PIERRE-LUC PHANEUF, CASEY DEARY SHARE SWRHA BILLINGSLEY FORD OPEN FUTURITY CHAMPIONSHIP

It was a party in Ardmore on Saturday night as the Southwest Reining Horse Association crowned champions of the Billingsley Ford Open Futurity. Big winners included Casey Deary and Pierre-Luc Phaneuf, who tied for the Level 4 Championship amidst plenty of celebration and camaraderie that make the SWRHA Futurity a favorite on the schedule.

Open Level 4 Co-Champion Casey Deary and Live N On A Prayer

One glance at Live N On A Prayer's blueblood pedigree, and it's no surprise to see Casey Deary on his back in a win photo. Deary has shown both sides of Live N On A Prayer's pedigree to great success—sire In Like Flinn boasts lifetime earnings of $187,000, and dam Americasnextgunmodel is a blue-hen producer with lifetime earnings herself of $289,000.

Deary rode the young standout to his first big win with a 222 at the SWRHA Futurity, tying for the Level 4 Championship with Pierre-Luc Phaneuf for $15,177 each.

“This colt is a really good looper. He has a lot of natural rate and draw like his sire, but he's got the really great qualities that his mother had,” Deary said. “He has that foot-speed in the turn and a really cool style running and stopping.”

Surprisingly, Live N On A Prayer got behind in training this year but is catching up to speed.

“He had a small muscle tear on his hip, so we rested him like the vet said and he's all healed up now. I missed a few months through the summer on him,” Deary said. “The time that I missed, I had to put back together on the road. I showed him twohanded at Tulsa, showed him in Vegas and had a bobble there, and took him to Congress and got hung up in a rollback. He prepared really well last week at home and this week here, he showed really well for me.”

Deary says it's immensely helpful for all involved to have such a talented team of assistant trainers to help give all the horses he has in training a chance to show.

“It puts my customers in a really good spot, too. They know there aren't just three spots [for the NRHA Futurity]—there are six, nine or 12. There's a good chance those horses are going to get shown,” Deary said. “The whole group, between Josh, Caleb, Katie, Hannah and Sarah, they work really well together and are supportive of each other. I try to make sure all those guys get a chance to show, too.”

He thanked his wife, Nicole Deary, in addition his farrier and veterinarians that keep the horses healthy.

“There are so many people to thank. It truly takes a village,” he added.

Open Futurity Level 4 Co-Champion and Level 3 Champion Pierre-Luc Phaneuf and Electrician

Justin "Gunny" Mathison & Pierre-Luc Phaneuf

Pierre-Luc Phaneuf had the kind of run every trainer works toward, tying for the Level 4 win with Casey Deary for $15,177 each and winning the Level 3 for an additional $10,541 at the SWRHA Open Futurity. Everything came together for the Canadian native and the Gunny Mathison-owned horse Electrician (Electric Snow x Braz Us x Smart Chic Olena) with a score of 222.

“My horse felt great. He walked in great, he turned big both ways. When I was in the middle, I said, ‘This is mine to mess up,’” Phaneuf said. “I know he's got big stops, so I went and loped off, felt him out and thought we just need to be clean through there. We got through our circles clean, and then I turned the corner and thought, ‘There's my money shot.’ And he hit all stops. He's a freak athlete. I couldn't have been happier with him.”

The trainer says Electrician has been a joy to train for his friend Mathison. The two are enjoying the ride one show at a time.

“He's been so much fun, because he's got so much try,”

Open Futurity Level 2 Champion Adam Hendrickson and Gunna Bea Goodtime

Adam Hendrickson broke out of his slump in a big way, marking a 217.5 to take home the Open Futurity Level 2 Championship for $4,141 aboard Leslie Weibel’s gelding Gunna Bea Goodtime (Gunnatrashya x Lil Ruf Sara x Lil Ruf Peppy). He won an additional $2,292 for placing eighth in the Level 3.

“This is a big deal, because I have not done much of anything for two years,” Hendrickson said with a laugh. “My horses were great, and I’m just remembering how to horse-show again.”

Despite a few bobbles in the pen, Hendrickson was able to recover and put a solid run together.

“He tried to beat me into the turns because we’ve worked on it so much. I should have seen that and been a little more prepared for it—that’s my fault—because he wasn’t trying to be bad,” the Colorado-based trainer said. “He felt good circling. When I loped off I felt something funny happen for a second, but he settled in. He barreled down to that first stop, and I don’t know if he hit bad ground or what, but he wasn’t comfortable. After that, he drug his butt.”

Hendrickson has a good one underneath him in Gunna Bea Goodtime. He’s ridden several horses out of the gelding’s dam Lil Ruf Sara and says each one has been trainable and ready to work.

“Come hell or high water, they just feel like they’re good show horses and will do what they can for you. As long as you’re fair, they’re fair,” Hendrickson said. “Knowing that line helps tremendously as a trainer. Even when they’re half-siblings, there are some characteristics that pass on and you know what you need to do when you run into things.”

Open Futurity Level 1 Champion Colin Fitzpatrick and Flamethrow

Colin Fitzpatrick clinched the Open Level 1 Futurity victory aboard Flamethrow (Lil Joe Cash x Freckle Whiz x Gizmo Whiz) with a score of 216.5, worth $1,845. He pocketed an additional $2,521 for finishing second in the Level 2.

The Pilot, Point, Texas-based trainer, who works under Flamethrow’s owner Brian Bell, says the horse has been straightforward to train and accomplished exactly what Fitzpatrick set out to do.

“He felt really easy, really simple. Didn’t do anything I didn’t ask him to do,” Fitzpatrick said. “This horse, I had a little redemption to do on him from Tulsa when I had stepped a lead and trotted. I wanted to make sure we didn’t do that here, because everything else worked really good at Tulsa, and it worked really good here too.”

At this point late in the year with the NRHA Futurity on the horizon, Fitzpatrick says his horses should be ready to show enough so that he can focus on his mental game as a rider.

“As long as I’ve got my maneuvers working right, it’s just mental preparation more than anything,” he said. “I really try to stick to a plan. We come to these things with a plan for each horse, so I have a checklist that I like to run through with each of them.”

Fitzpatrick says having a horse as trustworthy as Flamethrow gives him confidence heading into December.

“It darn sure helps,” he said. “Going to Oklahoma City is always nerve racking anyway, but when you’ve got a horse you can trust a little more, it makes it a whole lot easier.”

Prime Time Open Champion Duane Latimer on Ziggy Rocks

For NRHA Two Million Dollar Rider Duane Latimer, pre-futurities like the SWRHA give him the opportunity for a pre-flight check prior to the big show in Oklahoma City.

“You get them the experience here, and just make sure everything is as solid as it can be,” he shared.

With a score of 220, Latimer’s entry Ziggy Rocks looks poised to peak at Oklahoma City. The colt won the Prime Time Open Championship for $745 and finished eighth in the Level 4 Open to win $3,924 for owner Roxanne Koepsell.

“He turned really big to the left and pretty good to the right. He did shy from some people, but he plussed all three stops,” Latimer said. “I can’t say I went and asked for everything he had because I didn’t. I’m the type that will save more for the big futurity.”

It was only the second show for Ziggy Rocks, by Whiskey N Diamonds out of Shes Got Good Guns.

“I liked how he was honest. He’s getting better, and I can tell he’s going to be a show horse. I have had horses that have went on to win major events and mark huge scores that showed horrible the first time, but the vast majority will let you know pretty early if they are going to be show horses or not,” he said.

Kaci O’Rourke Wins Toyon Ranch Open Mare Bonus on Starstruck Gunner

With a score of 220.5, Kaci O’Rourke and Starstruck Gunner won the $2,500 Toyon Ranch Open Mare Bonus. That big score was also good for sixth in the Level 4 and third in the Level 3.

Owned by Starstruck Partners, Starstruck Gunner is by Gunners Special Nite out of Chic Olena Starbuck.

Toyon Ranch has supported various programs and shows within the reining horse industry for several years. The picturesque ranch—located south of Pilot Point, Texas—is owned by John and Nancy Tague. For more information, visit their website at ToyonRanchLLC.com.

MANDY MCCUTCHEON WINS SWRHA CUSTOM MADE DUNIT NON PRO FUTURITY

A full day of tough futurity horses came through the gates of the Hardy Murphy Coliseum in the Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity at the Southwest Reining Horse Association Futurity. Big winners ranged from seasoned veterans to rising stars to young riders sure to be seen in the show pen for years to come. Ranch Serano and Premier Equine Veterinary Services also offered a $1,000 bonus to the highest-scoring futurity mare.

Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity Level 4 Champion Mandy McCutcheon and Gunabeaspecialnite

NRHA $2 Million Rider Mandy McCutcheon rode yet another young standout to the winner's circle, marking a 221 on Gunabeaspecialnite to win the SWRHA Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity Level 4, worth $5,994.

"He was good, he walked in and waited for me, stood still, turned good both ways," Mandy said. "He circled real smooth. I think there's a bit more gas in there just circling for the Futurity, but I just thought being as close to it as we are, it would be better to show smart and save a little bit of horse for that too."

The 3-year-old gelding, owned and raised by Mandy and her husband Tom McCutcheon, is by Gunners Special Nite and out of Mandy's 2017 NRHA Non Pro Derby Champion mare Hollywood Starburst, by Hollywood Dun It. When preparing for pre-futurities such as the SWRHA Futurity, Mandy says she's looking for her horses to feel consistent and dependable while getting them exposed to the showing environment.

"I want them to be honest. If they do what I know they can do schooling for me, I'm happy. If they don't throw any tricks at me or anything like that, then I know what I've got," Mandy said. "All the pre-futurities for me are just about figuring out the game plan and getting them ready to horse-show, learning what it takes to have them ready for the big futurity, and putting some nice runs on them so that they know the lay of the land but not too much.”

Mandy also tied with Jack Meadows and Jana Simons for reserve in the Level 4 with a score of 220 on Star Spangled Star (Star Spangled Whiz x Chic Lil Ruby x A Chic In Time), owned by her son Cade McCutcheon. Each reserve champion earned $2,910.

She thanked her entire crew who helps keep program running and horses healthy and ready to show, both at home and on the road. “I couldn’t do it without them, especially since I’ve been traveling a lot with [my daughter] Carlee, so without my crew keeping the wheels turning here and at home, I couldn’t do it. Everybody does a great job,” Mandy said.

Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity Level 4 Reserve Champion, Level 3 Co-Champion, Level 2 Champion and Non Pro Futurity Mare Jana Leigh Simons and Raisinthebar

With a score of 220, Jana Leigh Simons took home a lion’s share of titles the Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity aboard Raisinthebar, a mare by PS Mega Shine Chic and out of Chic In The Bar by Smart Chic Olena. The duo finished as Level 4 Co-Reserve Champions for $2,910, Level 3 Co-Champions for $2,233, Level 2 Champions for $1,815. They also won the Non Pro Futurity Mare bonus, sponsored by Rancho Serano and Premier Equine Veterinary Services, for $1,000.

“My run felt really organized and went just the way it would when I ride her at home, so I felt really prepared,” Simons said. “She’s a lot of horse. She’s really honest and fancy. I think a lot of what she does has a high degree of difficulty, and she’s a really fancy animal.”

Simons rides with Dany Tremblay and his brother Fred Tremblay, who both helped Simons find the mare to purchase as a 2-year-old. She’s thankful for the trainers’ help both in and out of the arena.

“It means a lot to come out and win this; it’s been a while,” Simons said. “I just recently started riding with Dany and Fred the last couple years. They have a lot of confidence in me, and I have a lot of confidence in them. This is the first horse I really let them pick, and they did a great job for me.”

Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity Level 4 Reserve Champion and Level 3 Co-Champion Jack Medows and Tribbiani

Jack Medows enjoyed a meaningful victory about his family-raised stallion Tribbiani (Gunnatrashya x Chics-dreamofdiamonds x Princess In Diamonds) in the SWRHA Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity, marking a 220 to tie for the Reserve Championship in the Level 4 for $2,910 and share the Level 3 Championship for $2,233 with Jana Leigh Simons.

“What he does so cool is he’s a huge turner, and I really thought I got him turned today. He’s just a really fun horse to show,” Medows said. “We raised him and knew the moment he was born that he was special. It’s so fun to have him.”

Tribbiani is out of a horse that means a lot to Medows and his family. His dam, Chicsdreamofdiamonds, is an earner of more than $114,000 that Medows rode to the 2016 NRHA Non Pro Futurity Level 4 Championship and the 2017 NRBC Non Pro Level 4 Championship.

“This is her first foal, so that makes it even more special, and to have been around him his whole life,” Medows said. “Parts of him remind me of her. They never quit; neither one of them. That’s a really good quality to have in a horse, and that’s what reminds me of her the most.”

The stallion has been in the right hands his entire life. He was started by Trevor Dare and then sent to Fernando Salgado for the latter half of his 2-year-old year. He’s been with Medows his entire 3-year-old year.

“I think it really helped with today’s run, just how well we know each other. Both Fernando Salgado and Kole Price gave me a lot of good advice and helped me get him ready this week,” Medows said. “I thank my parents for letting me keep this horse to show, and my dad for letting me off work this week to come down here and practice. I thank my girlfriend Olivia who’s always supported me and has helped me a lot. I thank my sister; this is her favorite horse, and I definitely thank Kristen and Ian for helping sponsor and put on this great show.”

Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity Level 1 Champion Emma Vanlandingham on Ruf Rider

Young Emma Vanlandingham is already following in the winning footsteps of her father, NRHA $2 Million Rider Jason Vanlandingham. She scored a 215.5 on Ruf Rider (Not Ruf At All x Dun Pretty Nifty x Hollywood Dun It) to win the SWRHA Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity Level 1 title for $584 and tie for third in the Level 2 for $769.

“My horse was awesome. When I went to the center, I have a way that I turn him normal the first way, and then inch him forward the second way of turning. He was great, and then when I went to circle I knew he would circle great because he always has,” Emma said. “Once we went down to our first stop and he was good, I knew I was good for the rest of the pattern.”

Emma has worked hard to get to know the young gelding trained by her dad and purchased by her family two months ago from Vaughn Zimmerman. She enjoys riding young horses because of the potential for progress.

“You work so hard to get to this moment, so once you win it’s pretty great. It makes it all worth it,” Emma said. “These horses have so much room to grow. You can take one from the beginning of the year when you don’t really know where they’re going to be, and then look back at the end of the year and see how much progress they’ve made. I want to thank my mom and dad and Vaughn.”

