."

Shiners Lil Nickle (Shiners Nickle x Lil Lena Long Legs x Smart Little Lena), ridden by Clayton Edsall and owned by Michelle Cannon earned $2,310 for marking a 437 to be the reserve champion.

Hope Miller and Dare To Sioux

HACKAMORE CLASSIC NON PRO DIVISIONS / NON PRO HACKAMORE HORSE SHOW CLASS

The Non Pro divisions in the Hackamore Classic and the Non Pro Hackamore horse show class wrapped up Tuesday in the Will Rogers Memorial Center. Hope Miller, of Brush Prairie, Washington, dominated with her power-packed palomino, Dare To Sioux (A Shiner Named Sioux x Tari Darlin x Taris Catalyst). Smart Tips for Seasonal Changes

SMARTPAK HAS THE INFORMATION YOU NEED TO HELP YOUR HORSE PREPARE FOR FALL

Fall brings great riding weather to many areas of the country, but it also brings unique challenges to horse owners as they prepare for the cooler season ahead. You're not alone this season though, because SmartPak is here with expert tips on how to help your horse cope with weather changes.

As temperatures drop, horse owners should start evaluating their horse's diet and management routine and make any adjustments needed. When preparing your horse for winter weather, there are several key areas that should be considered including hydration, diet, body condition, and supplements.

"As the seasons change, our riding and horse care routines change, too," said Sarah Mann, Vice President of Brand and Customer Experience at SmartPak. "While we know different regions and different barns will have their own unique challenges, there are three major areas that we think are important to be mindful of as we head into fall - hydration, weight, and diet."

Healthy hydration is important all year round, but changing temperatures in the fall can prove problematic. A research study at the School of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania showed that while horses seem to prefer very cold water, they don't drink as much total water as they do when the water is warmer. And if your horse is drinking less, he may be at risk for dehydration. Even worse, if buckets or troughs freeze solid, your horse can't get any water at all! To help keep water free from ice and on the warmer side, you can use insulated bucket covers or heated water buckets in the barn, and de-icers out in your water troughs. Adding a daily serving of salt or electrolytes to your horse's diet is also a smart way to encourage him or her to drink up, all winter long. SmartSalt Pellets and Leg Up Electrolyte are two tasty pelleted products that support healthy hydration.

Another way to help set your horse up for success with seasonal changes is to make sure he's at a healthy weight. Many horses gain weight as you're riding and exercising them less during the winter months, while many others end up losing weight as their bodies burn extra calories just staying warm. That's why it's a smart idea to evaluate your horse's body condition now, and then monitor it throughout the season and into the winter months for any changes. A great way to measure your horse's body condition is by using the Henneke Horse Body Conditioning Scoring System. You can learn more about how to do this at SmartPak.com/BodyConditionQuiz

With water and weight checked off your list, it's time to evaluate your horse's diet. All year round, your horse should be receiving 1-2% of his or her body weight in forage (hay or pasture) every day - for a 1,000 lbs horse, that's 10-20 lbs/day. However, come winter, your horse is likely to be burning more of that forage as calories used to stay warm, so he or she may benefit from some extra hay. If forage alone isn't enough for your horse to maintain a healthy weight, you could add or increase grain, however that comes with extra sugar, which isn't the best choice for your horse's overall health. Instead, you can add a fat supplement like 99% Fat by SmartPak to provide a "cool" source of calories, without any added sugar.

Speaking of supplements, many horse owners decide to change up their horse's supplement plans during the winter months, particularly if their horse has the winter "off." While it's absolutely appropriate to adjust your horse's supplements in accordance with his or her workload, it's not recommended to pull your horse off supplements altogether, as many areas of the body are under stress even if your horse isn't in heavy work. For example, extra time spent in a stall, which is very common in the winter, can increase your horse's risk of gastric ulcers and colic. That's why SmartPak recommends continuing to support your horse's health all year round. If you'd like help adjusting your horse's supplement program based on changes in your seasonal routine, SmartPak's Supplement Experts are just a call, email, chat, or text away!

If you'd like to learn more about building a better diet for your horse, you won't want to miss SmartPak's Ultimate Horse Nutrition Guide. This helpful guide will walk you through what factors you need to consider when building your horse's diet, including forage, concentrates, and supplements. Read all of the tips at SmartPak.com/Nutrition.

LYLE LOVETT RECEIVES THE 2018 DALE WILKINSON LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

In 2007, the National Reining Horse Association (NRHA) Hall of Fame Committee initiated the NRHA Dale Wilkinson Lifetime Achievement Award, supported by the Reining Horse Foundation. This award is named after legendary reining horse trainer known as the “father of reining,” Dale Wilkinson, the first inductee into the NRHA Hall of Fame. Wilkinson is a multiple NRHA Futurity champion and one of the founding members of the National Reining Horse Association. In addition, during his lifetime, he was an educator, promoter and mentor to all Reiners - professional and non pro - of how a rider should conduct themselves, train and exhibit a horse. Because of his unmatched lifetime of accomplishment in reining, it is entirely appropriate that the NRHA Lifetime Achievement Award be named for Dale Wilkinson.

The 2018 recipient of the NRHA Dale Wilkinson Lifetime Achievement Award is Lyle Lovett of Spring, Texas. The renowned singer, songwriter, actor and entertainer is an active NRHA competitor who has raised thousands of dollars for the RHF and has donated his services to promote the National Reining Horse Association and the sport of reining at NRHA and National Reining Breeders Classic events. He has also taken part and recruited other celebrities for the RHF Celebrity Slide held in the past during the NRHA Futurity. Lovett has an award named in his honor for his service and time dedicated to the NRHA and RHF: the Lyle Lovett Distinguished Service Award.

Lovett has earned four Grammy Awards including Best Country Album and Best Male Country Vocal Performance. He recorded his own brand of music, a unique mix of blues, R&B, jazz, gospel and country, since 1980 with more than a dozen albums to date. His highest entry, the number 10 chart hit on the U.S. Billboard Hot Country song chart, “Cowboy Man.” But Lovett’s talents don’t end there. This accomplished entertainer is also a well-respected songwriter and has a lengthy list of acting credits. He now joins the ranks of those who have significantly impacted the sport of reining.

NRHA will proudly honor the 2018 inductee and award recipient during the NRHA Convention & Awards, a gathering known as the NRHA Winter Meeting in 2016 and 2017.

Founded in 1966, the National Reining Horse Association is a nonprofit association dedicated to promoting and encouraging the development of and public interest in the sport of reining. The focus is on developing and maintaining suitable standards of performance and judging and in providing a fun filled, family-oriented atmosphere.