Custom Made Dunit Non Pro Futurity Prime Time Champion Kelle Smith and Spookified

Kelle Smith overcame some mental-game obstacles and persevered to win the SWRHA Non Pro Futurity Prime Time for $745 with a score of 219.5 on her mare Spookified (Spooks Gotta Whiz x JDS Shining Image x Shining Spark). She also finished fifth in the Level 4 for $2,085, third in the Level 3 for $1,267 and second in the Futurity Mare Bonus sponsored by Rancho Serano/Premier Veterinary Services for $500.

“I was draw No. 1, so it was a little difficult getting prepared. I hauled in in the morning, but it was a little cool and she was fresh, so I was almost a little apprehensive about her, but by the time we walked in the pen she was good,” Smith said. “She’s a show horse. She doesn’t miss a beat.”

Smith says one of the biggest reasons she was able to get her mind right to show was a pep talk with Mandy McCutcheon.

“It was very hard. I had to talk to Mandy here at this show. I’ve had two bad horse shows, and I told her, ‘I have a serious question. Are you getting nervous when you show now?’ I’ve always been really focused and easy to prepare mentally, but lately I’ve been getting really nervous,” Smith admitted. “When Mandy told me she gets nervous too, I don’t know why but that really soothed me. I told myself to pull my head out of my rear, and I felt prepared on both horses today.”

Now, Smith will shift that mental clarity to preparing the mare she says is one of the best horses she’s ever had for the upcoming NRHA Futurity.

“The hardest thing is I know how good she is. Even now I haven’t reached her potential because she’s really huge everywhere,” Smith said. “It’s been a long time since I’ve had one like her, that is trained and so mentally sound. I call her ‘Sweetie Pie’ for a reason.”

2021 SWRHA FUTURITY ANCILLARY CLASSES

The Hardy Murphy Coliseum welcomed the annual Southwest Reining Horse Association Futurity and Horse Show, with Novice Horse classes beginning October 19. The Novice Horse Non Pro class brought 39 entries across three levels, while the Novice Horse Open ran well into the evening with 155 entries.

Novice Horse Non Pro L1 Champions Lindsey McCutcheon and Cash Mi Out

Lindsey McCutcheon opened the 2021 SWRHA Futurity & Horse Show by topping the Novice Horse Non Pro Level 1 with a 70.5 aboard Cash Mi Out (Lil Joe Cash x Mi Mega x Marthas Mega Jac).

Shown by her father Scott McCutcheon as a futurity horse in 2020, the now-4-year-old mare is now finding success with Lindsey in the novice horse classes. Lindsey noted was proud of both herself and her mare for working through some challenges in the first class of the SWRHA Futurity.

“She was pretty good, just a little nervous in this pen today. My run was a bit faster than I wanted. I just went with it, thinking that we’ll see what we can get done,” Lindsey said. “She’s super smooth to ride. I mean unbelievably smooth; you could lope her all day. She’s so comfortable to ride, and she has a lot of try. I think this pen made her a little nervous and she just over-tried everywhere. But it’s good, because it teaches you as a rider to stay slow with your hand and be quiet as a rider.”

Keeping her cool throughout a run that doesn’t feel ideal in the moment is a skill Lindsey’s learned through years of showing.

“I just try to do the best that I can with what I have. I know it doesn’t always look as bad as it feels,” Lindsey said. “I try to show through it, and a lot of times you can still place or get something done if you just stay on pattern. You have to make adjustments as you go, but I think that’s the best way you can learn is just making adjustments as you go in the show pen.”

Lindsey and Cash Mi Out will show again Wednesday before the mare gets a well-deserved break for the rest of the year.

“This is one of my favorite shows. I have to for sure thank all of Cheryl Cody’s staff for everything they do, because I know there’s even more that goes on than we have any idea,” Lindsey said. “I thank everybody who’s a part of the show and makes it such a great event for everybody.”

Novice Horse Non Pro L2 Champions Raeanna Thayn and Roseswhiz

Raeanna Thayn rode Roseswhiz (Spooks Gotta Whiz x Rose Electric Step x Jacs Electric Spark) to a score of 71.5 to win the Novice Horse Non Pro Level 2. Thayn says her runs this week are helping her prepare for the big ancillary classes at the National Reining Horse Association Futurity in December.

“My run today was really good. It was a schooling run, getting ready for Oklahoma City with her,” Thayn said. “I started showing her at the beginning of this year. She’s been really consistent and good for me.”

The 4-year-old mare is a businesswoman in the arena, Thayn says. “She’s really fun. She’s always ready to go into the show pen and be really consistent and focused all the time,” she said.

Novice Horse Non Pro L3 Champions Kary Key and Cant Spook Me

With a score of 71.5, Kary Key and 10-year-old gelding Cant Spook Me (Spooks Gotta Gun x Te On The Trashy Side (APHA) x Trashadeous) took home the Novice Horse Non Pro Level 2 championship.

Key can always count on the levelheaded gelding and says he’s a joy to show and be around. “He’s the best; he’s the unicorn pony that everybody looks for. He takes care of me when I screw up. I can go have fun on him, and then I have to think with the 3-year-olds,” Key said with a laugh. “He turns awesome, always circles great. We don’t run down to our stops like we need to, and part of that’s him and part of it’s me, so we’re just going to keep working on that this week while we’re here.”

Cant Spook Me has a special place in Key’s family. Bred and raised by Key’s mother Pat Fletcher, he was sold as a 2-year-old, started by Melanie Wilhem and eventually ended up with Kirk and Michelle George. The gelding has since come back full circle to his forever home.

“His dam we loved; we’ve had several babies out of her and they’re all money earners. He was my mom’s unicorn pony, and I made her sell him as a 2-year-old because we had a bunch, and she never forgave me,” Key lamented. “Getting him back was a major deal. Kirk and Michelle George made that happen, and we’re forever grateful to them. He was their unicorn pony as well, so he has shared the love everywhere he’s been. Melanie did a great job with him and made him who he is. He is in a league of his own.”

Cant Spook Me has a busy week ahead of him in Ardmore with Key in Non Pro classes, and then hopefully Fletcher will take the reins in the $1,000-added Outta Dough Masters Non Pro on October 22.

“My mom is 75, so if she feels good, she wants to do it,” Key said. “He’s better for her than me most of the time. I hope she gets to do that because that would be the most fun of all.”

SWRHA Novice Horse Classes Conclude with High-Point Awards

The Novice Horse classes of the Southwest Reining Horse Association Futurity wrapped up October 20 after two days of action, highlighted by awards for High-Point Novice Horse teams in each level.

Novice Horse Open L1-L3 Co-Champions and Novice Horse Open High-Point Co-Champions Peter DeFreitas and DP Docs Misstrash Josh Murphy and Gunna Spook You

The second day of showing Oct. 20 saw co-champions across the board in the Novice Horse Open, with Peter DeFreitas on DP Docs Misstrash and Josh Murphy on Gunna

Spook You both marking scores of 72 to tie for the win in Levels 1-3 and share the High-Point Novice Horse Open title.

For DeFreitas, the victory was a sweet moment for a horse he’s always believed in, but just hasn’t had as much time in the show pen as others.

Peter DeFreitas

“She got turned really good and circled nice. She was with me the whole way and really stopped good the whole time. I’ve had her since she was a 2-year-old and showed her some as a 3-year-old, but she had some soundness trouble so this is the first full year of showing she’s had,” DeFreitas said of the 6-year-old mare by Shinin Joe and out of Natrassha, owned by Dorminy Plantation. “She’s a very nice mare and is my son’s favorite horse. She’s extremely sweet and is just the right kind of horse. She’s the kind you want to be around.”

Josh Murphy

Murphy has ridden 10-year-old gelding Gunna Spook You (Gunnatrashya x Sugarplum Chic x Smart Chic Olena) off and on over the last few years and says the seasoned gelding stayed solid after a busy two days of showing. Part of keeping his horses fresh yet finely tuned requires conscientious schooling on Murphy’s part.

“I showed him yesterday so I hoped he wouldn’t be too tired. He was all heart as usual. He circled really great for me and stopped great, especially the last stop. That’s where he really shines,” Murphy said of the horse owned by Jennifer Richards. “The biggest thing to not tire them out is picking what is important to work on. Especially today in the warm-up, I knew he turned fine with me yesterday, so I didn’t mess with him on that. I just made sure he was honest in the circles and running down the pen. It’s just prioritizing what the big thing is to focus on.”

Novice Horse Open L1-L3 Champions Jason Vanlandingham and Excessive Rufness

Jason Vanlandingham and 3-year-old Excessive Rufness (Not Ruf At All x Smokin Lady Gunner x Colonels Smoking Gun) dominated the Novice Horse Open of the first day of action at the SWRHA Futurity on Oct. 19, winning all three levels with a score of 74.5. The stallion owned by Vaughn Zimmerman and bred by Karl 2 and Debbie Hapcic is one of Vanlandingham’s top futurity horses for this year—the pair already has a big win under their belts with the $100,000 Invitational Open in July at the North American Reining Stakes.

Vanlandingham says the SWRHA Novice Horse class helped him further prepare the young standout for the upcoming National Reining Horse Association Open Futurity.

“My idea was just to get him in there; I like to use the classes to prepare and try to have a go-round type run that I would at the Futurity,” said the two-time NRHA Open Futurity champion and $2 Million Rider. “He was pretty locked in, so I was happy with him. He’s a big, nasty stopper, and he goes in there and shows.”

The Whitesboro, Texas-based trainer will continue to focus on fine-tuning Excessive Rufness and work to see it pay off come December.

“From this stage forward, they should know how to stop, turn, circle, and change leads, so now it’s transition stuff—making sure they’re starting the turn good, the rollback, the setup for the lead change, and coming out of the corner to the stop. If all that stuff is really good, then I think we’ll be able to go show and have some success.”

Nov. Horse Non Pro L3 High-Point Champion Kary Key and Cant Spook Me

Cant Spook Me means the world to Kary Key and her family, and he’s proving his worth to the rest of the world as well. Key and the 10-year-old gelding by Spooks Gotta Gun out of Te On The Trashy Side (APHA) by Trashadeous marked a 73 in the second Novice Horse Non Pro class to earn the Level 3 High-Point Championship and tie for second in the class.

“He probably had one of the best runs I’ve had on him today,” Key said. “I was actually planning to school him today because I needed to, but he was so good everywhere that my trainer Jonathan Gauthier actually told me it was okay to not school today. We have made a lot of improvements this year—being an older, broke show horse doesn’t mean we don’t still have a lot to work on. Just having him come out and be sound and happy means so much. He’s just happy to do his job.”

Novice Horse Non Pro L1-2 High-Point Champion Lindsey McCutcheon and Cash Mi Out

Lindsey McCutcheon and her 4-year-old mare Cash Mi Out (Lil Joe Cash x Mi Mega x Marthas Mega Jac) marked a 73 in the second day of showing in the Novice Horse Non Pro class, cinching up the High-Point title for Levels 1 and 2, tying for the Level 1 win in the class and tying for second in Levels 2 and 3.

McCutcheon was much more pleased with her Slate Two run, saying her mare felt more relaxed compared to their first run the day prior.

“She was really quiet for me and waited. She gave me the feel that I could push her, as opposed to yesterday when she was a little ahead of me,” McCutcheon explained. “It means a lot to win this. Yesterday, I was feeling like I wasn’t really sure about her, and then today she was so much better and I was really happy with her. It’s the best feeling when it all comes together.”

Novice Horse Non Pro L2-3 Champion William Clutter and Gunners Shining Star

Gunners Shining Star had the type of run everyone wants when they step into the show pen, marking a 74 with William Clutter aboard to win the Novice Horse Non Pro Levels 2 and 3.

“The little mare was good today. She’s super talented. She has a lot of turn and a tremendous amount of stop,” Clutter said of the 6-year-old mare by Gunners Special Nite out of Whiz Bang Spark. “She stayed with me the whole run and waited for me. She just stayed underneath me the whole time. It’s always nice to lay a good run down.”

Novice Horse Non Pro L1 Co-Champion Sarah Armenta and Hangin On The Line

Sarah Armenta and 7-year-old mare Hangin On The Line (Shine On Line x Spooks Hangten) enjoyed a Level 1 victory in the Novice Horse Non Pro, tying for first with a 73, but the mare has a lot to give outside the reining pen, too.

She’s lit up the roping arena, winning about $45,000 as a rope horse and making herself well known in the American Rope Horse Futurity Association with National Finals Rodeo-qualifying heeler Dakota Kirchenschlager on board.

In fact, after Sarah showed Hangin On The Line at Ardmore, her father was on his way with the mare to Fort Worth to compete in the Non Pro at the ARHFA World Championship.

As a young prospect, Hangin On The Line struggled with lead changes, which made the Armentas decide to switch disciplines and rope on her. You wouldn’t even know it now, says Sarah.

“She doesn’t have a lead change problem anymore. I was bored one day, so I got on her and started turning and asked my dad to come watch. He got out there and said, ‘Well, you want to show her?’ I marked a 70, I think, my first time out,” Sarah said. “I made the Derby finals on her, ended up third in almost every level at the High Roller in Vegas, and she’s always placed in any rope horse futurity she went in.

“But I don’t rope at all; I like my fingers,” Sarah added with a laugh.

Non Pro and Rookie Reiners Take Center Stage at SWRHA Futurity

The Southwest Reining Horse Association Futurity and Horse Show was in full swing October 21, with a full day of Non Pro, Non Pro Rookie and Prime Time, and Open classes. The day concluded with the Smoking Trash-sponsored Salute to the SWRHA Sires exhibitor party with food and cocktails, featuring the SWRHA Stallion Auction golf cart giveaway and an auction for an embryo transfer service from Pinnacle Equine/Dr. Chelsea Makloski, DVM. The party included plenty of fun for exhibitors' young family members, too, with the children's costume parade.

Non Pro and Intermediate Non Pro Champion Raeanna Thayn and Coded N Karma

Youth rider Raeanna Thayn was back in the winner's circle at the conclusion of the Non Pro classes on Oct. 21, this time aboard 10-year-old gelding Coded N Karma (Electric Code x Whiz N Snap x Topsail Whiz). The pair marked a big 75 to win the Non Pro and Intermediate Non Pro.

"He ran down and stopped huge, circled really good and turned really good for him. I like his consistency. I've had him since middle of his 6-year-old year, and my family has owned him since he was 3—he's just always been Mr. Consistent," Thayn said of the gelding that has earned more than $74,000 in his career. "I try to stay focused, because 'Karma' is the best when I'm focused and calm."

Thayn also finished second in the Intermediate Non Pro and tied for second in the Non Pro with a 74.5 aboard 4-year-old mare Roseswhiz (Spooks Gotta Whiz x Rose Electric Step x Jacs Electric Spark), aboard which Thayn won the Novice Horse Non Pro Level 2 earlier in the week.

Thayn's trainer Josh Murphy says the young horsewoman is an exceptional student.

"Raeanna is awesome. She is not only super talented, but also very coachable. Anything you can do on a horse, you can tell her to do, and she can just do it," Murphy said. "It's really fun to work on things at a high level with someone like her."

Limited Non Pro Co-Champion Christine Trautman and Smart Whizard Spook

Christine Trautman rode her 6-year-old gelding Smart Whizard Spook (Smart Spook x Miss Poco Whizard x Whizard Jac) to a score of 73.5 to tie for first in the Limited Non Pro, in addition to finishing in a tie for third in the Intermediate Non Pro and a tie for fourth in the Non Pro.

"It was just super fun. My horse was really locked in," Trautman said. "He went right to work like he always does. Every time I show him he is locked in, spot on and does everything big and honest. I am super grateful to have him. He is such a joy."

Trautman almost missed her chance to show this morning. Her home is on the market, and she had to rush to get it ready for a last-minute showing today before loading up and hauling into Ardmore for the show.

"We had to really hustle to get ready this morning. It didn't go the way I thought it was going to go. I had to drive up from home, so we were running a little behind, in a funny way," Trautman said with a laugh. "I had time to lope three circles and go in the pen."

Prime Time Non Pro Champion and Limited Non Pro Co-Champion Rodion Cantacuzene, Jr.

With a score of 73.5, Rodion Cantacuzene, Jr. laid claim to the Prime Time Non Pro victory and tied for first in the Limited Non Pro aboard 5-year-old APHA gelding Pale Dun Star (Pale Face Dunit x Get Ya Some Stars (APHA) x RR Star (APHA)).

Rookie L1-L2 Champion Teddy Gerrald and Xtra Rev My Holly

At his very first NRHA show, Teddy Gerrald marked a 71 to win the Rookie Levels 1 and 2 aboard his beloved 4-year-old mare Xtra Rev My Holly (Einsteins Revolution x Holly Duns Duel x Hollywood Dun It).

“It was terrifying; absolutely terrifying. When I was younger this was easy. I was fearless. Now as a middle-aged man, it’s just not as easy,” Gerrald said with a laugh. “Three shows in and it’s getting easier, and it’s been a blast.”

Having a horse he can count on like Xtra Rev My Holly helps ease some of Gerrald’s show pen nerves.

“She feels a little better every time we go. Most of that is me probably calming down, so then she’s starting to as well. She was pretty good today. Now that it’s over with, I can’t wait to get back in there,” Gerrald said. “I love that she’s mine. She’s fun to look at; she works real good for me and fits me real well. I’m in love.”

Rookie Prime Time Champion Stephanie Johnson and Sugarwhizngun

A splendid run-off decided the champion of the Rookie Prime Time. After tying top scores of 70.5 in the class, Stephanie Johnson on Sugarwhizngun and Valencia Pitzing on Baileys Sidekick faced each other again for championship honors. In the end, Johnson’s 71.5 edged Pitzing’s 70.5 run-off score.

“I’ve never run off before, so it was fun and very exciting. My horse was a little tired since we just did the first run a little while ago, but he was a good boy,” Johnson said of the 8-year-old gelding by Gunner and out of Starlights Sugarwhiz by Little Bay Starlight. “He was actually better his second run than the first one. I was very happy with it.”

The victory marked the perfect ending to Johnson and her gelding’s show season.

“This is our last show of the year, so I was really happy,” Johnson said. “I ride with Casey Deary and Katie Davis, and I get help from Josh [Tishman] and everyone at Team Deary. I want to thank our farrier and vet, and the whole Team Deary.”

Wimpys Little Nite Wins SWRHA Stallion Auction Golf Cart Drawing

Wimpys Little Nite didn’t even compete at this year’s SWRHA Futurity & Horse Show, but the 11-year-old buckskin stallion is already a big winner. Owned by Courtney Battison of Purcell, Okla., Wimpys Little Nite’s name was Non Pro Futurity, as long as the sire was a participant in the Stallion Auction. If not, the golf cart will go to the owner of the sire of the highest placing eligible horse.

Realizing the need to equal the playing field for junior sires, especially ones who have yet to have foals of competition age, the SWRHA also holds a random drawing from all the donated sires for an additional golf cart.

Wimpys Little Nite, with only one foal crop on the ground, was the perfect recipient. “I was looking for places to market him as a new stallion,” Battison explained. “I donated him to the NRHA Auction, and since I’ve always loved the Southwest, I wanted to donate to it, too. I was so excited to hear I won the golf cart and was disappointed I wasn’t able to be at the Party to accept it in person.”

Wimpys Little Nite, by NRHA $12 Million Sire Wimpys Little Step out of Fun It BY Chick, is an American Quarter Horse Association World Champion in Senior Reining. “I purchased him as a 5-year-old and showed him in the derbies for a couple years, as well as in some of the 7 & Up classes. Thiago Boechat also showed him at some larger events, and now I stand him at my place,” she said. “We have four foals from his first crop, and they look great. We have two buckskins and two palominos.”

Battison, who has a background in hunter under saddle, is no stranger to owning and marketing top stallions. She owned and stood the National Snaffle Bit Association Hall of Fame stallion Hot N Blazing. The late stallion excelled as a show horse, but real legacy can be found among his foals, who have earned more than $1.2 million, as well as 71 AQHA World and Reserve World Championships and 115 Congress Champion and Reserve Champion awards.

“I absolutely thank the SWRHA and everyone who puts together the show and the Stallion Auction,” Battison said. “I also thank all the other stallion owners who donate breedings, the mare owners who buy them, and all the wonderful sponsors of the show.”

drawn to win the SWRHA Stallion Auction golf cart. The giveaway was held during the Smoking Trash Salute to the Sires Exhibitor Party on Thursday evening.

The SWRHA Futurity is known for its large and motorized prizes, and the custom golf carts have become a signature of the event, with several given away each year.

Riders of All Ages Win Big in Friday's Competition at SWRHA Futurity & Horse Show

Open (1) Co-Champion

Gunny Mathison and Sparkys Shining Doll

The successful partnership between trainer Gunny Mathison and owner Rhea Pole saw yet another winner at the SWRHA Futurity, as Mathison rode 9-year-old stallion Sparkys Shining Doll (Friday Night Shiner x BB Holly Doll x Star Chex Badger) to a 77 to tie with Dany Tremblay for the ancillary Open (1) championship.

“It was 16 years ago; his name was Starlight Slim (Grays Starlight x Tanya Lena). It was off a whim just like this, with Rhea thinking the horse was really good. I ended up second in the Open that night, then went on to make the NRBC finals on him and was in the top 10 there, so it was a fun deal,” Mathison said of the horse that won around $40,000 for his late owner Larry Woods. “With this horse [Sparkys Shining Doll], Rhea asked if I wanted to show him. She had schooled him and said he was good in the pen. You always know how talented they are outside, but when they’re inside, they change. So when she said he was a saint when she showed him, I got excited.”

The stallion stayed true for Mathison in the class, living up to how Pole had described him.

“He was a saint. The only spot where he felt like he'd been shown before was turning the corner and running to stop, but he knew his job there,” Mathison said. “He wanted to go before I wanted him to go, but we smoothed our way through it enough that it wasn't offensive. Plus, he stops huge; he has a lot of style. He's good with his neck. But I'd say the main thing is that he is broke. I didn't make him do all that; he just did it for me. I talked to Dean Brown a little, who had originally trained him, and he had done well on him too a long time ago. He knew he was a good horse.”

The duo also had some special luck riding with them in the class.

“I rode him in Starlight Slim's bridle and then a headstall that Tim Lynch used to own,” Mathison said of the longtime NRHA member and former member of the NRHA Board of Director who passed away September 17 after battling cancer. “Tim was a big part of the SWRHA and a big part of Ardmore, so it was a good way to pay tribute to him.”

Stay tuned to SWRHA website and social channels for more on Mathison and Pole's longtime good-luck horses.

Open (1) Co-Champion

Dany Tremblay and Tinker With Dreams

Tinker With Dreams (Tinker With Guns x This Chics-dundreamin) added another title to his impressive career, marking a 77 with Dany Tremblay in the saddle to tie for the victory in the Open [1].

“I didn't want to go too hard on my horse, but he showed great. I didn't have any penalties or anything like that. He was super fun to show,” Tremblay said of the Diamond Dub Quarter Horses-owned stallion with more than $262,500 in lifetime earnings. “He's really, really honest. I can feel underneath me that he knows where we are and he knows what will happen, but he still does it right. He's just not a cheater.”

Tremblay and the 7-year-old stallion pocketed their biggest victory together earlier this year at the National Reining Breeders Classic as Open Level 4 Co-Champions. The trainer says Tinker With Dreams is a simple horse to show and is thankful to have him in the barn.

“We actually just keep him in shape. I don't have any secrets on that horse,” Tremblay said. “He knows his job and he does it every day. I'm not going to try to make anything different anywhere, so I just trust my horse and go for it.”

Limited Open (1) Champion

Giada Camparsi and Whos Chocolate Whiz

Aboard 9-year-old gelding Whos Chocolate Whiz (Who Whiz It x QHR Chocolena Pep x Chocolate Chic Olena), Whitesboro, Texas-based trainer Giada Camparsi marked a 74.5 to win the Limited Open class and tie for second in the Intermediate Open.

“He was awesome. He's an old horse, so he has been shown quite a bit, especially in the ranch riding lately, so it was kind of a fresh feel in the reining,” Camparsi said. “It felt like he had never been shown—he was with me the whole time and was really good.”

Camparsi started the gelding as a 2-year-old for owner Amy Liedtke, who's been the gelding's main rider in the show pen.

“I have known this horse his whole life. The same owners still own him, so we have been training him, and she showed him. I don't think anyone else ever showed him after her before last night, so that was pretty cool that I got to,” Camparsi said. “I love his heart, because he tries his best all the time and never thinks ahead of you. He is always with you. He always lets you guide him, so that's pretty cool for an older horse.”

Intermediate Open (1) Champion Clemerson Barbalho and Spooks Gotta Outfire

Marking a big 75, Clemerson Barbalho rode 5-year-old stallion Spooks Gotta Outfire (Spooks Gotta Whiz x Black Custom Chex x Custom Crome) to win the Intermediate Open and finish third in the Open.

“He felt amazing. It was a run that I felt him more with me,” Barbalho said of the horse that has garnered more than $57,000 in lifetime earnings. “He was with me, and I could leave my reins loose. In the circles he was just perfect.”

The Brazilian native has been training reiners for more than 10 years and has been on his own for three years with his training base in Gainesville, Texas. Barbalho says he's loved the sport ever since he was young.

“I got started because my dad always had horses in another sport in Brazil. He started doing reining clinics to get his horses better, and I fell in love with reining. I started seeing his friend who was a reiner, just going to his house and helping. When I started riding professionally, I decided that was what I wanted to do,” Barbalho said. “I moved to another state [in Brazil] to work for Eduardo Salgado. He moved to the United States, and one year later I came to help him. I worked for him for almost nine years, and now I have been on my own for almost three.”

Rookie Professional (1) Co-Champion Katie Davis and Gunna Bend And Snap

Two Gunnatrashya mares sat atop the scoreboard of the first slate of the Rookie Professional, with riders Katie Davis and Chantal Kuhn sharing championship honors with scores of 73.

Davis rode 5-year-old Gunna Bend And Snap (Gunnatrashya x Miss San Electric x Jacs Electric Spark), owned by Elizabeth Bibbs, a mare she's only shown twice.

“It's very fun. She really likes the run-down, and I felt she was a lot straighter this time,” Davis said of the mare ridden in futurities by fellow Team Deary trainer Josh Tishman. “This is the second time I've shown her. I showed her in Tulsa and it worked out pretty well there, but I feel yesterday's run was a lot smoother. I was really happy with it.”

Davis, who works under Casey Deary of Deary Performance Horses in Weatherford, Texas, says scoring well and pulling off wins at shows like the SWRHA Futurity are immensely helpful for budding trainers building their careers.

“Having customers who put their faith in young trainers is a blessing beyond what they know. The more exposure you get, just walking around, getting ready to show ... people see and they start to look at you as more of a trainer than just somebody at the stalls. It really is a wonderful gift,” Davis said. “I thank Casey and Elizabeth Bibbs, the mare’s owners. Elizabeth is showing her later this week. I also thank my boss, Casey Deary, and all of Team Deary, including our farrier, Glen Spalding, and our vet, Dr. Frank Fluitt, DVM.”

Rookie Professional (1) Co-Champion Chantal Kuhn and Gunnattraction

With a score of 73, Chantal Kuhn and 5-year-old mare Gunnattraction (Gunnatrashya x Wimpys Got Action x Wimpys Little Step) took co-championship honors in the Slate 1 Rookie Professional class.

“She felt really good. She’s always super honest and consistent every time I show her. She always scores very nice, usually a 73, which was my goal yesterday. I was very happy to reach it,” Kuhn said of the mare owned by Linda Lacaille. “I have had her for almost a year and a half. She’s a great mare. She’s very honest.”

Kuhn, a native of Germany, has been training and riding reining horses most of her life. She relocated to Texas five years ago to launch her own training operation in the heart of reining country in Gainesville.

“I got started in reining because of my mother. She always had reiners and trained horses so I’ve been doing it since I was little,” Kuhn said. “I’ve always been back and forth [between the United States and Germany] training and riding. I’ve ridden with Jonathan Gauthier a lot, and I’ve been in Europe with a couple trainers. I’ve learned a little bit from everywhere.”

$1,000-added Outta Dough Masters (Age 60+) Non Pro & $500-added Petroll Reining Horses Platinum (70+) Non Pro David Silva, Sr. and Deja Vu With A Gun class was designed to give the more seasoned competitors of the Southwest—those 60 and over—a chance to compete in a class specifically for them.

Sponsored by Dorothy Queen’s stallion Outta Dough, the

According to SWRHA Board members Kathy and Lindsey McCutcheon, the event was so popular that there was a need to expand it.

"Sebastian Petroll approached us about adding a Platinum division for riders 70 years and older. We thought it was a great idea, and judging by the turnout, it was widely appreciated," Kathy said.

David Silva, Sr. took full advantage of both classes, marking a 219.5 aboard his 5-year-old stallion Deja Vu With A Gun (Gunner x Dun Its Deja Vu x Hollywood Dun In) in front of a zealous group of spectators and supporters to win both the Masters for $672 and Platinum for $395.

"He ran in really well, let me stop him, and he backed up on a loose rein. He settled good in the middle so I could turn him around crisp both directions. He waited on me everywhere, and had a nice, neat departure," 72-year-old Silva said. "He let me send him in the circles and came back to me in the small slow, and he changed leads really well for me. I was just tickled with him everywhere out there. He stayed with me through the whole pattern. I was really, really happy with him."

Silva has been riding Deja Vu With A Gun for just under two years, taking the reins after the stallion's futurity year with Cade McCutcheon. He's thankful for the opportunity to not only show but also simply spend time with such an outstanding horse.

"He's a very special type of horse," Silva said fondly. "I bought him as a 3-year-old for Cade to show at the Futurity. I just like the horse so much, and I keep him at home—he's like a pet. He's got a lot of personality and acts real quiet, like an old gelding."

The seasoned reiner is especially grateful for the opportunity to stay competitive in the sport he loves to which he has dedicated much of his life.

"I look forward to coming just for this. I'm 72 years old, and it's so hard to compete with the younger groups. I was really happy they had these classes here," Silva said. "I made the point of telling my wife that I am going to show in this class. I put a lot of effort into trying to win it, and it worked."

Great prizes included a Bob's Custom Saddle for the Outta Dough Masters Championship, and every exhibitor was rewarded with a prize for their efforts.

"We thank both Dorothy Queen and Outta Dough, and Sebastian Petroll of Petroll Reining Horses, for sponsoring this event. Thank you also to Deanna Merrill of Merrill's Salon and Spa for being such a loyal sponsor these last five years. Thanks to these great sponsors, every exhibitor in the Masters and Platinum Non Pro received prizes," Lindsey shared.

Green Reiner Level 1 & 2 Champion Teddy Gerrald and Extra Rev My Holly

Teddy Gerrald and Xtra Rev My Holly (Einstein's Revolution x Holly Duns Duel) accomplished a clean sweep as they won Levels 1 and 2 of the Green Reiner with a 72.

After a 27-year hiatus, Gerrald is happy to be back in the show pen. "This year we started with some AQHA shows and playdays, but this is my first NRHA show since I've been back," he explained.

The team has already had a successful week; they won the first slate of the Rookie Levels 1 and 2 on Thursday.

"I was better today than I was yesterday," Gerrald said. "Xtra Rev My Holly is always good, we have just been working on me, mostly; if I could just conquer my nerves."

After putting showing on the back burner for so long, Gerrald has big goals going forward.

"Life, kids, jobs... it finally went full circle and we're back," he said. His next stop is the NRHA Futurity in Oklahoma City.

Green Reiner Prime Time Champions Katherine Wallis and Lil Dream Ride

Winning the Green Reiner Prime Time, Katherine Wallis rode her horse Lil Dream Ride (Magnum Chic Dream x Ruf Ride). Going into the pen, Wallis was battling her nerves.

“I just wanted to go in there and keep her quiet and stay on pattern,” she explained. “Tomorrow we will be more prepared and have a little more warm up time.”

Wallis has been showing for eight years, and before reining she competed on western pleasure and hunter/jumper horses.

“It’s the same precision with more forward motion. It’s a lot of fun,” she said.

Youth 13 & Under Champions

Ireland Faith Lawler and Docs Tinseltown Chic

Ireland Faith Lawler and Docs Tinseltown Chic (Hollywoodstinseltown x Chuka Chic) scored a 68 to win the first slate of the Youth 13 & Under.

“We practiced a lot in the warm up pen beforehand to make sure we were prepared,” Lawler said. “We went in and did everything right, and I am so happy with the outcome. He was really listening.”

Lawler and “Oscar” have been showing together since the start of the year, and they are proving to be quite the team.

“I love him,” she simply stated.

Short Stirrup Co-Champions Lilly Walters and Kynley Bell

The highly competitive Short Stirrup was full of excitement as the future of reining competed for the title of Champion. The title went to not one, but two, as Kynley Bell and Lilly Walters scored a 71.5 to win the title of Co-Champions.

“We are both champions today,” Bell said.

Kynley Bell rode her horse Snap N Go (Master Snapper x Miss Jerry Cat).

“It went good. I need to work on over-spinning to the right and the stops,” Bell said. “The turns and the slowdowns were really good.”

The pair has been working hard for this show.

“She really shuts down on me right before the stops, so we will keep running to the fence to work on that.”

Just before the run, her trainer Fred Thomsson gave her some quick advice, telling her, “Don’t trot in your lead changes.”

Clearly Bell took that advice into the arena.

Bell thanked her mother, Kristen Bell, her father Spence Bell, and Fred Thomsson and Alex Pierce.

Walters has been showing for two years, but this was her first time showing her horse Magnums Guns R Reddy (Magnum Chic Dream x Guns R Reddy), known around the barn as Sabrina.

“I feel like her stops were really good, but I feel like I could go a little bit longer,” Walters said. “Besides that, I feel like we did really good, especially being our first show together.”

When asked if she received any special advice before her run, Walters laughed and said, “My coach, Dany Tremblay, says, ‘Suck it up buttercup.’”

Walters thanked her trainers, Dany Tremblay and Mandy Faust, as well as her mother, Kalicia Walters.

Ride & Slide L1 Non Pro Champions Lindsey Lester and Dreamin About Sailin

The Ride & Slide Level 1 Non Pro title went to Lindsey Lester aboard Dreamin About Sailin (Magnum Chic Dream x Pennys For Sail). Dreamin About Sailin is lovingly known as ‘Cookie.’

The duo has only been together since June, and this was their third show competing together.

“We did really good, besides a slight overspin, but everything else was super good,” Lester said. “I am so proud.”

The next stop is the NRHA Futurity in Oklahoma City, and Lester hopes to stay consistent leading up to it.

Ride and Slide Open L1-2 Champion Marie O’Neal and RS Twistin Nic

Two years ago, Marie O’Neal phoned a friend looking for recommendations for a trainer in the United States. She then loaded up, left France, and began training with Yonathan Baruch.

“I wanted to learn from the best,” O’Neal said.

The two years of training has proven to be successful, as she scored a 68.5 and a 70.5 on RS Twistin Nic (Nic It In The Bud x Twisters Enola Gay) to win the Ride and Slide Open Levels 1-2. The SWRHA Futurity is O'Neal's first show ever.

"We had a little trouble in our lead changes in our first run," she said. "I got to fix the mistakes from our first run in our second run, and we did that."

Ride & Slide Non Pro Level 2 Champions Sara Janiece Blevins and Kashnkarry

Sara Janiece Blevins and Kashnkarry (Lil Joe Cash x Mizzen Shine) won the Ride & Slide Non Pro Level 2 with a score of 69.

"He was good," Blevins said of the horse known as 'Ryker.' "I just wanted to focus on keeping him quiet."

She did just that.

"He was really solid. We warmed up a little extra and worked on our circles as well," she said.

Blevins has been showing Ryker for just over three years. She thanked her trainers Yonathan Baruch and Niv Bar Am.

Green Reiner L1 & L2 High-Point Champion and Ride & Slide Level 1 Non Pro & High-Point Champion Lindsey Lester and Dreamin About Sailin

It was a great show for Lindsey Lester and Dreamin About Sailin (Magnum Chic Dream x Pennys For Sail). Yesterday, the team won the Ride & Slide Level 1 Non Pro along with Reserve in the Green Reiner Level 1 and Level 2.

Lester went into today's classes with more confidence.

"We had really good runs yesterday, so my game plan was just to see what happens, and it turned out positive."

The duo scored a 71.5 to win the Green Reiner Level 1 and reserve in Green Level 2, claiming the High-Point buckle for both levels. It was the pair's first High-Point buckle together. The winning didn't stop there—the duo went on to win the Ride and Slide Level 1 Non Pro with a score of 71 and secure the High-Point buckle.

"The spins were really good and the circling was so good, especially to the left she did so much better than yesterday," Lester said. "The right was still good but we can always work on it. The rundowns we will work on over winter, but she was still good in them."

Lester has been riding with Dany and Fred Tremblay since June and attributes a lot of success to their program.

"The atmosphere is so good, they are so nice," she said. "They help me out with everything. They are such nice people; it is such a great group."

Lester also thanked Mandy Faust and her mom and dad.

Green Reiner Prime Time High-Point Champion Katherine Wallis and Lil Dream Ride

After winning the first section of the Green Reiner Prime Time, Katherine Wallis had a plan for Slate 2.

“We spent a little more time in the warm-up pen today, and we knew what to work on today from yesterday,” she said.

The plan seemed to work, as she piloted her horse to a 72 to win the Green Reiner Level 2 and Prime Time on Lil Dream Ride (Magnum Chic Dream x Ruf Ride). The duo also won the Green Reiner High Point Championship.

The past seven months have been a time for personal growth for Wallis. Changing trainers and riding styles have been a challenge, but with the help of her trainer Mathieu Buton, things have come together.

“He really caters to the horse and the rider,” she said. “He listened to me and we were able to go at a pace where I was comfortable and it was very beneficial.”

It was an emotional day for Wallis.

“I won one year-end buckle for Hunter Under Saddle a long time ago, but this is the first reining buckle I have ever won. It is very special,” Wallis said. “I have so many people to thank: my mom for supporting my horse dream for all these years, Mathieu Buton, and Fred Thomsson. Hunter Mericantante has really helped the horse and has been tuning on her. I couldn't be here without everyone.”

Ride & Slide Open Level 1 & 2 High-Point Champion Marie O'Neal and RS Twistin Nic

The Ride and Slide Open Level 1 and Level 2 High-Points went to Marie O'Neal aboard RS Twistin Nic, a 2007 gelding by Nic It In The Bud out of Twisters Enola Gay.

O'Neal has learned a lot from this show and is enjoying the experience.

“The first run was really good. We marked a 70.5. The second one, I have been told 1,000 times to pass the end marker, and I didn't, but it's fine. I guess that's how you learn,” O'Neal admitted.

O'Neal is confident she'll get better with more experience in the show pen.

“On a daily basis, I work more with 2-year-olds,” O'Neal said. “My job is to start colts, so it was a big deal for me to learn how to ride with one hand and how to feel a horse in the bit and not in the snaffle, so this is what this horse has taught me the past two months.”

Taking home two buckles is quite the accomplishment. O'Neal credits the people who have helped her get this far.

“I am super thankful to Judy and Randy Shepherd for letting me have this horse to show, and the whole team at Baruch Reining Horses,” O'Neal said. “I thank Yonathan Baruch for his time and patience with me, and all the people from elsewhere, like Argentina where I lived before, and France and my family... It's a hard life, and it is a lot easier when you have people who love you and support you every day.”

Ride and Slide Level 1 & 2 Open Champion Rylee Morgan Hestand and Gunners Doll Lena

The Ride and Slide Open Level 1 and 2 went to Rylee Morgan Hestand and Gunners Doll Lena with a 70 in Level 2 and a 71 in Level 1, winning both classes.

Gunners Doll Lena is a 5-year-old gelding by Gunners Remedy out of Holly Doll Lena, owned by Elena Marie Wuorimaa.

"He went in there and turned really good for me. He was good in his rundown and stops and stayed solid the entire time," Hestand said.

For the last five years, Hestand has been riding with Tom McCutcheon Reining Horses.

"I love their program, I get to learn a bunch from everyone," she said. "There are so many people with a lot of knowledge."

Ride and Slide Non Pro Level 2 Champion & High-Point Champion

Sara Blevins and her horse KashnKarry, a 5-year-old gelding by Lil Joe Cash out of Mizzen Shine, secured the win in the Ride and Slide Level 2 Non Pro (2) with a score of 70.

The duo had a successful day in Slate 1. With their win in Slate 2 of the Ride and Slide Non Pro Level 2, they easily claimed the Ride and Slide Non Pro Level 2 High-Point title.

"Yesterday I just made sure to cruise him around and be really chill, and today I pushed him a little harder. He was very good, solid, and with me the whole time. I have no complaints," Blevins said.

Blevins has been riding Kashnkarry since the gelding was 3 years old.

"We have grown a lot together. He has gotten 10 times better in the time he's been with [my trainer] Yonathan [Baruch]. This horse has such a great personality and is so sweet," she said.

Next up for this team is the NRHA Futurity in Oklahoma City, where they will compete in the Youth Adequan® NAAC.

SWRHA Concludes with Full Day of Ancillary Action

The Southwest Reining Horse Association Futurity and Horse Show concluded October 24 with a full day of ancillary classes. Young riders competed in the Hardy Murphy Coliseum in Slate 2 of the Youth and Short Stirrup classes, while Slate 2 Non Pros and Rookies showed in the Ancillary Arena. The afternoon featured a full second slate of Open classes in the Coliseum.

Open (2) and Int. Open (2) Champions Clemerson Barbalho and Babys Night Light

With a big score of 74, Clemerson Barbalho and Babys Night Light, owned by Heather Luthven, claimed the win for the second slate of both the Open and Intermediate Open.

“She felt awesome. I liked the fact that I didn’t have any penalties, because every time I have shown her before, she has always shown her talent, but she’s not always easy to show,” Barbalho said of the mare, a 4-year-old by Spooks Gotta Whiz out of Shiny Night Light. “I feel she’s getting more finished now, and at this show she felt solid.”

Barbalho noted that shows like the SWRHA Futurity are an integral part of his training program.

“I think the best thing to get a horse ready is just to go to the horse shows,” he said. “That’s what I’m trying to do here. I am trying to figure out how to show her next year, so in this situation you have to go to the horse shows and work on their mind and get them used to the noises and the people.”

Open High-Point Champion Josh Murphy on Whiz A Golden Spook

The Open High-Point at the SWRHA Futurity and Horse Show was a goal of trainer Josh Murphy’s for Whiz A Golden Spook’s owners, Kaye and Lillian Beshears. He marked a 73 in Slate 2 to tie for second and a 73.5 earlier in the week in Slate 1 to claim the title for the family’s special horse.

“The High-Point is what we were really hoping to get,” Murphy said. “Consistency is the name of the game, and she was really good both days for me. We’re really excited.”

Murphy has only been riding the 6-year-old mare by Smart Spook and out of Whizin Off Sparks by Topsail Whiz about a month. He says she’s easy to like and a true show horse.

“When they sent her to me, I liked her right away. She’s so obedient. Really talented, big maneuvers, waits for you, listens to you the whole time,” Murphy said. “She makes you feel like you could do anything with her, and that’s what reining is all about—she embodies willingly guided.”

Int. Open High-Point and Ltd. Open (2) Co-Champions Matt Florida and Xtra Cocktailforchic

With a 72, Matt Flarida of Purcell, Oklahoma, and Xtra Cocktailforchic not only tied for the win of the Limited Open, they also took sole possession of the Intermediate Open High-Point title.

“I didn’t get turned around as well as I would have liked to, because she was anticipating it a little bit, but after that she circled great and really ran down the pen nice and pure, then stopped and rolled back really good,” Flarida recalled. “I’m just glad to have a nice, solid mare to show and am thankful for her.”

By Wimpyneedsacocktail out of Tejana Chic, Xtra Cocktailforchic is owned by Robin Broughton. Flarida has had the now 5-year-old mare in training since her 2-year-old year.

“We made the lower-level finals on her at the Futurity as a 3-year-old, and I showed her a little last year. This year she has gotten quite a bit stronger,” he said. “We just won the Limited Open at the Congress, so she’s coming off that, and she was really good here.”

He added that Xtra Cocktailforchic is an exceptionally sweet mare that is quiet and kind. He plans to show her at the NRHA Futurity in the ancillary classes before passing the reins to Broughton in 2022.

“I thank Robin for letting me show this mare, and my wife for her support of me,” he said.

Limited Open High-Point Champion Naike Bell on Smart Chicago Spook

Naike Bell earned the Limited Open High-Point buckle aboard 7-year-old Smart Chicago Spook (Spooks Gotta Whiz x Smart Chicago Lena x Smart Chic Olena), owned by Thomas Tucker. The duo marked a 74 in Slate 1 to finish second in the Ltd. Open and a 72 in Slate 2 to tie for first in the class.

Rookie Professional High-Point Champion Katie Davis on Gunna Bend And Snap

Katie Davis had a winning day across the board. She tied herself for first place in Slate 2 of the Rookie Professional class, marking a pair of 72s on Chicsdundreamin and Gunna Bend And Snap. She also clinched the Rookie Pro High-Point Championship for her efforts on Gunna Bend And Snap, a 5-year-old mare by Gunnatrashya and out of Miss San Electric by Jacs Electric Spark, owned by Elizabeth and Casey Bibbs.

“Gunna Bend And Snap felt really good today and was right there with me. I’m really excited to win the High-Point. We had a great day. One of my Rookie riders (Stephanie Johnson) was the High-Point in the Prime Time, and to tie myself on two great horses was very fun,” Davis said. “We have wonderful clients who take really good care of us and want us to succeed in the pen, so it’s good to be able to do that for them.”

Both horses Davis showed in the Open also performed well for their Non Pro and Youth owners earlier in the day. Davis trains out of Deary Performance Horses, and Casey Deary’s daughter Joy Deary showed Chicsdundreamin to a win in the Short Stirrup. The former NRHA L3 Futurity Champion gelding’s owner Nancy Stillwell— Joy’s grandmother—also shows the gelding.

Davis says it speaks volumes to both horses’ hearts and also helps her improve as a coach and a rider.

“Both the horses were shown this morning, so for them to come back to me and try is great,” Davis said. “It’s really fun to ride a horse like Chicsdundreamin, and then to watch Joy show him this morning and just go for it was so fun. To be able to coach Joy and Nancy on that horse, and then go in and show him myself, gives me more perspective and gives me an advantage to coaching them.”

Barbara Hanaghan Wins First Tim Lynch Memorial Rookie Award

The most poignant award of the entire SWRHA Futurity and Horse Show was presented Sunday afternoon. The inaugural Tim Lynch Memorial Rookie Award was awarded to the highest-scoring Rookie across both slates of Rookie classes.

Barbara Hanaghan rode Revolvingwithmagnum to a 72.5, not only winning the Tim Lynch Memorial award but also the second slate of Rookie Levels 1 and 2.

Tim Lynch, a former President of the SWRHA, was a major supporter of the National Reining Horse Association Rookie programs. Lynch passed away in mid-September after an 18-year battle with cancer, and the SWRHA Board of Directors announced the new Memorial Award.

Tim's wife, Tracy, was on-hand to present the Tim Lynch Memorial buckle and trophy.

"This is a perfect way to honor Tim. He loved reining, and he loved helping people. I am so proud to be here to present this today," Tracy said.

Hanaghan deeply appreciated the buckle.

"It means so much to win this award. Something like this is so special," she said.

Hanaghan has owned Revolvingwithmagnum for a little over two years. "I love everything about him. He's a huge stopper and turner and is absolutely so physically talented. His mind is great, and he's easy on the eyes," she said of the 7-year-old gelding by Einsteins Revolution out of Magnum Done It. "Today he felt great, which he always does. He just carries me around and is awesome."

Non Pro (2), Int. Non Pro (2) and Non Pro High-Point Champion
Raeanna Thayn and Coded N Karma

Raeanna Thayn had a hectic day on the last day of the SWRHA Futurity and Horse Show, showing multiple horses in both the Youth class in the Coliseum and the Non Pro class in the Ancillary Arena. The young competitor didn't let the chaotic schedule shake her focus, marking a 73.5 on 10-year-old gelding Coded N Karma (Electric Code x Whiz N Snap x Topsail Whiz) to cinch up the Non Pro High-Point title and win Slate 2 of the Non Pro and Intermediate Non Pro. She also tied for reserve in the class on her 4-year-old mare Roseswhiz (Spooks Gotta Whiz x Rose Electric Step x Jacs Electric Spark) with a 72.

"It's a little stressful, but it worked out. I was pretty lucky today, because they had the same pattern in each arena, but I also had some really good people around me who help me a lot," Thayn said. She noted her trainer Josh Murphy reminded her to stay calm and on-pattern.

She added that running the same pattern in both classes was like having another chance to correct any less-than-perfect maneuvers the second time around. "It was nice to be able to run the same pattern and be ready for what they did in the other pen," she said.

It also helped to have a solid aged gelding like "Karma" underneath her. "He's just super consistent, and just anything under saddle he's just perfect about. He's always been a good boy," Thayn said. "In the Non Pro, he ran in and stopped really good for me, especially considering how we had to walk in. He just handled it great."

Metcalf Quarter Horses Limited Non Pro Co-Champion
Jeremy Zangl and Nix Groovy Dream

Jeremy Zangl had plans to leave Friday but decided to stay and enter the Limited Non Pro to school for the NRHA Futurity in November. That decision paid off, as Zangl will now be heading home with a Co-Championship after scoring a 70.5 aboard Nix Groovy Dream. Nix Groovy Dream is a 3-year-old gelding by NRHA $6 Million Sire Magnum Chic Dream and out of Zangl's Derby mare Groovy Spook.

me working on different things, so each time I enter the pen there is something new that I am working on accomplishing, and every time I have stepped into the pen I have accomplished it.”

Ingram is working to perfect the intricacies of showmanship to improve her scores. “Little fine details like squeezing and making her head drop, keeping her collected through her lead changes, and me running faster into the stops,” Ingram said.

The team leaves next week for the AQHA World Championship Show, followed by the NRHA Futurity for the Adequan® NAACs.

When asked about his run, Zangl shared he was very proud of Nix. “His turn arounds we have been struggling with, and he was really good today, so that was great,” Zangl said. “We also have been struggling with our lead changes and he nailed them all week, so I was super happy about that. He was quiet in his turnarounds and he is just so laid back. He’s like an old trooper, but he’s a 3-year-old.”

Metcalf Quarter Horses Limited Non Pro Co-Champion
Nicole Ingram and Chic Whiza Dream

With a score of 70.5, Nicole Ingram and Chic Whiza Dream (Magnum Chic Dream x Kalico Whiz) took home Limited Non Pro Co-Championship as well as High-Point honors for the class.

“Our run was pretty good today; we have been working on it all week,” Ingram said. “Every show my trainer has

Non Pro Prime Time High-Point Champion
Michael Hancock and Nics Custom Dually

It’s not often a winning run is described as ho-hum, but with a horse as easy to ride as Nics Custom Dually, that’s exactly how it felt to past NRHA President Michael Hancock. Hancock and the 8-year-old gelding by Mister Nica-dual and out of Custom Whizzer by Custom Crome marked a 72 to win the second slate of the Non Pro Prime Time and claim the Non Pro Prime Time High-Point buckle.

“It was very good. He’s a Steady Eddie. Does everything like he’s supposed to do, and it was kind of boring actually,” Hancock said with a laugh. “He’s been very good every time I’ve shown him.”

Hancock has owned the gelding since the horse was three and knows him like the back of his hand. In fact, he hadn’t ridden Nics Custom Dually prior to the week of the SWRHA, as the horse stays at trainer Barbara Williams’ place in Ardmore.

The time apart didn’t seem to matter in the show pen, as the two still fit each other like a glove.

“I hadn’t ridden a horse for 30 days,” Hancock exclaimed. “He’s just that easy, just a really nice horse. Barbara Williams does a great job keeping him trained and ready for me.”

Rookie High-Point Champion
Teddy Gerrald and Xtra Rev My Holly

Teddy Gerrald admits he wasn’t very excited about the SWRHA Futurity and Horse Show. He’s taken a several-decade hiatus from the show pen and had plenty of nerves about his first big NRHA-sanctioned show, but you wouldn't know it watching him accept the Rookie Level 1 and 2 High-Point championship buckle.

"It's a relief. I've been dreading this week for a long time. For two years I've been getting ready to start showing again, and I've been dreading it and dreading it," Gerrald said with a laugh. "I'm so glad it's behind me. I feel a lot better. I'm not going to say I won't be terrified next time, but I know it won't be as bad as this time."

Gerrald sealed his High-Point title with a 71.5 in Slate 2 of the Rookie, which was also good for second in both levels. He relies on trainer Trent Harvey to help him make decisions under the gun and says now it's time to build on what he's accomplished.

"I do what Trent says!" Gerrald said with a laugh. "At the end of the day, the big stuff we had all week, it's the little things like circles that we've got to go home and perfect. It's all those little things that keep getting me, and also they're horses; they're different every day."

Gerrald's special little 4-year-old mare Xtra Rev My Holly (Einsteins Revolution x Holly Duns Duel x Hollywood Dun It) also helps to give Gerrald confidence in the show pen.

"She stops great. I can't make her not stop good unless I really screw it up," Gerrald said. "I've got no complaints. I'm going to go home with a smile on my face. I love her, maybe a little too much. I wouldn't trade her for the world."

Prime Time Rookie High-Point Stephanie Johnson and Sugarwhizngun

On the final day of the SWRHA Futurity and Horse Show,

Stephanie Johnson capitalized on a successful week in the show ring with Sugarwhizngun to seal the Prime Time Rookie High-Point title.

Though she didn't feel she rode her best in the second slate, Johnson still managed to score a 69 to tie for second in the Prime Time class and hold onto the High-Point.

"It feels great. It feels absolutely wonderful. Today was good, but it wasn't as good as [Slate 1] the other day. I made a couple rider errors, so I've got stuff to work on now back at the ranch," said Johnson, who rides at Casey Deary's in Weatherford, Texas. "All in all, it was a good run and my horse was great. I liked my stops, and my circles were good."

She says her horse is a big part of why she's able to focus on herself when showing. "I love that he is a very calm horse," Johnson said of the 8-year-old gelding by Colonels Smoking Gun and out of Starlights Sugarwhiz by Little Bay Starlight. "If I'm nervous, he doesn't show it. I love that about him, and that he's a great stopper. He's very forgiving. He never acts like he feels my nerves at all."

Prime Time Rookie (2) Champions Ryan Voorhees and Gunna Be Special

On the final day of competition, Weatherford, Texas, competitor Ryan Voorhees' plan for the Rookie class focused on precision. The plan paid off, as Voorhees and Gunna Be Special ended the day as champions of the second slate of the Prime Time Rookie.

"I've been having trouble with my lead changes, so my trainer had me go through the changes pretty slow. I was just trying to be very accurate," he shared.

Voorhees purchased Gunna Be Special, a 9-year-old by Gunners Special Nite out of A Bueno Poco Dunit, earlier this year. Knowing it was time to step up his game, he was drawn to the gelding’s talent and ability.

“He knows more about reining than I do, and he’s taught me a lot. He can plus-half all his maneuvers,” Voorhees said. “I’m learning how to ride for a plus-half, and that’s why I bought him. He’s definitely elevated my game.”

Although he and his family have a background in show horses, Voorhees didn’t begin riding reining horses until five years ago.

“I’ve done it off and on since then, just not very seriously. When we moved to Texas nine years ago we wanted to try something different, and my family and I have had a lot of fun doing it,” he said.

Voorhees thanked his daughters and NRHA Professional Jimmy van der Hoeven.

Spurs and Strings Quarter Horses Youth 14-18 and Unrestricted High-Point Champion Laina Hanaghan and Shining Moonstep

Laina Hanaghan has only been riding Shining Moonstep (Wimpys Little Step x Shining Moonstone x Shining Spark) for two months, but she’s already notched a big win under her belt with the 5-year-old gelding. The 17-year-old Sulphur Springs, Texas, teen and her horse scored a 73 to win Slate 2 of the Youth 14-18 and Unrestricted Youth as well as the High-Point titles for both divisions.

“It means a lot to me to win this. He’s a special horse and takes care of me, and it’s more about me trusting him and letting him do his job,” Hanaghan said. “He stopped good for me when I ran in, which was my biggest fear is that he wasn’t going to stop. He was really good everywhere, started the turns good for me, waited in the lope off, and he was really good in the first set of circles, even though I safetied up on him a bit. The second set of circles he came back to me really good in the slow down, and he was awesome in the stops.”

She says the gelding has taken some getting used to, but with the help of her trainer Joe Schmidt, the two are quickly forming a partnership. She appreciates Schmidt’s attention to detail with her riding.

“He’s a completely different horse. It’s been trusting him in the pen and just learning to let go and not safety up on him,” she said. “Joe really pushes you to get better. He doesn’t just let things go, and I think he’s made me a lot better rider.”

Spurs and Strings Quarter Horses 13 & Under High Point Champion Ireland Faith Lawler and Docs Tinseltown Chic

After a week of staying consistent, scoring a 68 on Friday and then a 69.5 Sunday, Ireland Faith Lawler will take home the 13 & Under Highpoint Buckle.

“I went in with the mindset of winning and I came out with the win, and I am so happy with him and so proud of how it turned out,” she said.

Lawler rode her horse Docs Tinseltown Chic, by NRHA $2 Million Sire Hollywoodstinseltown and out of Chuka Chic. He is also lovingly known as Oscar.

Lawler said she is looking forward to their next show, the Winter Ride and Slide, and plans to stay consistent in their training leading up to it.

“We will continue what we have been doing, making sure he is good and with me and stays listening,” she said.

Lawler thanks her coach Tara Podkrajšek for helping her, her mom Christine Lawler for hauling her everywhere, and dad Jarratt Lawler for his support.

Spurs and Strings Quarter Horses
13 & Under Champion
Kynley Bell and Snap N Go

The champion of the second slate of the 13 & Under Kynley Bell marked a 72 on her horse Snap N Go (Master Snapper x Miss Jerry Cat) to take the lead.

“It was good. I just need to work on the overturning and what I am doing in the middle in the rundowns,” Bell explained.

Before her run, Bell got some advice from Fred Thomsson. “Make sure you are in the right lead in the rundown and pull on your rollback,” Bell recited.

Bell says her reliable mare only gets a little grouchy before feeding time. “She always has the same attitude, except when she is hungry,” Bell said.

Bell is looking forward to heading to the NRHA Futurity in Oklahoma City. Bell thanked Fred Thomsson, Alex Pierce, her parents Spence and Kristen Bell, and her sister for their support.

Short Stirrup High-Point Champion
Lilly Walters and Magnums Guns R Reddy

Lilly Walters got some pretty solid advice from her trainer Mandy Faust of Tremblay Performance Horses before her final run of the SWRHA Futurity and Horse Show in the Short Stirrup class.

“She said, ‘Go out there and have fun. It’s more fun winning than losing,’” Walters recounted with a smile.

Walters took Faust’s advice seriously, riding her mare Magnums Guns R Reddy to a score of 71.5 to finish second in the class and clinch the Short Stirrup High-Point title.

“That first little lope, she was really good. She didn’t go too fast, she didn’t go too slow, she went the perfect amount of speed,” Walters said. “She was good through the whole deal.”

The young reiner adores her 9-year-old mare by Magnum Chic Dream and out of Guns R Reddy by Nic It In The Bud, both for her talents in the show pen and kind personality to be around.

“It is amazing. This is my second show she’s won here, and she did really good this round. My favorite part is that first roll back. She just whips around and jumps up, and it’s so fun,” Walters exclaimed. “She’s so sweet. And she’s a tank. I love tanks!”

Short Stirrup (2) Champion
Joy Deary and Chicsdundreamin

Little Joy Deary is learning from the best, whether it’s the influence of her dad Casey Deary or the special gelding

Chicsdundreamin. Joy won the second slate of the Short Stirrup with a score of 72.5 aboard the former NRHA Level 3 Open Futurity Champion gelding, now owned by Joy's grandmother Nancy Stillwell.

"I think he did really good, besides the time that we got on the wrong lead running down," Joy shared. "But he didn't do anything wrong besides that and had good spins and circles. I love my circles because we go really fast."

Joy has been riding the NRHA earner of $154,000 for about a year and says she loves the gelding's kind demeanor.

"He's very fun. He loves people, and he's sweet," she said.

The young rider is thankful for the opportunity to show and thanked those who helped her prepare. "My friend Katie, my mom and my dad and my grandma help me. They told me, 'Good luck!'" Joy said.

BRIAN BELL SURPASSES $2 MILLION IN NRHA EARNINGS

With more than $8,000 in earnings at the All-American Quarter Horse Congress, National Reining Horse Association Professional Brian Bell has unofficially surpassed the two million dollars in NRHA lifetime earnings.

Bell, of Pilot Point, Texas, first became an NRHA Million Dollar Rider in 2013 following the NRHA Futurity, where he qualified two horses back to the Level 4 Open finals. "I first got started around the time Bill Horn became NRHA's first Million Dollar Rider, and that made me want to have that success, too," Bell shared. "The first million was the hardest. I've learned so much since then and can do a better job now."

That knowledge made it possible for Bell to earn his second million in less than eight years. In 2020, he won his biggest check to date when he piloted Gunnabebigtime (Gunnatrashya x Big Time Jazzy) to the NRHA Futurity Open Level 4 Reserve Championship for $113,033.

With Turn Down For What (Einsteins Revolution x My Way Marla), Bell finished fourth at the 2015 NRHA Futurity. The pair then finished as the National Reining Breeders Classic Level 4 Open Reserve Champions in 2017.

Recent performances with standout athletes including Mr Royal Hollywood, Cee Mr Stop, Mr Hollywood Cee,

Mr Boaz, and Ruf Steppin have all helped propel Bell's lifetime earnings upwards. "Most of the credit has to go to the good horses I've gotten to ride; the ones that want to do the job for you," he said. "I also thank the owners who have had faith in me and have given me nice horses to ride."

Bell started his reining career at 18 years old. He moved into the professional ranks in 1995 and quickly made his mark there as well winning several major event titles. He has successfully competed at the highest levels of reining competition, including USET Reining Championship finals, the NRHA

Futurity, NRHA Derby, NRBC, All American Quarter Horse Congress and AQHA World Show.

Bell noted his father, George Bell, has been a major part of his career, beginning with youth horses and continuing to support him with good horses over the years. "My dad used to sit out on the track on a stump to watch. He did that so long that the stump finally rotted and we had to put a new one out there," Bell recalled.

ZAK 34 & JUSTIN WRIGHT CROWNED 2021 NRCHA OPEN SNAFFLE BIT FUTURITY CHAMPIONS

The 2021 National Reined Cow Horse Association Snaffle Bit Futurity® Finals on Saturday, October 23, at the Will Rogers Coliseum in Fort Worth, Texas, might go down as the loudest and the most intense in many years. A clear front runner didn't emerge until the last set of cow work. When Darren Moore called out an incredible judge's score of 226 for Zak 34 and NRCHA Million Dollar Rider Justin Wright's fence run, it was clear who was adding Open Snaffle Bit Futurity Champion to his résumé.

"I've had dreams of this for as long as I can remember. It's consumed my life to win the Snaffle Bit Futurity," said Wright of Santa Maria, California. "It's emotional, but it's just it's everything I've ever dreamed of."

Wright has been close before, taking the Open Reserve

Champion title in 2018 aboard Scooter Kat. This year he had three Open Futurity Finalists in the field of 30 horses. The cream of that crop was "Zak."

At the 2020 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Sales®, Wright saw a 2-year-old named, at that time R Tuff Diggin Louie (Woody Be Tuff x Cats Dig Lucinda x High Brow Cat), bred by Center Ranch, go through the sale pen and something had him go speak to the buyer, Melissa Fischer of Wagner, South Dakota.

"I didn't recognize her, and I asked if she had a trainer.

One thing leads to another, and he came home with us," Wright said. "The reason that she was [at the sale] is her son had just passed away and it was kind of a reason for her to get down here and just, you know, try to get through those hard times. He raced race cars and his number was 34, and his nickname was Zak. So, when she got home, she changed his name to Zak 34."

From that moment, Wright says that the journey to bring Zak to the Futurity had a different feeling than his past attempts.

“It was a perfect storm,” Wright said as he reflected on the Finals. He and Zak rode to a 670 (H:221/R:223/C:226) on their way to the title and $125,000. WATCH THE RUN

With Melissa’s son Seth’s memory tied to the horse, the emotion of accomplishing his lifelong goal, and the exhaustion of completing the marathon that is the Futurity, Wright was overwhelmed after the win. However, he was quick to share the credit.

“I’ve got the best team at home. There are guys that aren’t there [training with me anymore], Russell [Probert] and Nick [Howard] that have gone on to do their own programs, but they’ve all contributed so hard,” he said. “Jared’s [Jones] is there now, Lilla Bell and the Lloyds. We have a great team and I couldn’t do without them. My family is awesome. My mom came out; three kids and Gloria are here, and you know, they’ve made everything so easy. My crew and my family have done twice as much work as I have to get here.”

Wright follows his brother, 1985 Snaffle Bit Futurity Champion Greg Wright, into the NRCHA history books with the win.

In addition to earning $125,000, Wright takes home a custom made Martin Saddle sponsored by Matthews Cutting Horses, a CR Morrison Bronze Trophy, a Gist custom buckle sponsored by Mike and Kelly Warner/The Final Cut Ranch, a monogrammed CINCH jacket, a 100X hat from Western Legacy, a commemorative Gist pin, Platinum Performance gift certificate for product, a Polar Fleece Cooler from Classic Equine, a pair of Rios of Mercedes boots from Rios of Mercedes, Sx Stall Treatment product from EcoPlanet One Health, UltraCruz Equine Advanced Joint Supplement from Santa Cruz Animal Health and a bottle of Ghostwood Whiskey and glasses from Ghostwood Distilling Company.

As rider, Wright also won a custom saddle from Bob’s Custom Saddles, a Gist buckle, a monogrammed CINCH jacket and a Platinum Performance gift certificate for product.

CINCH Intermediate Open Champion & Open Reserve Champion Jule Smart Rey & Dustin Mills

Dustin Mills made the Open Finals on two of his hopefuls this year, an incredible feat for a young trainer. Aboard Jule Smart Rey (Dual Smart Rey x Soula Jule Forever x Soula Jule Star), Mills piloted to a 666.5 (H:222/R:219/C:225.5), a score that held the high composite until Justin Wright and Zak 34. When the final cow exited, Mills still stood atop the CINCH Intermediate Open and was the Reserve Open Snaffle Bit Futurity Champion.

“People told me there is nothing like being in the Open Finals and they were right. It’s pretty cool. It’s overwhelming,” said Mills. “To have two back here in my first Open Finals, it’s pretty special.”

If the Futurity had a theme in 2021, it was that the champions were not out there alone. Similarly to Wright riding for Zak 34, Mills felt he was also carrying on a legacy. WATCH THE RUN

“The guy who owned [Jule Smart Rey], Mike LaGrande, passed away. Phillip Ralls had him early in his 2-year-old year, then we bought him and we wanted to carry on his legacy,” Mills said.

However, it was not clear that the horse would make it to the show. Mills says it took a while for the 2018 gelding bred by Garth and Amanda Gardiner to understand his job.

“When he was a 2-year-old, I didn’t know if he was going to make it, to be honest,” he said. “As soon as he understood the job, he turned into a monster [athlete]. I had to back him off a lot. It is pure talent. As soon as we broke the ice, got to the talent, he came on and he came on hard. It was cool to go through it all to get here.”

Though he rode cutting horses with his father, trainer Mark Mills, all his life, Mills only zeroed in on reined cow horse in 2014 when he started working for Todd Crawford. Today, the soon-to-be-dad with wife, Hope, can add a few more titles to his list.

Owner Shawna Miller earned $100,000 for the Open Reserve Champion title and another $40,000 for the CINCH Intermediate Open win. Additionally, for the reserve, she takes home custom made Bob’s Custom Saddles saddle sponsored by Trey and Sandra Neal, a Gist custom buckle, a monogrammed CINCH jacket, a commemorative Gist pin, $300 gift certificate for product from Farnam, a Platinum Performance gift certificate for product, Sx Stall Treatment product from EcoPlanet One Health, UltraCruz Equine Advanced Gastric Support Supplement from Santa Cruz Animal Health and a bottle of Ghostwood Whiskey and glasses from Ghostwood Distilling Company.

In the CINCH Intermediate Open, the Champion receives a custom saddle from Bob’s Custom Saddles sponsored by CINCH, a Gist custom buckle, a monogrammed CINCH jacket, a CR Morrison Bronze Finish Trophy, a Platinum Performance gift certificate for product, a monogrammed Polar Fleece Cooler sponsored by Classic Equine, Sx Stall Treatment product from EcoPlanet One Health and UltraCruz Equine Advanced Joint Supplement from Santa Cruz Animal Health.

As rider, Mills also won a Gist buckle, a monogrammed CINCH jacket and a Platinum Performance gift certificate for product for the Open Reserve win.

In reserve for the CINCH Intermediate Open was Russell Probert aboard Dan and Suzy Probert’s Getting Around (Metallic Rebel x Dressin Up x Peptoboonsmal), bred by Beechfork Ranch. Probert rode to a 656.5 (H:217.5/R:219.5/C:219.5) to earn $20,000.

For the reserve, the Probert’s take home a Gist custom buckle, a monogrammed CINCH jacket, $300 gift certificate for product from Farnam, Sx Stall Treatment product from EcoPlanet One Health and UltraCruz Equine Advanced Gastric Support Supplement from Santa Cruz Animal Health.

Limited Open Futurity Champion Shiney Little Rock & Cara Hencratt

Cara Hencratt had a team of talented horses that she was excited to show at her first NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity®, presented by Metallic Cat, and Hackamore Classic, presented by Oswood Stallion Station. She hadn’t dared to hope she would go home with as many wins as she did—but she did dream. In the end, those dreams came true with wins in both events, including taking the Level 1 Limited Open Futurity Champion title aboard Shiney Little Rock in the preliminaries.

The duo followed that win with a Friday, October 22, Limited Open Finals night worthy of a second title, Limited Open Champion. WATCH THE RUN

“I didn’t think things would go this well,” said Hencratt. “You take it one event at a time and it’s pretty cool to end up on top.”

Bred and owned by Paula Bremel, Shiney Little Rock (That CD Rocks x Uno Smart Starlight x Smart Little Pepinic) scored a 652 (H:217/R:219/C:216) to earn $17,500 for the Limited Open win.

The Limited Open Champion receives a custom saddle from Bob’s Custom Saddles sponsored by Todd and Pam Crawford, a Gist custom buckle sponsored by Boyd and Halee Rice, a monogrammed CINCH jacket, a CowTrac system from CowTrac, a CR Morrison Bronze Finish Trophy, a Platinum Performance gift certificate for product, a monogrammed Polar Fleece Cooler sponsored by Classic Equine, Sx Stall Treatment product from EcoPlanet One Health and UltraCruz Equine Advanced Joint Supplement from Santa Cruz Animal Health.

Reserve Champion Abigail Mixon and Reyzin A Princess (Reyzin The Cash x Pink Catty x Catty Hawk), bred by Cowan Ranch, rode to a 647 (H:212/R:216/C:219) to take the Limited Open second spot. Owner Andrea Luce earned $14,000.

Reserve Champion receives a Gist custom buckle, a monogrammed CINCH jacket, $300 gift certificate for product from Farnam, a Platinum Performance gift certificate for product, Sx Stall Treatment product from EcoPlanet One Health and UltraCruz Equine Advanced Gastric Support Supplement from Santa Cruz Animal Health.

Level 1 Limited Open Futurity Champion

For Cara Hencratt, it's been a year of firsts. Today, she can say she rode her first National Reined Cow Horse Association Snaffle Bit Futurity® entry to a Champion title. Piloting Shiny Little Rock (That CD Rocks x Uno Smart Starlight x Smart Little Pepinic) for owner/breeder Paula "Polly" Bremel, Hencratt topped the Level 1 Limited Open standings by six points.

"It's pretty cool and I didn't think things would go this well," Hencratt said. "You take it one event at a time and it's pretty cool to end up on top."

Hencratt has had success riding Bremel's homebred horses, but this one will stick with her for awhile. The California trainer was all smiles following the awards ceremony, matching the delight seen on Bremel's face. WATCH THE RUN

"It's so exciting and fun for me to watch my babies get shown by other people and have success," Bremel said. "I raise my [horses] and don't buy them. I raised his mother and showed her to $40,000 before I started breeding her. My hope with every single baby is to be a nicer baby than the year before. He's the 12th I've raised out of that mare."

With a composite 650 (H:216 /R: 215.5 /C:218.5) Hencratt and the 2018 gelding earned $16,000. The pair will be back for the Intermediate Open and Limited Open Snaffle Bit Futurity Finals on October 22. They were only one-point away from the Open Finals bubble.

"This gelding is really strong in the reining and a really great fence horse. We wanted to make a solid run out of the herd and he did," Hencratt said. "We missed the Open Finals by one point, so that was pretty exciting to sit in the top 30 until the last go, which was pretty cool for my first Futurity! It's so fun."

Sara Dawson on Juliette Jonez Named Ladies Futurity Champion

For the high composite score of 654.5 from the Snaffle

Bit Futurity prelims, Juliette Jonez, ridden by Sarah Dawson and owned by Linda Mars, receive the Ladies Futurity Champion title. Twenty-five female exhibitors were eligible for the Ladies award at this year's event.

Trophy, the Ladies Champion also receives the Sheri Gilkerson Memorial Saddle made by Don Rich Saddlery and sponsored by Tres Osos Performance Horses and a custom diamond pendant created by Sami Fine Jewelry.

In addition to a Gist Silversmiths custom buckle, a monogrammed CINCH jacket and a CR Morrison Bronze Finish

Congratulations to Juliette Jonez and Sarah Dawson!

Sale Incentive Pays Big

Graduates of the NRCHA Western Bloodstock Snaffle Bit Futurity Sales® are eligible for the Western Bloodstock Sale Incentive. Congratulations to the following teams!

Open

Cats Nu Shine (WR This Cats Smart x Shiny Nu Annie x Shining Spark), bred by Wagonhound Land & Livestock, ridden by Nick Dowers for owner Clinton Marshall; $27,874.

Non Pro

Hickory Smoked Ham (Hickory Holly Time x Smokum Chicy x Smart Chic Olena), bred by Dominic Conicelli Estate, and ridden by Brittany Factor for Factor Performance Horses LLC; $11,946.

Adequan Open Gelding Incentive

At the 2021 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity®, presented by Metallic Cat, the Open Gelding Incentive receives support from Adequan, an American Regent company. Adequan pledged $7,500 in added money, raising this year's purse to $24,420. This Gelding-only incentive kicked off in 2020. The gelding must be registered with its breed association as a gelding in order to qualify. For more than 30 years, Adequan has been administered by veterinarians to help horses of every discipline and level.

Chrome Cash Incentive

The American Paint Horse Association Chrome Cash Incentive pays to exhibitors with Paint registered horses. Thank you to McSpyder Ranch for sponsoring the Chrome Cash at the 2021 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity®, presented by Metallic Cat!

Open

ChittChatt (Smooth Talkin Style x Bet On Nurse x Bet On Me 498), a 2018 gelding bred by Double Dove Ranch and owned by Russ Mothershead, was ridden to a 654.5 by Chris Dawson. The incentive paid $1,500.

Non Pro Limited

Sandy Kaplan rode homebred 2018 mare Smooth Smoke N Cat (Real Smooth Cat x Smoke N Jet Surprise x Doc N Smoke), a horse she co-owns with husband Glenn, to a 588 to earn $350.

ABBIE PHILLIPS ON TRR DUAL SMART OLENA CROWNED NON PRO FUTURITY CHAMPION

Abbie Phillips took command of the Non Pro Futurity Champion title after putting in three solid performances in the 2021 National Reined Cow Horse Association Snaffle Bit Futurity® Finals with TRR Dual Smart Olena. The Weatherford, Texas, resident and her 2018 sorrel stallion (Dual Smart Rey x TRR Ms Pepcid Olena x Pepcid) were rewarded handsomely for their efforts, taking home $25,000 of the $130,046.97 total purse in the event.

Abbie has been with “Chief,” who was bred by Tongue River Ranch, since the beginning of his 2-year-old year. He’s a full brother to Duals Lucky Charm, the horse her husband, NRCHA Million Dollar Rider Kelby Phillips, won on at the 2016 Snaffle Bit Futurity and at the World’s Greatest Horseman. The Phillips’ carefully brought along the stallion prior to the Futurity, and Abbie says the strategy walking into the competition was aiming for consistency.

“The cutting, we drew last,” Abbie said. “I had great herd help: Corey Cushing, Phillip Ralls, Brandon Buttars and my husband. They all picked phenomenal cows for me and I didn’t lose any. So that was good. We were consistent there. The reining, he was really good today. I feel like I could have gotten him stopped a little bit better, but he turned around really fast and we had good circles as well. Cow work was a lot of fun. He was just on it. He always is. He’s a great fence horse. It was just a fun ride.”

The pair’s 213.5 in the herd work, 218 in the rein work, and a 216 in the fence work placed them high enough to be crowned champions with their 647.5 composite score.

WATCH THE RUN

“This was a goal that I’ve had for a long time, and it’s really special to do it on that horse,” Abbie said.

Parke Greeson and Sarco Creek Ranch’s Boon Boon Ur Dead finished as Reserve Champions in the Non Pro Futurity.

With a composite score of 644.5. (H: 213/R: 215.5/C: 216), Greeson, of Goliad, Texas, and the 2018 chestnut gelding bred by Thad and Theresa Cox, sired by Once In A Blue Boon, out of Boons Coffee, by Boon Too Suen, pocketed $20,000.

Intermediate Non Pro & Novice Non Pro Champion Trail Townsend & Lil Purple Rein

Trail Townsend capitulated on his Amateur Futurity win earlier this week with Lil Purple Rein with an excellent finals performance. The Earth, Texas, resident and his 2018 red roan gelding (Once In A Blu Boon x Lil Red Firecat x High Brow Cat) captured not only the Intermediate Non Pro title, but also the Novice Non Pro championship.

Going into the finals after a great week, Townsend was gunning to win the Non Pro title.

“I always get nervous with the cutting, and then when I showed him in the cutting in the finals, it went great, and I was really pumped for that,” Townsend said. “In the reining, I went for it pretty hard, and just had a few things that weren’t quite as smooth as they were supposed to be. We still came out with a great score and I’m happy with that.”

With a herd work score of 215, a rein work score of 217 and a 212 in the cow work, Townsend and “LP” were given a composite score of 644. They received $15,463.08—pushing their prize money to over $22,425. WATCH THE RUN

“I’m really happy with how tonight worked out,” Townsend said. “There’s a few things I would have wished that could have gone just a little bit better, but I’m happy with it. I couldn’t ask for anything else.”

Reserve Intermediate Non Pro and Novice Non Pro ended in a tie—Stefani Wagley of Abilene, Texas, and Boon Doxx (Sannman x Docs Stylish Liz x Docs Stylish Oak), bred by Jeff Schieber, and Pam Myers and her Rok N Roll (Sannman x Peek Of Faith x Peek Pep), bred by Dee Gragg, tied the composite 642.4 (H:215 /R:216.5 /C:211). They both earned $6,354.57 for the Intermediate and $2,745.72 for the Novice.

Non Pro Limited Futurity Champion Kelsey Delaplaine Fulmer & LookAtLittleSister

Kelsey Delaplaine Fulmer's second trip to the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity®, presented by Metallic Cat, was a smashing success. Aboard 2018 sorrel mare LookAtLittleSister (Stevie Rey Von x Smart Playing Chic x Smart Chic Olena), the Cleburne, Texas, resident was ecstatic to achieve her goal.

"It hasn't even completely sunk in yet," Fulmer said. "I knew that my horse could do it. It's been a really good year. I've only been showing in the cow horse for two years now—I've been riding ever since I was little, and I've always been super competitive. But I've never really got that big win. I feel like cow horse is where I'm meant to be, and it's so cool to show a horse that's as special as her."

"Sister" and Fulmer took home $6,675 of the $22,250 purse. They scored a 208 in the herd work, and in the reined work—their best event—they scored a 215.

After a stellar boxing performance in the cow work,

Trail Townsend & Lil Purple Rein Named Amateur Futurity Champions

Trail Townsend skyrocketed to the top of the preliminary leaderboard to handily collect the 2021 National Reined Cow Horse Association Snaffle Bit Futurity, presented by Metallic Cat, Amateur Champion title aboard Lil Purple Rein. The 19-year-old from Earth, Texas, and the 2018 red roan gelding sired by Once In A Blu Boon, out of Lil Red Firecat, by High Brow Cat, scored a composite score of 649.5—13.5 points ahead of the reserve champion. Of the $27,859 awarded to the Amateur class, Townsend and "LP," bred by Bettina Jary-Mathis, took home $6,962.50.

"It feels awesome--this is the first time I've ever done well at the Futurity," Townsend said. "It's been a goal of mine for a long time, so it feels great."

Fulmer and Sister scored a 215.5 for a composite score of 638.5 (H: 208/R: 215/C: 215.5). Fulmer says Sister was trainer Danielle Lybbert's first to prepare for a Non Pro client. Sister was bred by Liz Armenta. WATCH THE RUN

"I just thank God for allowing me to do this sport surrounded by so many awesome people," Fulmer said. "I don't want to say the stars are aligning, because we both put the work in and my horse is super talented. This win means a lot to me."

Reserve champion Lori Frampton-Crafton rode One Smart N Timely, a 2018

red roan mare owned by Debbie Crafton and bred by Sprig Haven Farms. The mare was sired by One Time Pepto, out of Ima Smart Response, by Smart Little Lena. Their composite score of 637 (H: 208/R: 209.5/C: 219.5) earned them $5,340.

Going into the show, Townsend aimed for middle of the pack. In addition to the Amateur title, the duo has qualified for the finals in the Non Pro Futurity later this week.

“I just wanted to stay calm, it’s got to be clean,” Townsend said. “I didn’t have to be anything huge—I didn’t have to set the world on fire to make the finals. Our plan was just kind of go in and be smooth, yet aggressive at the same time.”

That strategy worked for the duo, with a 214.5 winning the herd work, a 217.5 tying for first in the rein work and a 217.5 to win the cow work. WATCH THE RUN

“The cutting was good—I usually struggle with the cutting, so I was kind of nervous going into that one,” Townsend said. “I am really confident in the reining—I could have ran him a little bit harder, but now I know what to do for the finals. And the cow work was perfect. I mean, there’s always room for improvement, but I can’t complain about anything.”

Garrell Reilly Williams and Bet Shesa Playmate finished their Futurity with the Reserve Champion title in the Amateur division with a composite score of 636 (H: 214/R: 214.5/C: 207.5), earning $5,570.

The 2018 sorrel mare bred by Yellow Creek Ranch and owned by Preston Williams is sired by Bet Hesa Cat, out of Very Smart Playmate, by Very Smart Remedy.

Open Hackamore Classic Champion Crowned

With nearly 100 entries in the Open alone, the National Reined Cow Horse Association Hackamore Classic, presented by Oswood Stallion Station and held during the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity®, had four days dedicated to the herd, rein and cow works in the division. Starting with the herd work on Oct. 9-10 and finishing with the rein and cow works Oct. 18-19, the event proved the old adage that “it’s not over until it’s over,” with the last draw of the entire show, Annie’s Smart Cat and Lance Johnston, coming out on top with the Championship.

Johnston and the 5-year-old stallion (WR This Cats Smart x Shiney Nu Annie x Shining Spark), who was bred by Wagonhound Land & Livestock LLC, laid down big scores in all three works to end up with a huge 671 composite (H:223/R:222/C:226). They collected a $20,500.00 check for owner Rocking BS Ranch. WATCH THE RUN

“This horse needed a signature win,” Johnston said. “He’s such a nice horse, he deserved a major win. It’s so cool to be here in Fort Worth to do it.

“It was perfect [to be last in the draw] because I knew what I was chasing, and I knew what I had to be,” Johnston added. “I knew it was going to be tough, but I also thought I had a shot, as good as this horse is, to beat ‘Rico’ [Ricato Suave].”

Ricato Suave (Metallic Cat x Hip Hip Sue Rey x Dual Rey), a 4-year-old stallion, had held the lead through most of the show but ultimately settled for Reserve with his composite 663.5 (H:224/R:218.5/C:221). The stallion, who was bred by Flag Ranch LLC, and trainer Clay Volmer took home a $15,093.54 check for owners Shaleah Hester and M. Fountain.

Intermediate Open, Limited Open & Level 1 Limited Open

With a composite 654 (H:217.5/R:217.5/C:219), Move That Rock (That CD Rocks x Smokums Dual Move x Mister Dual Pep) and Cara Hencratt, who is Johnston’s lead assistant trainer, picked up championships in the Intermediate Open, Limited Open and Level 1 Limited Open. Hencratt and the 2016 gelding, who was bred by Erin Mendes and is owned by Debbie Proctor, collected $6,588.45 from the Intermediate, $2,066.38 from the Limited and $4,226.40 from the Level 1 Limited Open.

One Ata Time (One Time Pepto x Hip Hip Sue Rey x Dual Rey), who is a half-brother to Ricato Suave, and Ryan Gallentine collected the Intermediate Open Reserve Championship with their composite 653.5 (H:218/R:216.5/C:219). The 2017 stallion, who was bred by Flag Ranch LLC, picked up $4,941.34 for owner Steven Mattson. WATCH THE RUN

CWR Sanntonio (Sannman x Surfin Calie x Cat Ichi) and Trey Pool brought home two reserve titles for owner Jane Owens after scoring a composite 650.5 (H:217.5/R:215.5/C:217.5). The 2017 stallion, who was bred by Devlyn Drake, nabbed $1,617.17 for the Limited Open Reserve title and $3,381.12 for Reserve in the Level 1 Limited Open.

Open Novice Horse

Lance Johnston also garnered the Novice Horse Open title, albeit on Lil Starlight Cat (High Brow Cat x Lil Foxie Starlight x Grays Starlight). He and the 2017 Glenn and Debbie Drake-bred stallion scored a 659 (H:217.5/R:219.5/C:222) and collected a check worth $2,709.00 for owners Kenneth and Karen Haugland. WATCH THE RUN

Quizzicality (Magicality x Shirley Shine x Shining Spark), a 2017 gelding bred by Anne M. Reynolds, and Gusti Buerger brought home the Novice Horse Open Reserve Championship for owner Home Ranch LLC with their composite score of 653 (H:217/R:219/C:217). They banked $2,128.50.

Non Pro Hackamore Classic Champion

The cow horse action continued Saturday with multiple champions crowned during the National Reined Cow Horse Association Hackamore Classic, presented by Oswood Stallion Station, held at the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity®. Fifty non pros went head-to-head in the rein and cow work, adding to their herd work scores from last Thursday. In an exciting twist, two competitors finished with matching composite and cow work scores, and a run-off was called. When it was all said and done, Myles Brown was named the Non Pro Champion.

Brown, on Red Holly Time (Hickory Holly Time x Very Red Remedy x Very Smart Remedy), and Debbie Crafton, aboard Dualin Alittle Time (One Time Pepto x ARC Little Dualena x Dual Pep), each scored a composite 648.5 during their initial herd, rein and cow works. Brown marked a 215.5 in the herd, a 216 in the reining and a 217 down the fence, while Crafton scored a 212 in the herd work, a 219.5

in the rein work and a 217 in the cow work.

Each duo had to go down the fence one more time for the run-off, and Crafton, who originally rode from draw two, was up first. She and Dualin Alittle Time scored a 216. Then, it was Brown's turn.

"I got pretty nervous there for a little bit, so I went and got on my bridle horse that I'm showing tonight and trotted him around," Brown said. "It helped me settle down and take my mind off it. I know he [Red Holly Time] can be good, and I know he craves a cow and wants to circle a cow really nice, so I just decided we were going to go do the best we could."

The pair was called off their first cow, but the second was more "user friendly." After the horn blew, a score of 223.5 was announced, and the duo won the Championship, banking $5,500.00. It was a great note for the pair to end on, as Brown said the 2017 stallion, who was bred by Sheri Jamieson, is entered in the Western Bloodstock Sale on Friday, Oct. 22. WATCH THE RUN

"For this horse to win this, it's really special to my wife and I," Brown said. "He's 4 and I had some success on him as a 3-year-old, but I never felt like I had as much success as I should have on him because of how talented he is. It really couldn't end a better way. It's always hard to sell the good ones, but we own his mother and there's more coming. We're really excited about the future."

Crafton and Dualin Alittle Time, a 2016 stallion bred by Arcese Quarter Horses USA, took home Reserve and a check worth $4,204.98. Crafton also placed third with Twice In A Blu Moon (Once In A Blu Boon x Teletrona x Little Trona) and fourth with Hesa Wee Bet (Bet Hesa Cat x Wee Quejana Gal x Quejanaisalena), collecting an additional $3,416.55 and $2,890.92, respectively.

Open Two Rein Champion

Two sets of 25 horses competed in the Open Two Rein class on Friday, October 15, at the 2021 National Reined Cow Horse Association Snaffle Bit Futurity®, presented by Metallic Cat. When the last cow exited the arena, Scooter Kat and Justin Wright sat atop the leaderboard.

A 2015 stallion, Scooter Kat (Kit Kat Sugar x Scooters Daisy Dukes x Dual Smart Rey) was bred by Taylor Carbo and is owned by Eric Freitas of Santa Maria, California. A multiple limited age event champion that spent the first part of this year at the breeding farm, Scooter Kat's return to the show pen was exciting for Wright.

"This is a whole new [event] for him and him missing the first seven months of the year at the breeding barn, I didn't get to spend the time with him that I used to do," Wright said. "We spent every day together since he was a 2-year-old, but he came back and was rejuvenated coming back. He feels like a 3-year-old again and happy to be here."

The pairs scores of identical 148 in the rein and in the cow put Scooter Kat as the top rein work score and tied with the reserve champion, WR Hotshot, for the high cow work score. The win earned $5,376. WATCH THE RUN

"He's easy to show; he loves to be a show horse," said Wright, who lives in Santa Maria, California. "He doesn't try to take advantage of you and does his best for you. I think I've learned more [as a trainer] and can trust him. Looking back on it, as a snaffle bit horse, I didn't trust him enough. Less is more. It showed me here that I can leave him alone, keep him fresh, and he's going to do his job."

Scooter Kat's score of 296 was three points higher than Open Two Rein Reserve Champion Cayley Wilson riding WR Hotshot (WR This Cats Smart x Sunspot Flo x Mr Peponita Flo), bred by Matthews Cutting Horses LLC and owned by Cayley Wilson Performance Horses Inc, to a 293 (R:145/C:148). The 2014 gelding's run earned $4,224.

Non Pro Limited Hackamore Classic Champion

In their first show together, Lori Frampton-Crafton and Hughes That Chic (Thomas E Hughes x Smart Playing Chic x Smart Chic Olena) captured the Champion title in the 2021 NRCHA Non Pro Hackamore Classic, presented by Oswood Stallion Station. The 2017 mare, bred by Liz Armenta and owned by Debbie Crafton earned $2,812.50.

Frampton-Crafton's mom trained the mare and made the 2020 Non Pro Snaffle Bit Futurity® Finals when the horse was a 3-year-old.

“I like showing in the hackamore but it’s a little more challenging for me,” said Frampton-Crafton, of Ordway, Colorado. “I was confident going into the rein work on this mare. It’s my first time showing her, but I kind of knew how to show her from watching my mom show her.”

The duo tied for the second high score in the rein work with a 218, helping to make up ground from a 208 in the herd. Then, a 216 in the cow work took their composite 642 to the top spot. WATCH THE RUN

“That mare is great on a cow; you can hold just about anything on her,” she said of her final work in the class. “I had so much confidence on her.”

Finishing Reserve Champion, Cheryl Chown piloted Xtra Short Trick (Shiners Voodoo Dr x Short And Royal x Short Oak), bred by Chown Quarter Horses and co-owned by Cheryl and her husband, Robert. The duo marked a 638 (H:210/R:213.5/C:214.5) to earn $2,250.

Cow Horse For Cutters Returns

Riders accustomed to the routines of the cutting pen tried out cow horse in the Cow Horse for Cutters class October 20. Out of eight riders, Janet Westfall of Granbury, Texas, rose to the top aboard Julie Gibbons-owned and -bred 2014 black gelding Unos Blue Lightening.

Each rider completed a reining pattern and boxed for 50 seconds before having the option to go down the fence. Westfall and “Blue” scored a 141 in the rein work, a 146 in the cow work for a total score of 287. Westfall received a custom pair of Serna Boots.

Westfall competed in cow horse decades ago but has lately stuck to cutting alongside her trainer husband Russ Westfall. When the chance to compete in this class came up, she connected with NRCHA Two Million Dollar Rider Todd Crawford to borrow Blue (Uno What Time It Is x Miss Vibrant Chex x Nu Chex To Cash). The pair met the day before they competed.

Her strategy was to complete as clean a run as she could. And she tried to think ahead to make sure she completed the pattern correctly. WATCH THE RUN

“The romal reins felt so foreign to me because we ride with split reins, with our reins down,” Westfall said. “So, it was pretty much the complete opposite of what I do. I just tried not to embarrass myself.”

After this class, Westfall is eager to try again—this time, with a bit more speed. She is thankful to Blue’s owner and Crawford for their help.

“Todd kept telling me to push him a little harder and go a little faster, and I was probably a little tentative, but if I get the chance again, that’s what I’ll do,” Westfall said. “Everybody is really nice—all of this was awesome. Showing and seeing some old faces I know was super fun. Maybe one day I’ll come back with a three-year-old.”

Tim Drummond was reserve in Cow Horse for Cutters aboard Devon Camilleri’s Just Call Me Earl (Once In A Blue Boon x CP Peekn Sneak Blue x Peek a Pep). The 2015 red roan gelding was bred by Lassen Land and Livestock Co. They scored a 142.5 in the rein work, a 144 in the cow work for a 286.5 total score. Drummond received a custom pair of Serna Boots.

Cow Horse For Ropers Rocks the Futurity

It's not every day that you see multiple-time National Finals Rodeo roping qualifiers taking a cow down the fence in a cow horse class. But in the inaugural Cow Horse for Ropers class on October 20 at the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity®, they did just that. In the end, Cade Rice of Lipan, Texas, riding his sister Robbin Rice's horse Cat N Boon, beat seven other riders to claim first place and $1,500 of the $2,500-added purse, sponsored by MC Cowhammer.

Cat N Boon is a 2012 solid chestnut Paint Horse gelding bred by Double S Ranch, sired by Smart Lena Boon (QH), out of Dual N Cat (PH), by Wild Haired Cat (QH). When Rice was invited to compete in this class, he turned to his family of cow horse enthusiasts to find a horse. He rode "Chavez" trained by his dad, Matlock Rice, for the first time the day before the class.

For this class, ropers complete a reining pattern, then box a cow, drive it down the fence and rope it, steer-stopping style. In the pen, Rice focused on not missing the cow and performing each maneuver as he got to it. WATCH THE RUN

"I didn't want to go too fast or get caught in the moment—just one maneuver at a time," Rice said.

After scoring a 146 in the rein work and a 148.5 in the cow work, Rice's 294.5 was the highest score.

"The cow work felt really good," Rice said. "The rein work, I could have been a little smoother. That's something I'm going to work on in the future. I think I'm going to get a two-year-old and try this out."

Rice is hooked on cow horse now, he says.

"It always feels good to win," Rice said. "My favorite part was going down the fence. There's not another feeling like it."

Reserve by just half a point, NFR qualifier Lane Ivy piloted John and Kay Coltharp's Bet Hesa Freckledcat to score a 144 in the rein work, a 130 in the cow work, for a total of 294—taking home $750. The 2013 red roan stallion bred by the Coltharps was sired by Bet Hesa Cat, out of -Ms Freckled Star, by Freckles Smokin Doc.

Cowboy Class Champion

Consistency was the name of the game for Cotton Leathers, who was named champion of the Cowboy Class Invitational at the 2021 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity®, presented by Metallic Cat, with a composite score of 441. Leathers, who works at the Frisco Creek Ranch Division of the 6666 Sixes Ranch in Stratford, Texas, rode the Burnett Ranches LLC-owned gelding Amarillo Attraction (Playin Attraction x Seven In Vegas x Seven From Heaven).

The team had the high scores in both the rein and cow work, with a 145.5 and 147.5 respectively. They marked a 148 in the steer stopping. Leathers and his 2015 palomino brought home two buckles, a pair of romal reins from Traditional Rawhide Braiders, and a check for $1,140. WATCH THE RUN

"He's just the same at home as as he is in town," Leathers said. "He's always the same, and I can read his moods and adjust."

Buddy Thomas, riding Gas It Cat (Metallic Cat x CDS Starlight MS x CD Olena) owned by Kelsey Thomas, and Levi Walden, owner and rider of DD Quanah Blue (Huerfano River Blue x Quanahs Rooster x Quanah O Lena), tied for second and third place with composite score of 430.

Rodear Champions Crowned

It was a near flawless run for Kevin Lippe, his 7-year-old mare, and his 6-year-old Australian Kelpie Chock who earned a score of 177 in 9 minutes in the Rodear America Cowdog Association MARS EQUESTRIAN™ National Final Rodear Open Finals. The team earned a check for $12,500.

It was Lippe's second time to compete in the event, which is held during the National Reined Cow Horse Association 2021 Snaffle Bit Futurity®, presented by Metallic Cat, and Chock's first time after qualifying in just two trials. Lippe, who is from Blue Eye, Missouri, runs cattle and sheep, as well as trains dogs.

Jason Runfola and his dog, Timber, of Gainesville, New York, earned a perfect score of 180 in only 7:57 minutes, in the Non Pro division, earning a check for $8,750. Because the team earned the highest score of the night, they were awarded a trophy saddle from Oswald Saddlery.

Winning the green dog division was Maycon Moura and his dog, Favela, of Weatherford, Texas, marking a 160 in 9 minutes, for a payout of $5,000. For more information on the event, visit rodearamerica.com.

JAKE TELFORD JOINS NRCHA $2 MILLION DOLLAR RIDER CLUB

Jake Telford joins an elite, and small, club as he becomes the fourth National Reined Cow Horse Association trainer to become a $2 Million Dollar Rider. Telford, of Caldwell, Idaho, is no stranger to success in the show pen, but achieving this milestone only nine years after becoming an NRCHA Million Dollar Rider left the horseman speechless.

Over the course of his NRCHA career, Telford has earned multiple titles, including 2020 World's Greatest Horseman Co-Reserve Champion aboard Sparktillion, owned by Michelle Cannon, and 2015 Snaffle Bit Futurity® Open Champion aboard Starlight Kisses, owned by Holy Cow Performance Horses. He achieved Million Dollar Rider status in 2012.

Telford's earnings sum going into the 2021 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity, presented by Metallic Cat, was $2,009,625.86. Joining only three others as a $2 Million Dollar Rider— Todd Crawford, achieving in 2011; Todd Bergen, achieving in 2015; Corey Cushing, achieving in 2018—Telford is part of small group of riders, but an impactful one. When the four sat down recently to discuss what it takes to achieve this milestone, Telford pointed at Jake Telford, second from right, is the most recent NRCHA rider to achieve the $2 Million Dollar Rider earnings mark.

Bergen, Crawford and Cushing as riders who have helped him along the way.

“When your idols become your peers, and to be sitting among them, it is pretty cool to me,” Telford said. “It is so competitive anymore, there is a lot of luck involved—the right draw, the right cow and so many other factors. I don’t feel like I show better than anyone else but have had some good luck. That, and I’ve stuck to it for long enough.”

Traditionally, Telford has pushed the praised onto the owners of the horses he shows, thanking them for giving him a shot. The horses, he said, are a big part of him achieving Million Dollar and, now, $2 Million Dollar status in the NRCHA. Telford's earnings are still climbing as he rode RTR All Rise, owned by Loren Macey and James Baker, to the third-high rein work score in the Open Futurity prelims.

“It’s always meaningful to celebrate the important milestones of our riders and horses,” said Anna Morrison, NRCHA executive director. “To be able to celebrate Jake’s $2 million milestone at the Snaffle Bit Futurity, where he is surrounded by so many of his fellow horsemen, is particularly exciting.”
